Herter Pledges West Germany No Concessions

Assurance Given U.S. Won't Cut Berlin Truce Price

GENEVA (AP)—West German officials said today they won fresh assurances from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that he will not cut his basic price for a Berlin truce.

Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, made a flying trip to Geneva for conferences with Herter and Heinrich von Brentano, the West German foreign minister.

When the talks had finished, Brandt declared: "We have no fears at all there will be any major concessions" on the part of the Western Allies.

GERMAN CONCERN

The West Germans were said to be concerned that the West might give away something to the Soviets in order to get a Berlin settlement here.

Meanwhile, Geneva hummed with rumors of a possible visit to Washington by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Should President Eisenhower invite Khrushchev to Washington and the Soviet leader accept, this could well serve as a substitute for a proposed summit conference.

DIPLOMATIC TRAP

West Germany fears a diplomatic trap may be sprung by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko before the conference ends or recesses Wednesday. The Germans believe Gromyko may offer a concession in Soviet demands that the Western garrisons get out of Berlin, then use this to pry concessions from the West.

Associates said West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano told Herter his government believes any Berlin solution based on the latest Soviet proposals would weaken the Western position in Berlin.

MORE WANT ADS THAN EVER IN I-J TODAY

Today's Independent-Journal sets a new classified advertising record by presenting seven full pages plus three columns, nearly a page larger than any previous issue. Individual ads total about 850.

The previous record was set last April 24 with six pages plus four and one-half columns.

"Real estate is by far our biggest category and today's record reflects the present real estate boom in Marin County," said Carl Lehman Independent-Journal classified manager.

"This marks our 22nd straight month of classified gain," he added. "During the first six months of this year we ran 115,449 classified ads, and we'll probably total close to 230,000 for the year."

Dollar Days In San Rafael Draw Throngs

We're packed. We're mobbed. It's really good.

Those were some of the reports today in a sampling of merchants participating in San Rafael Dollar Days.

Housewives, eagerly awaiting the bargain events which will continue tomorrow, crowded into stores for the special values.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m., as is usual on Fridays, so families can come in and shop. Stores also will be open until the late hour in the Corte Madera Center, Novato and San Anselmo.

A total of 57 stores in participating in Dollar Days in San Rafael with the pledge that there will be "terrific real solid values" for all customers.

Here is a sampling of comments:

At J. C. Penney Co., a spokesman said, "There is a very gratifying response."

At Royce Department Store, Roy Michael said their parking lot was jammed for the first time in a long time and that sales are "moving very nicely."

Nixon Slates TV Reply To Hecklers

Tired Vice President Back In Moscow To Plan Speech

MOSCOW (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned today from a flying Siberian-Ural trip and promised to answer Soviet hecklers in a televised speech to the Russian people tomorrow night.

Nixon also is expected to give a nationwide television report to the American people after he stops off in Poland for a three-day visit.

He called off all appointments at the American Embassy tonight as well as most of tomorrow. At Moscow Airport, Nixon in effect urged the Russians to hear and see his address.

Talking into a microphone, he said:

"When I speak tomorrow night at 8 o'clock I will discuss and answer some of the questions I got during the trip. I will also give my impressions of the Soviet economy, the managers, workers and people."

Nixon called his fast-moving, five-day trip outside Moscow "very interesting." The Russian people, he said, are very friendly to Americans even as the people of the United States are toward the people of the USSR.

"I found a common interest in finding ways to peace," he said. "I heard on every side the word 'mir druzhba'—peace and friendship."

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, and his 30-member official party, flew into the Soviet capital aboard a Russian TU104 jet. It whisked him in two hours from the Ural industrial city of Sverdlovsk, 850 miles away.

Nixon seemed tired after his 5,000-mile tour in the Soviet Union.

In ending his stay in the Soviet hinterland, Nixon appealed for world leaders to settle their political disputes so that Soviet and American scientists could devote their full time to peaceful atomic work instead of atomic bombs.

Nixon made his plea after traveling deep into a Siberian birch forest to inspect the site of a Soviet atomic power plant. He found a swarm of some 3,000 men and women workers, but the plant was only half as big as expected.

State Gets Blame For Deficiencies In Novato Schools

Faults with the Novato schools were laid on the doorstep of the state Department of Education last night by citizens and teachers attending the second conference of the Novato Advisory Council for Education.

Some 50 persons attended the meeting at Novato High School. They gathered in four separate sections to continue a study begun at the council's first meeting in May.

A summary of findings of the council to date was presented by Mrs. Alice Yarish, chairman.

"The state Department of Education and the state Legislature dictate many of our courses," the report declared. "The state department upholds and advocates certain philosophies of education in curriculum, teaching methods and teacher training.

". . . The criticisms voiced in the four discussion groups were almost identical with those being made in other parts of the state and nation.

"Of greatest interest is the fact that the criticisms and suggestions made by the predominantly lay group in Novato were very similar to those voiced by a predominantly teacher group at the 'Conference on Criticism of the Public Schools' held recently at San Francisco State College.

SAME OPINION

"It is also significant that the weight of opinion of all four subcommittees was preponderantly the same on most items of discussion."

Mrs. Yarish quoted one comment as typical: "If a child is not capable of reading, writing and arithmetic in his respective grade, then any other subject he may be introduced to may be considered a frill."

PARENTS' DUTY

Parents, the discussion groups agreed, must assume a share of the responsibility for the schools' emphasis on "life adjustment."

"Many felt that parents were clearly responsible for having shoved more and more of the problems of child rearing onto the schools," reported Mrs. Yarish. "However, the schools have not been loathe to accept these former parental obliga-

LATEST CATCH DIES

Scientist Hoping For Live Shark For Study

No sharks this morning.

This was the word today from Felix Konatich, 30, who has been going out every morning in Tomales Bay in search of bass for Tony's Seafood a Marshall.

Felix and his father, Tony, 70, have caught three sharks in their nets, one last Saturday, one this Tuesday and another yesterday.

Each time they have contacted Dr. Earl Herrald, director of the Steinhardt Aquarium and the "Science in Action" television show in San Francisco.

Scientific information about these man-eating type of sharks is scarce, so Dr. Herrald would like to observe a live one in a tank to see better what makes them tick.

Yesterday Felix attempted to keep his catch, a seven-foot, 400-pounder, alive. But the shark died. He tried to keep the one he caught Tuesday alive, too, but a San Francisco photographer asked him to take it out of the water for a picture, and the shark died, Felix said.

The dead sharks have been turned over to Dr. W. I. Follett, curator of icthyology at the academy.

Follett has been examining the contents of the shark's stomachs in an effort to determine whether they might have attacked human beings.

"In about a week," Konatich said, "Dr. Herrald plans to have a big tank truck ready, so if I catch a shark and call

HUGE SHARK CAPTURED AT SANTA CRUZ

It was 14 feet long and weighed an estimated 1,300 pounds.

Fishermen said it was a black Manila type shark, usually a man-eater.

FAIR WEATHER PREDICTED FOR WEEKEND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Little weather change was indicated through the weekend in California, the forecaster said today.

The five-day forecast through next Wednesday said no rain was in sight, aside from occasional thunderstorms in the Sierra.

Water 'Transfusion' Slated For Marin Lake

A dredge with high capacity pump will soon start transferring 200 million gallons of water from Alpine Lake to nearby Bon Tempe Lake, major supply source for southern Marin County which is at dangerously low level.

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District have authorized William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer, to rent a dredge from Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito as an emergency measure after word that Bon Tempe now holds only 200 million gallons, a supply adequate for only 30 to 40 days.

900 MILLION GALLONS

Alpine Lake now has 900 million gallons, said Seeger. It lies west of Kentfield, with Bon Tempe between.

Robert E. Rich, president of Associated Dredging, said today that the dredge will be moved on five large flat-bed trucks from its present location at Truckee, starting Monday afternoon. The trucks should start arriving at Alpine about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, he said.

Only such parts of the dredge mechanism as are needed for a pumping operation will be moved, he explained. Thus it won't be necessary to take the propellor-like cutter mechanism which ordinarily goes along to break up solids. Operation should start about Wednesday, he estimated.

SPECIAL LINE

"We'll use electric power," said Rich. "Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is putting in a special line. The dredge can pump five million gallons of water a day and therefore we shall take 40 days to move the 200 million gallons."

The lakes are about 3,000 feet apart and there is some permanent pipe between. From the dredge, water will move to this pipe through whatever flexible 12-inch pipe needed. Miles of such pipe are available, said Seeger.

Once the dredge, known as Crescent from the fact that it was first used at Crescent City, has been set up, it will float on Alpine Lake moored by anchors and wires.

Master Plan For Bolinas Lagoon Nears

A master plan for development of Bolinas Lagoon for recreation use will be completed within six months, directors of the Bolinas Harbor District were told last night.

"This is what we've been building toward for two years," said Gene McDaniel, harbor district chairman.

A state Lands Commission survey to determine state tideland boundaries has been completed, permitting the district to proceed with the study.

Plans were made at last night's board meeting at Stinson Beach to seek state funds for construction of small boat launching facilities at the lagoon for immediate use. McDaniel said there is also a possibility of private money for some temporary work on the lagoon entrance sand bar to make navigation easier.

The board approved a final budget of $5,500, which McDaniel said would indicate a tax rate of around 18 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Corte Madera Center Launches Sales Event

Corte Madera Shopping Center's big mid-summer Dollar Days sale got under way in a crisis atmosphere today, with African lions and an elephant named Susie on hand to entertain customers.

The wild animals are part of Ray Cox's Great Western Shows, which began a four-day run yesterday on the shopping center's east parking lot, beside Highway 101.

Five free circus shows are being offered daily. The half-hour programs include Bill Knutson's dog and pony acts, featuring what is reputed to be the smallest military drill horse in the world. Knutson also puts the lions through their paces.

HANDICAPPED CHILDREN PLAY BALL

Handicapped children, taking part in the summer recreation program at Marindale School in Terra Linda, play softball. Program Director Gregg DeGear, 25, of San Anselmo pitches the ball. The children use either regular bats and softballs or plastic ones. Those in wheelchairs play too, but if they have the use of only one arm, a counselor may give them a push toward a base. DeGear says the program, which also includes field trips, puppet theater and arts and crafts, will attempt football, too. (Independent-Journal photo)

More Commercial Zoning Favored In Kentfield Poll

Kentfield residents would like more commercially zoned areas to share their tax load, but are opposed to industries and more apartment houses in their community and overwhelmingly against incorporation or annexation.

This is indicated by a tally of questionnaires returned to the Kentfield Civic League by residents, property owners and business people.

Results of the opinion poll will be used by the civic league and county planning staff as a guide in preparing a master plan for the unincorporated community.

Approximately 20 per cent of the questionnaires were answered. Douglas H. Ballinger, a director of the league, said the poll results appear to be "fairly representative of our area's thinking."

The poll showed 141 persons favoring and 117 opposing additional commercial zoning for Kentfield, a 55-45 per cent division of opinion. Sixty-one per cent of those queried opposed light industrial development, with 101 for it and 159 against.

The vote against incorporation of Kentfield was 173 to 59, or 75 per cent opposed. Annexation to a neighboring city also met with disfavor, but by the smaller margin of 166 to 94.

Judging by the poll, Kentfield residents generally are well satisfied with their fire and police protection, especially the former, provided by the Kentfield Fire District.

To the question, "Do you have adequate fire protection?" the civic league received an 87 per cent "yes" vote. As for the police services, furnished by the Marin sheriff's office, 64 per cent of those polled expressed approval.

Other questions, and the results, were:

Do you favor expansion of the College of Marin? Yes, 169; no, 85.

Do you want more apartment houses? Yes, 82; no 156.

Do you wish something done about traffic flow on College avenue? Yes, 179; no, 64.

Do you feel that through traffic on Sir Francis Drake boulevard between Fairfax and Highway 101 should be re-routed to relieve local traffic? Yes, 185; no, 93.

BOTHERED BY RATS

Are you bothered by rats? Yes, 43; no, 219.

Do you favor drive-ins in Kentfield? Yes, 43, no, 216.

Do you purchase most of your food and daily household needs in Kentfield? Yes, 178; no, 82.

Do you want more parking space in the Kentfield commercial areas? Yes, 99; no, 130.

Is your street lighting adequate? Yes, 210; no, 59.

Do you favor beautification of our commercial area? Yes, 208; no, 46.

FLOOD CONTROL BONDS

Would you like more recreation facilities? Yes, 79; no, 162.

Do you favor residential lots under 10,000 square feet? Yes, 59; no, 188.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,300,000 shares against 3,240,000 yesterday.

Some shares leaned a bit below earlier levels in mid-afternoon. But price gains generally matched losses. Most key issues moved only fractions.

Aircrafts extended yesterday's brisk advances with some gains stretching beyond a point. Many rubbers, metals, airlines and tobaccos edged higher.

Steels, electronics, chemicals and oils generally receded. Motors, drugs, rails and metals were mixed.

DuPont rose more than two, Allied Chemical dropped more than two and Union Carbide was off around one.

'FLYPAPER' STREETS IN S.F. IRK MILL VALLEY MOTORIST

A Mill Valley clerk, arrested in San Francisco early today when he drove his sports car up to the axels in newly poured concrete, pleaded innocent in municipal court to a charge of being drunk in an automobile, but was fined anyway.

Gregory O. Lyon, 27, of 22 Tamalpais drive, was arrested by officers Joe Miles and Henry Kind of the San Francisco police fraud detail, who just happened to be passing by.

Earlier, Kind had warned Lyon of speeding but let him go "because he seemed like a nice guy."

But when the pair stopped his ramble through the newly poured street, Lyons became argumentive, so the officers handcuffed him and put him in a patrol wagon.

When he was arrested, he was sitting in a new Triumph with soft concrete up to the hub caps. Kind said Lyon complained that San Francisco shouldn't have "flypaper on the intersections."

Workmen were repaving at third and Kearney streets after removing streetcar tracks.

Lyon posted $50 bond, and appeared immediately before Municipal Court Judge Leonore Underwood. He pleaded innocent, but on the basis of testimony by the officers, the judge fined him $50, with the option of 10 days in jail.

The sentence was stayed until Aug. 5.

Commission Seeking Glenwood Firehouse

San Rafael fire commissioners would like to start building a new firehouse in Glenwood subdivision this year if possible.

Thec ommissioners last night asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to see whether plans used for the Third street firehouse can be applied to the Glenwood site, which is located just east of the developed area of Glenwood, near San Pedro road.

The city has set aside $40,000 this year for capital improvement for the fire department. This money could be used to start the new building. It would be the third firehouse for San Rafael.

The commission also decided to ask officials from Berkeley, San Leandro and Hayward to sit as an oral board to interview the 10 San Rafael firemen who are trying for promotions to engineer.

Six new positions of engineer have been created. Pay would be $6,328 per year as compared with $5,822 for firemen.

The oral examination is set for next Wednesday. Written tests were being given today. The new engineers expected to be picked about Sept. 1.

Solons Hear Taft Views On Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Housing Subcommittee listened to a famous Republican voice from the past today for guidance on whether to try to overturn President Eisenhower's veto of the Democratic housing bill.

In the speech, Taft, then Senate GOP leader, told the National Housing Conference on May 12, 1953, of his long-standing support for federally-subsidized public housing for low-income families who otherwise would be forced to live in slums. Taft died of cancer two months later.

Eisenhower vetoed the housing bill as "inflationary" and "extravagant." One of the provisions he opposed especially was the authorization for new public housing construction.

Woman On Probation For Drunken Driving

Mrs. Mary Margaret Dignan, 40, of 34 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, drew two years supervised probation yesterday for her first drunken driving offense.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court set 4 p.m. Sept. 24 for another review of her sentence.

Mrs. Dignan was arrested on Magnolia avenue in Larkspur on June 21.

Landmarks Unit Elects

Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere has been elected first president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

It is a non-profit, charitable corporation organized to preserve historical property in the area. Mrs. Bastian has been acting chairman since the society was formed last spring.

Other officials chosen were Thomas K. Proctor, vice president; Mrs. John A. Ericson, secretary; William H. V. Brooke, treasurer, and Mrs. David Teather, historian.

Dr. Robert P. Watkin, Belvedere mayor, was appointed to the board, succeeding Ralph Y. Meyers, who leaves for Switzerland shortly.

First project of the society will be the restoration of Old St. Hilary's Church, acquisition of which was made possible by an anonymous contribution. The church and surrounding area will be used as a museum and park.

Membership in the society is open to all Marin residents.

Curfew Measure For Belvedere Before Council

Introduction of a curfew ordinance in Belvedere is slated for Monday night's city council meeting, City Manager Britton Rey said today.

He said that it was introduced at the last meeting when not all councilmen were present, but will be re-introduced since it requires a four-fifths vote to be approved.

The ordinance is similar to those in some other Marin communities, requiring teenagers and younger children to be off the srteets after 11 p.m. unless accompanied by an adult.

Also on the council's agenda is a request from residents of Eucalyptus road that the street be accepted by the city, and further discussion of the Audubon Society lease for the proposed wildlife preserve.

Paralytic Polio On Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paralytic polio cases reported by the states increased to 177 last week, highest weekly total of the year.

The increase of 11 cases over the week ended July 18 was far lower, however, than the increase of 56 cases between July 11 and 18, U. S. Public Health Service statistics showed today.

The 177 paralytic cases last week compared with 73 in the corresponding 1958 week.

MACY'S SAN RAFAEL, FOURTH AND COURT, GLENWOOD 6:3333: OPEN FRIDAY 9:30 TO 9; OTHER DAYS 9:30 TO 5:30

GREENBRAE INTERCHANGE OPEN NEXT WEEK

New U.S. 101 freeway and ramp structures will, after long construction, go into service next Sunday and Tuesday. At 10 a.m. Monday traffic will begin over the new "on-ramp" from Sir Francis Drake boulevard, west of 101, to the southbound lanes of 101. This will entail a change in traffic westbound from Pt. San Quentin which, instead of turning south at the light, will be routed under 101, then turn to go up the new ramp to the southbound 101 lanes. On Tuesday at 11 a.m. northbound 101 traffic will begin to flow over the new bridge paralleling the southbound lanes already open.

2 S.F. Barbers Accuse Marinite Of Swindle

Two San Francisco barbers, a father and a son, yesterday claimed a San Rafael business promoter clipped them for $10,300 when he told them he was going to build a big shopping center in Lucas Valley.

The barbers, Edmund A. Aliprantí, 45, and his father, Vincent, said Ernesto A. Montano, 46, took their money.

San Francisco Municipal Court Judge Charles Peery issued a warrant for the arrest of Montano, on charges of 12 counts of grand theft and two counts of selling stock without a permit.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Dean told the court Montano disappeared three weeks ago from his home at 116 Tamal Vista drive, San Rafael.

The Aliprantis claimed they made their first payment of $3,500 to Montano in 1958, and later when they asked for their money back he told them he had a $13,500 check coming from Los Angeles.

They said he told them that "lots of investors want in on this."

Space Agency Plans To Send Seismograph To Check Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Space Agency today disclosed plans to send a seismograph to the moon in five or six years to see what it is made of and how its crust is behaving.

The agency also is ordering other rocket-borne instruments to check lunar radioactivity and measure the density of charged gas particles in the neighborhood of the moon.

These projects were disclosed in a list of contracts, totaling nearly 16 million dollars, awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in June.

By means of reverse rockets, the seismograph would be gently deposited on the moon in a so-called soft landing which the space agency said it may attempt, if everything goes as planned, "within five to six years."

The seismograph is expected to be a rugged instrument weighing 10 to 20 pounds. What it learns about the structure of the moon and its quake activity, if any, will be reported to earth by radio.

Mrs. Torre Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Torre, 38, wife of a Kentfield physician, will have to spend five days in county jail, unless her drunk driving conviction is reversed.

A jury of seven women and five men yesterday deliberated for about an hour before finding Mrs. Torre guilty of drunken driving on Highway 101 near Corte Madera last Jan. 9. She has a prior drunken driving conviction in Marin on Aug. 9, 1956. State law makes a jail sentence mandatory for the second offense.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and Mrs. Torre's attorney, Leslie Gillen of San Francisco, fought the case since Tuesday before Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court.

Immediately after the verdict, Gillen indicated he would move for a new trial. Judge Haley set Aug. 4 at noon as time for argument for a new trial.

Mrs. Torre testified she had two martinis and six creme de menthes that evening. She was arrested by sheriff's deputies, who said they followed her weaving car for about a mile before stopping her near the Corte Madera overpass.

Climbers Conquer Yosemite Column

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (UPI)—Two skilled mountain climbers have become the first persons to scale the rugged southeast side of 1,952-foot Washington Column.

The feat was accomplished yesterday after a four-day endeavor by Warren Harding, 30, of West Sacramento and Chuck Pratt, 20, of Berkeley. Harding also led the team which conquered the sheer face of 3,604 foot El Capitan.

Assisting the two climbers by hauling rope, pitons, water and food up to them were Glen Denny, Rob McKnight and Steve Roper.

Thousand Marin Dogs Vaccinated At Clinics

With 125 dogs vaccinated against rabies at the last of 10 clinics held last night in the Marin City firehouse, it was announced today that 1,067 dogs received such protection at the entire series conducted by the Marin County Health Department.

In last year's series of clinics, 3,251 vaccinations were given. Last year's vaccinations were still good for this year; therefore, the current series showed a smaller total because it represented only new arrivals, pups or immigrants.

Private veterinarians have also been giving many vaccinations, the health department noted, the number being impossible to estimate. All Marin County dogs four months or older must be licensed by Aug. 31, and vaccination certificates are required before licenses will be issued.

Satellite Try Delayed Again

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—Technical reasons were blamed today for the third straight postponement of launching of the Discoverer V satellite.

The suspenseful countdown reached zero yesterday but the main state of the towering rocket failed to fire. The attempt was called off.

In the past it has taken at least two days before another attempt at launching could be made after a technical failure was discovered.

Launching of the baby moon was canceled both Tuesday and Wednesday because of bad weather.

Youths Caught With Liquor By Police In Corte Madera

Three Marin youths were arrested in Corte Madera at 1 a.m. today on charges of illegal possession of liquor.

The charges were brought against Wendell Martin Joost Jr., 18, of 104 Almenar drive, Greenbrae and two 17-year-old San Anselmo boys. They were released to their parents.

Inspector Harold Hockett said he stopped their car on Tamalpais drive near Highway 101 after it passed through town at a fast clip. One of the 17-year-olds was at the wheel.

In the car Hockett found an unopened bottle of bourbon and a speaker belonging to Marin Motor Movies in San Rafael. Police said it has not been learned whether the boys stole the speaker or received it from others.

Joost also was charged with contributing to the delinquency of his companions, and the latter were cited for curfew violation.

2 Youths Admit Stealing Coins

Mark Fredrick Dawson, 19, and Claude Bernard Anger, 18, pleaded guilty to four counts of petty theft. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court set 3:30 p.m. Aug. 19 as time for a probation office report and judgment.

The youths broke into 14 soft drink machines, getting a total loot of $8 in coins. They were caught about 1 a.m. yesterday in the act of looting a machine at the Texaco station at Alto.

Hamilton Units Return From Florida Training

Some members of a special detachment of the 78th Fighter Group from Hamilton Air Force Base, in Florida since July 4 for weapons training, will begin arriving back at Hamilton tomorrow.

All of the F101 Starfighters of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, included in the detachment, will return Sunday noon, Maj. Phillip Coady, base information officer, said today.

The 150 airmen who left the Marin base July 3 for Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., will return tomorrow. Starfighters have been put through their paces over the Gulf of Mexico, firing their cannons and Sidewinder missiles at remote controlled jet drones and air-towed targets.

No official word has been received as to how the detachment performed during the training, said Coady, except that it was reported scorings were high.

Ground support airmen are scheduled to arrive at Hamilton by cargo plane tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Included in the special detachment are men of the 78th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, the 78th Armaments and Electronics Squadron, the 678th Field Maintenance Squadron and the 78th Fighter Group Headquarters.

During the absence of the Starfighters, the defense mission at Hamilton has been borne by the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron with its recently arrived fleet of F101 Voodoos and F89 Scorpions, the latter gradually being replaced by additional Voodoos.

Military Building Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress approved a compromise $1,225,475,150 military construction authorization bill yesterday and sent it to the White House.

The House passed the measure by voice vote and shortly thereafter the Senate approved 85-0 in a roll call.

The authorization, subject to appropriations provided in a bill to be considered later, is about 130 million dollars less than the President had requested.

Drunken Driver Gets Jail Term, $250 Fine

Leon Samuel Miller, laborer of 320 C street, San Rafael, must spend five days in jail and pay a $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. Miller was arrested at Fifth avenue and E street in San Rafael last Sunday. He was convicted previously in Madera in 1953.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

3 Cleared Of Illegal Deer Kill

Three employees of the Sweet Timber Co. of Olema were acquitted in justice court at Point Reyes Station this week on charges of killing a spiked buck out of season.

Alfred F. Giddings, game warden from Woodacre, produced the buck's head as evidence against Dale Moore, Royce Johnson and Ralph Conkle. But Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Judicial District Court dismissed the charge for lack of witnesses directly linking defendants with the offense.

Water power generates more than 99 per cent of the electricity in Switzerland, Norway, and Sweden, but less than 3 per cent in Britain, Denmark, and Belgium.

C. L. Pierce, Marin Realty Broker, Dies

Funeral services for Columbus L. Pierce, 51, prominent Marin realty broker and developer, who died of a heart attack at Garberville Wednesday night, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Pierce Realty will be closed tomorrow in memory of the man who designed and built the Pierce Building in which his office had been located for the past five years.

Pierce and his wife, Angela, were camping at Leggett, 39 miles from Garberville, when Pierce suffered the attack Tuesday night. He had been ailing from a heart condition. He died at a hospital Wednesday.

In Marin County real estate business since 1929, Pierce built more than 700 homes including the Sleepy Hollow Addition where streets are named after members of his family.

He also built Big Bear Market, Taylor tract and Meadow Way tract in Fairfax, and Bret Harte Village 3.

Pierce was a past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board and the San Rafael Lions Club, and member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin Rod and Gun Club. He was also active in Boy Scout work in San Anselmo in the 1920's. He was a member of the Coast Guard Reserve.

He resided at 175 Oak drive, Bayside Acres, with his wife and four children: Roger, 14, Sheila, 12, Angela, 11, and Charles, 9. Another son, Columbus Jr., lives in Sonoma.

Novato District Hires Fireman

William E. Walker of 586 Louis drive, Novato, has been hired as a fireman by the Novato Fire District, filling the vacancy created July 7 by the death of Verne W. Long.

Long was killed when the car he was driving crashed into a hay truck on Highway 101 near Vallejo avenue in Novato. Walker, a former post office employee, will begin his duties Aug. 1 at a starting salary of $380.

Physiotherapist's Last Rites Held

Private funeral services for Arvid Johnson, 69, a Marin County resident for 11 years, were held today at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Johnson died Tuesday after long illness. He was a physiotherapist who had maintained offices in San Francisco for a number of years.

He was born in Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 26, 1889. When he first came to Marin he lived for a time in Fairfax, but had recently resided at 18 Wolfe grade, Kentfield.

He is survived by his wife, Marguerite Johnson.

Johnson was a member of Elsinore Lodge 289 F&AM; San Francisco Chapter 1, Royal Arch Masons; California Commandery 1, Knights Templar; and Islam Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

Civilian Employee At Air Base Dies

Funeral services for Louis H. Knittel, 64, a civilian employee at Hamilton Air Force Base, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Halsted and Co. mortuary in San Francisco.

Knittel, fuel distributor foreman at the 78th Supply Squadron at Hamilton, died yesterday after a heart attack. He lived at Quarters 1147-B on the base.

Surviving are his wife, Faith; two daughters, Mrs. Hope Durham of San Rafael and Mrs. Josephine Robinson of Cocoa, Fla., and six sons, Louis S. of Norfolk, Va., Albert L. of San Francisco, James B. of Napa, Wilbert of Kings Beach, Placer County, Robert R. of San Rafael and H. Duane of Hamilton Air Force Base.

West Coast Air Flights Extended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—West Coast Airlines extended its Pacific Coast service today to three California cities and five in Oregon.

The airline's first scheduled flights were due today at San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. At the same time, service was inaugurated to Salem, Bend-Redmond and Newport-Toledo in Oregon.

The company also will start flying to Utah and eastern Washington and Oregon.

Truck Driver Strike Won't Affect Marin

A threatened strike by 3,000 pickup and delivery truck drivers of San Francisco Teamsters Local 85 has no effect on Teamsters truck drivers in Marin County, a union official said today.

Tony Silva, secretary of Teamsters Local 624 here, would not comment further on a vote last night by the San Francisco union to go on strike Monday unless employer groups come up with acceptable new offers by Sunday.

A citywide strike was threatened in San Francisco as the truck drivers, meeting at the Cow Palace, rejected the California Trucking Assn.'s offer of a 25-cent hourly increase retroactive to July 1 and a 20-cent raise next year.

The truck drivers also rejected an offer by the Draymen's Assn. for a three-year contract providing a 25 cent hourly increase this year and the next two years.

Members of Oakland Teamsters 70 and smaller locals in Contra Costa County and Santa Clara County accepted the California Trucking Assn. offer last week.

COURT GIVES REPRIEVE TO SLIPWAY RESIDENTS

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court gave Arques until Aug. 24 to work out some type of sewer connection with city facilities instead of letting sewage run into the bay.

Wallace S. Myers, attorney for Arques, told the judge his client is working with Sausalito City Engineer John C. Oglesby to connect to city sewer facilities. Arques hopes to have the problem solved by Aug. 24.

Defections By Iron Curtain Youths Feared At Festival

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Officials of the seventh Communist World Youth Festival took new precautions today to prevent any mass defection of Iron Curtain delegates to the West.

Reliable sources inside the festival said there will be a sharp reduction in East-West meetings, political discussions and even such social events as dancing parties and sightseeing tours.

"All this stuff about democracy, freedom and rock 'n' roll just gives our people a lot of wrong ideas and is bound to cause trouble," an East European Communist party official was quoted.

Three delegates—from Communist Hungary, Czechoslovakia and East Germany — asked Austria for political asylum. Communist organizers of the festival to promote "peace and friendship" fear their fete might backfire embarrassingly before the closing Tuesday.

There were about 7.1 per cent more full-time freshman students on the nation's college campuses during the 1958-'59 semester than there were the year before.

Package Stolen From Mailbox

Two men grabbed a package from the mailbox in front of Capri Apartments in San Rafael Wednesday night and fled in a late model car with lights off, police reported.

Florence Lillian Day of 14 Valencia street, who is acting manager of the apartment building at 79 Woodland avenue, said she noticed the two men loitering near the mailboxes about 9:50 p.m. As she approached, one of the men grabbed a package from a rack below the boxes and ran to their car.

Cars, Not Planes, Pay Airport Most

San Francisco International Airport, fifth in the United States in passenger volume, does not derive its greatest income from air traffic or the airlines which use its facilities, Mark Gerstle, airport public relations director, told the Sausalito Rotary Club yesterday.

Gerstle said the huge field's greatest single source of revenue is from the car parking concession, which pays 82 per cent of its fees to the airport.

Gerstle, scion of an old Marin family for whom San Rafael's Gerstle Park is named, was one of the original KTIM announcers when the station went on the air.

State Asks Doctor Get Death Penalty

WEST COVINA (AP) — The threat of the gas chamber looms over the romance of Dr. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, lovers in a triangle shattered by death.

The prosecution announced yesterday it will seek the death penalty for the 41-year-old crew-cut surgeon—but not for his shapely 22-year-old sweetheart.

They are charged with murdering the doctor's pretty wife, socialite Barbara Finch, 33, found shot in the back near the Finches' $65,000 home July 18.

Municipal Judge Albert H. Miller denied the wealthy surgeon bail and ordered him held for superior court trial and set arraignment for Aug. 17 at nearby Pomona.

BROWN HINTS HE MAY BECOME REAL PRESIDENTIAL HOPEFUL

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown has indicated his status may change from that of favorite son to serious candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Brown's hint of becoming more than just a favorite son came yesterday at a news conference when he was asked to describe the term "favorite son."

He said a favorite son was one whom people active in politics in a state would like to see as a candidate for president. Brown added that historically a favorite son candidate is put into a campaign "where there might be some hope by the delegation." Then he added "I think I'll leave it there."

Fire-Fighters Continue Battle To Save Timber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the most extensive series of forest fires in California's history entered its 10th day today.

At Pollard Flat, 60 miles south of the Oregon line, 1,000 men hoped to encircle a blaze that has consumed 3,000 acres of fir and pine. Their fire line was about 80 per cent completed this morning.

Ranger Richard Mirrales would not elaborate but said Division of Forestry officials believed it was set deliberately.

South of Eureka and about 25 miles from the Northern California coast, forestry crews managed to surround a fire that tore through almost 800 acres of timber, slash and grass. But crew leaders said they had no idea when the blaze would be controlled.

Near San Andreas, about 50 miles southeast of Sacramento, a fire was partially controlled during the night after sweeping over more than 200 acres of timber and brush.

Despite the devastation to timber, little damage was reported to developed property.

Game Closing At Carnival Protested

A member of Novato American Legion Post 708 said today he will protest to the Marin County Board of Supervisors the closing of three "wheels of fortune" at a Legion-sponsored carnival.

John R. Kiker of 1904 Benton lane, Novato, claimed the wheels "were in fact operating legally under county ordinance." He said he would file a formal protest with the supervisors.

Donald E. Midyett, district attorney's investigator, asked operators to shut down the wheels Tuesday night on the ground that they constituted illegal gambling. Operators of the wheels complied.

The Foley and Burk Carnival at Highway 101 and Diablo avenue is to run through tomorrow night. The Legion post is to receive a percentage of the show's profits to use toward construction of a public drag strip and recreational area north of Novato.

HOW EXCITED CAN YOU GET?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ralph Hamilton, 40, rushed into a telephone booth to call his wife with the good news —the property they had wanted to buy was now available.

He received only minor cuts.

Unexpected Dip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Berquist couldn't understand why his wife and child, who had been watching him water ski from his auto on the beach, suddenly joined him in the water and were waving frantically. Then he noticed the car was underwater. The baby had loosened the hand brake. Both were rescued.

Job Chief Says Mexicans Picked Over Domestic Help

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—State Director of Employment John E. Carr has charged that members of his department's Farm Placement Service gave farm labor jobs to Mexican nationals when domestic workers had first right to the jobs.

Carr spoke yesterday before a group of departmental employees here. He said his investigation of the service would continue until he had fixed responsibility at the top—"no matter how high that might be."

The investigation already has resulted in the firing of Asst. Placement Service Chief William N. Cunningham last Tuesday, only four days before he was due to retire. Cunningham was charged with using state personnel and equipment to pick up gifts of food from ranchers and co-ops and keeping false, cover-up records.

Carr said that the point of his investigation was not "just a case of somebody accepting grapefruit or a bottle of whiskey, or responding to ordinary California hospitality. It went to the point of regular, traditional, longtime abuse of of power and authority."

Concerning farm laborers, Carr said, "There are many domestic farm workers who are ready, willing and able to comply with conditions that give them a prior right to the jobs that are being held by Mexican nationals in the state, and who never get a chance to exercise it.

"They are deliberately horned off by people in our department whose obligation it is to assure them that prior right."

Plane Delivers Serum To Town Hit By Botulism

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A "mercy" plane carrying antitoxin for five persons stricken with a usually fatal form of food poisoning arrived here early this morning after an all-night flight from Stewart Air Force Base, N.Y.

The serum was flown to the Idaho city in a T33 jet trainer in response to an urgent plea from six persons suffering with what is believed to be botulism.

One person has already died from the poisoning and three other victims have been placed in iron lungs.

The Dead Sea Scrolls, discovered in 1947, are about 1,900 years old. They are believed to antedate the Old Testament by 1,000 years.

Trustees Slate Closed Session

After tomorrow morning's budget session, Mill Valley school district trustees will hold a closed executive session, according to Mrs. Jean Rosse, trustee president.

She said that the session will concern the employment of the district's administrators. Supt. G. R. McConnell will participate in the discussion.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

That Fragrant 4th Street Aroma Is Coming From Kitchen At Joe's

"If it had been a snake it would have bitten you."

So goes the old saying, meaning that what you were looking for was right under your nose all the time.

What your olfactory organ may have missed smelling is the tantalizing aroma of good cooking emanating from Joe's on downtown Fourth street, San Rafael, where Guido Farina and Hector Rubini hold kitchen counsel and turn out food gems to match the fragrance.

If it happens to be Hector's recipe for voltolini (veal rolled with prosciutto) that's doing the beckoning, my advice is to let yourself go and partake. Beef Medallion, another specialita della casa, is served nightly. Consider also the tenderloin brochettes served with Italian risotto.

Until recently Joe's has been open seven days a week. Now it's closed on Sundays—not because there isn't enough business but because there hasn't been enough time to rest. If you don't think Hector and Guido and their wives, Bob and Jo Ann Benjamin, Adele Barrow and the others can't stand some weekend time off you evidently haven't looked in and seen the activity here since it blazoned out in its remodeled glory.

TRANSPORTING 40 DOZEN wine glasses without breakage to Squaw Valley and back again doesn't seem like much of a problem—but that's only a part of it.

Ondine has been selected to put on a feed at the Olympic Games site Sept. 25 which will probably have chef Alfred Roblin running in circles right in Sausalito. It won't be just any old feed like a weekend barbecue, but haut cuisine for some 60 bigwigs, movie stars, gourmets and Olympic officials, with all the de luxe trimmings.

Alfred Roblin himself will supervise the menu down to the last fromage. Dinner will be held in Squaw Valley Lodge but participants will have to go 2,500 feet higher by ski lift to the Cornice for their hors d'oeuvres and champagne.

Why all the wine glasses? Just that there are seven courses, each with its appropriate vintage, and with more than 60 people—well, figure it out for yourself.

AL CAWEST, CHEF at The Cellars, puts out a $2.75 dinner selection on Sunday nights to please a variety of tastes—prime rib, New York steak, scallopini, parmigiano and others. He'll also take care of special orders for frog legs, sweetbreads and trout (he'll cook your own, too). All you have to do is ask, but give him a little extra notice.

Sunday is the only night The Cellars is open for dinner, but lunches are served daily—I suggest you try the steak sandwiches. They're good.

FIGURES IN THE right hand column of the Woodlands menu are just about as popular as you can get in Marin County these days. For that matter, I haven't any complaint to make about the listing in the left hand column either.

The Woodlands has a new broiler—guaranteed to put the xxxx's on your New York steak just the way you want them. In between it's juicy and tender—10 ounces of delightful beef eating. We tried it a few days ago and I went home convinced that I should do something about our own grill, or the meat, or the cooking, or something. My xxxx's always come out looking like I smeared them up with a charcoal eraser.

Maybe it happens other places, too, but I seem to notice it more at the Woodlands. Just when you're all settled on what you're going to eat, along comes a gal bearing a plate of something you were going to order but didn't, and it looks so appetizing you wish you had because you were probably right in the first place, only now it's too late.

Cheer up. That guy who just came in and sat at the next table will feel the same way when he sees what you got.

Here's Weekend Movie Roundup

By LESLIE DARD

Here's what your entertainment money will get you this weekend at Marin's movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Hercules" (color), starring muscleman Steve Reeves, is an adventure tale based on the legends of Greek mythology—a half man-half god who saves a royal princess, slays a Cretan bull and a lion with his bare hands, licks a dragon, encounters Amazons and joins Jason and his Argonauts to bring back the Golden Fleece.

Reese was a relatively obscure fellow before he left this country to act in Europe. He reportedly has a huge following there and his is a bid to build him up as a beefcake sensation here.

Reeves is quite a fellow in the strength department and performs some amazing feats. Attired in a fringe beard and an abbreviated toga, he looks like a composite of all the Mr. Universe winners (he was one, too).

Sylva Koscina plays the princess rescued by Hercules and there are a flock of Italian beauties, sparsely draped, as the Amazon gals.

"God himself could not sink her," a deckhand boasted. But when the biggest vessel of its time went down in mid-Atlantic she carried 1,502 men, women, and children into the depths.

Eric Ambler's superb script hews closely to the outline of the Walter Lord best-seller. The cast is headed by Kenneth More as a courageous second officer.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"South Pacific," the big-screen, color version of the Broadway hit, is being held over another week.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

The best thing about "Some Came Running" is Shirley MacLaine's performance (which won her an Oscar nomiantion as best actress) as a floozy in pursuit of Frank Sinatra. The film opens Sunday.

The film belongs pretty much to Miss MacLaine, perfect in her performance as the devoted pushover in Frankie's brooding search for a meaning to his life.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

He plays an insurance salesman who unwittingly sells a policy to Jesse James and then is ordered to go West—either to invalidate the policy or preserve the life of the outlaw.

LARK THEATER

"My Uncle," Oscar-winner as the best foreign film of the year, ends its long run in a few days.

It stars Jacques Tati, the clown of "Mr. Hulot's Holiday" who demonstrates the idocy of modern gadgetry by contrasting the insane mechanized world with the gay, carefree life of an old-fashioned Parisian suburb.

NOVATO THEATER

Walt Disney's leprechauns take over the Novato screen starting Sunday in "Darby O'Gill and the Little People," a frequently delightful Irish fantasy (in color).

Albert Sharpe is Darby, the lazy, aging caretaker of a lord's estate; Janet Munro is Katie, his lovely, spitfire daughter; Sean Connery is a Dublin lad imported to replace Darby; Kieron Moore is the village bully, and Jimmy O'Dea, for many years as star of the Irish stage, is Brian Conner, king of the leprechauns.

FAIRFAX THEATER

No man wants to die—if he must—in what may be the final battle of a war. This was the situation at Pork Chop Hill in Korea, which King Company, led by Lt. Joe Clemons (Gregory Peck) was ordered to retake.

Inch by inch, the 135 men moved forward. And when the terrible day was over, the 28 men still alive held the hill—a fragile victory recorded by that brilliant military historian, Gen. S. L. A. Marshall.

The story has been told in the film, "Pork Chop Hill," and it may well establish this battle alongside Bunker Hill in history. Recommended.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Young Philadelphians," starring Paul [illegible]an, is a comedy-drama [illegible] several generations from [illegible]e city of Brotherly Love — some from the Main Line, some from the wrong side of the tracks. And when the twain meet, the results are somewhat unsettling. Quite a few skeletons are rattled in the dramatic windup.

FBI Transfers Office Chiefs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—D. K. Brown, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Los Angeles for nearly two years, is being transferred to Cleveland as head of the office there, it was announced yesterday.

Webb Burke, San Francisco office head, will succeed Brown and Richard D. Auerbach of the Chicago office will replace Burke.

Brown is a native of Arizona and a graduate of Arizona State University. He suffered two mild heart attacks earlier this year but is now nearly completely recovered and reported in good health.

Hawaii Vote Record

ANCIENT MUSCLEMAN—Steve Reeves plays the title role, co-featured with Sylva Koscina, in the Technicolor production of "Hercules," opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

MR. FUNNY — Jacques Tati stars in "My Uncle," a "panic of laughter" which is now in its third week on the screen of the Lark Theater in Larkspur. It will end its run there Tuesday.

Nike Bases Invite Public

Starting next week, three of Marin's four Nike guided missile sites will hold open house from 2 to 4 p.m. each Wednesday.

Visitors will be shown the missile areas, radar control equipment and administrative buildings, announced Col. Andrew R. Lolli, commander of the 40th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade at Ft. Barry.

At Ft. Barry, the first operational Nike-Hercules site will be open. Nearby, at Ft. Cronkhite, there is another site soon to be converted from Nike-Ajax to the larger Hercules. North of San Rafael at the Santa Venetia site is another Hercules unit which will also hold open house each Wednesday afternoon.

Only the Angel Island site will not hold open house due to lack of transportation.

France has a population of about 40 million people. This does not include its colonial population.

'Wind In Willows' Done Perfectly In Sausalito

By MARTHA TRUDELL

A capacity audience attended the opening performance of "The Wind in the Willows," the Playbox production at Sausalito's Little Theater. The cast of the A. A. Milne adaptation of Kenneth Graham's story included youngsters from 8 to teen-age. Ann Brebner, responsible for direction, should feel rewarded for her efforts. The large cast was letter perfect and performed with the poise of seasoned troupers.

The story concerns a little girl, Marigold, played by Pippa White, who will be remembered for her important and professional role in the recent Little Theater production of "The Innocents." Marigold feels an affinity with the animal world and we are taken into their "home life."

The timid and near-sighted Mole, played by Robin Ray, joins Mr. Rat and crotchey Mr. Badger, played extremely well by both Carol and Stephanie Burns. These three have little regard for Mr. Toad, a pompous and conceited extrovert.

Inga Newbeck carrried the role with all the bluster called for—perhaps a little loud at times, but toads are noisome creatures. The foursome's adventures continue through three acts with Mr. Toad emerging triumphant.

Even more important than the mechanics of the production is the fact that the children so enjoyed what they were doing. The cast members took care of their own costumes and showed imagination and humor.

GATE PLAYGROUND

Cast Shares Honors In 'On The Town'

By HARRY LOVETT

A talented cast, sensitive direction and a made-to-order vehicle combine at the Sausalito Gate Playhouse in "On the Town," a zany, fast-moving vehicle which opened to an enthusiastic audience last week.

"On the Town" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow, and Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the theater, on Bridgeway opposite Princess street. It is scheduled to run each Friday, Saturday, and Sunday through August.

"On the Town" recounts the highly unlikely experience of three sailors on 24-hour leave in New York City, whose efforts to find girls create some of the maddest and entertaining sequences possible.

Director Leslie Abbott has drawn together the abilities of a huge cast and has extracted from it the talent which drew constant rounds of applause throughout the two-act, 16-scene production on opening night.

"On the Town" is one of those large cast productions where there is no such thing as a star or leading character. To single one out would be unfair to the many talented performers.

It is obvious that the three sailors, played by Zane Tamas, Ron Debenedictis, and John Roberts, constituted the "framework" of a lead part ably abetted by their "femmes," Raquel Lopez, Virgina Rae, and Jean Dayl.

To these six should go the plaudits normally heaped on the leads, and we found it difficult to single out one above the others.

Raquel Lopez, another of the girls, in the part of Ivy, performed some exquisite dancing on a tiny stage that brought rounds of applause as she played for the affections of her sailor.

The third girl, statuesque Jean Dayl as Claire, did a masterful job of capitalizing on her tallness, especially when she was adorned in a sexy, clinging black gown. In addition, she brought to the Gate Playhouse a refreshing singing voice that was clear, true, and vibrant.

Commendation should go, too, to Larry Gryggman as Pitkin, the foppish fiance of Claire, and to Jeraldine Burnett as Lucy Schmeeler, the blind date for Pitkin who constantly sneezed.

Particular credit should go to Gloria Mendenhall, who in less than three days' rehearsal time, mastered the part of Madame Dilly, the music teacher. Not even listed on the program, she stepped into the part at the last moment, when Val Bleecker, originally engaged for the role, dropped out.

Highlights were an ensemble musical number staged in a subway train with swaying movements of the sitters and standees executed hilariously; the scene of Hildy and her sailor boy in a taxi as they sing "Come Up to My Place," the dream ballet done by Ivy and the ensemble, and the series of quick scenes staged in three New York nightclubs.

Worthy of note was the smooth work on the part of the entire cast and stage crew for scene-shifting between the 16 fast-moving scenes. As for the scenery itself, the deft touch of Sausalito artist Enid Foster was evident throughout.

State Legislators Dig Deep Into Wallets Of Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State legislatures reached into taxpayers' wallets for hundreds of millions of dollars this year to keep state bank accounts in the black and finance record budgets.

Lawmakers in almost all of the 46 states with legislatures meeting in 1959 have approved or still must approve budgets at an all time high. In some cases they found that the tax take from economic growth or the bounce-back from the 1958 recession would cover the increased drain on the treasury.

But in many other states the legislatures glumly agreed that they had to raise taxes. Some tried new tax gimmicks but most of them simply raised income taxes, sales taxes or excises on liquor, beer and tobacco.

New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Utah joined the federal government and about a dozen other states which impose withholding taxes on paychecks to help insure collection of income taxes. Idaho levied a $10 head tax on each income tax return filed.

Colorado, Ohio, Maine and Utah put a tax on hotel and motel bills. Nebraska levied a new tax on pari-mutuel betting. The heretofore dry state of Oklahoma legalized liquor, and the legislature promptly taxed it $2.40 a gallon to yield an estimated 3½ million dollars a year.

Cigarette smokers were a favored target in the search for new revenue. California, which had no cigarette tax, got a levy of three cents a package when the legislature approved 222 million of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 256 million dollar tax program.

Of 11 other states which increased cigarette taxes this year, Iowa and Wyoming went to four cents a pack; Idaho, New York, Ohio, South Carolina and South Dakota to five cents; Minnesota five and one-half; Pennsylvania and Washington, six; and Vermont seven cents. According to the Tobacco Institute, 25 states now collect cigarette taxes of five cents or more per package on top of the eight-cent federal tax.

In Minnesota, the legislature boldly approved a slight increase in the beer tax, which had been untouchable for 25 years. Although it balked at a withholding tax, it also raised taxes on personal and corporate income, liquor, cigarette and other tax sources as part of a 45 million dollar tax package.

Besides California with its 222 million dollars of new taxes, states with six-figure tax increase packages this year included: Ohio, 275 million dollars; New York, 273 million; Illinois, 135 million and Washington, 112 million dollars.

In the crisis-ridden state of Michigan, the legislature appears to be moving toward a sales tax increase from 3 to 4 or 5 per cent, with an exemption for food if it goes to 5. Action along this line would kill off Gov. G. Mennen Williams' proposal for a new state income tax as part of his 140 million dollar tax plan.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. David L. Lawrence's request for a 200 million dollar tax increase has been snarled in the legislature since March. The legislature has raised the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ and may try to break the present deadlock by lifting it to 4 per cent and extending it to items now exempt.

The Washington State Legislature raised the sales tax from 3½ to 4 per cent and increased other levies, too. Although they controlled the legislature, the Democrats failed to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to get a referendum on a constitutional amendment to authorize an income tax.

After the recent rash of state gasoline tax increases, fewer states reached for the motorist this year. Among those which did were New York with a gas tax increase from four to six cents a gallon, Ohio from five to seven and New Hampshire and West Virginia from six to seven. Proposed gas tax increases are still pending in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Several governors presumed to have national political ambitions as candidates or kingmakers had to wrestle with record-breaking budgets and sizeable tax programs this year. Beside Brown and Williams on the Democratic side, they included Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and William G. Stratton of Illinois and Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio.

A Democratic exception was Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who found increased revenue from present tax laws enough to finance a record budget.

Another was Gov. George Docking of Kansas, who recommended a small reduction from last year's budget and cutting the sales tax from 2½ to 2 per cent. The GOP legislature refused to make the tax reduction and made some increases in the Docking budget but left it still 2½ million dollars below the total for last year.

In California, where the legislature concentrated on upper bracket taxpayers in voting an income tax increase, Democratic members liked to compare their plan with what they called Rockefeller's "soak the poor" income tax schedule.

In an order delaying new state construction in Illinois, Stratton had Michigan in mind when he said his administration was "not going to wake up some morning and find we can't meet our payrolls."

If you consider that the purchasing power of the dollar was $1.00 in the 1947-49 period, then it was worth $268.10 in 1909 and less than 83 cents today.

TROPHY

paramedics, it is also the first time a team stationed in the United States has ever won the trophy.

Col. Robert J. Stribling, commander of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron, when told the news, said: "I always knew we had the best. We just waited for the opportunity to prove it."

Events in the contest were directly related to what the paramedics learn to do in their work in the rescue squadron. They were required to make jumps with their 28-foot parachutes into a tree, open water, and three open field jumps from SA16 Albatross aircraft.

The tree jump required the jumper to land safely in a tree, shed the special suit worn, and let himself down with his own rope. In the water jump, a man has to gain a raft in record time after hitting the water. Open field jumps are related to landing close to a target.

Combined with the actual jumping is the solving of complicated medical problems, making accurate cargo drops, military appearance and courtesy, and demonstration of how well the jumper understands his job.

him, he can come right over and get it." Konatich said he would try to keep alive any shark he catches by tying it to a dock, or securing it in a net. He said a shark might die if its back is broken trying to break a rope tied to its tail.

SEA BASS RUN

Scientists said warmer water probably is not the reason more sharks are being observed here. They said the increased run of sea bass probably is responsible, and that it probably is easier for a shark to catch a bass in shallow bay water than in the deeper ocean.

Examination of the sharks' stomach, however, has disclosed no bass.

Dr. Follett said nothing found in the sharks' stomach indicates they had attacked human beings, but the shark taken yesterday, a male, had a smaller shark inside him. Follett said the smaller shark was a different variety, probably an angel shark.

PREVIOUSLY UNNOTICED

Follett said sharks of the man-eater variety have always been in northern coastal waters, but have gone unreported or unnoticed.

A spokesman for the state Division of Beaches and Parks in Sacramento said Indian Beach, near where the three Marin sharks have been caught, will not be closed, but officials at Tomales Bay State Park have been warning swimmers.

A fourth shark was caught in Bodega Bay in Sonoma County.

5 Men Handcuff Patrolman, Toss Him Off Cliff

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—A California highway patrolman was handcuffed and thrown off a cliff last night by five men he had stopped for speeding.

Mitchell was found by a fellow patrolman at the bottom of an embankment near Robroy Junction on Highway 1. The other patrolman said he began searching for Mitchell when the latter failed to report at the end of his shift.

Mitchell said the five men overpowered him after he had stopped their car for speeding. He said they handcuffed and beat him, then threw him down the embankment.

3-Car Crash Hurts Woman

A 70-year-old Sausalito woman today was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital after being injured in a three-car accident at 5:45 p.m. yesterday just south of the Corte Madera overpass on Highway 101.

Mrs. Lillian F. Thompson of 99 Monte Mar drive was the driver of the rear car in a three-car rear-end collision, and was cited for driving too fast for traffic conditions. The hospital reported she suffered internal injuries.

The California Highway Patrol said her car rammed the rear of one driven by Hayward Cooper McDonald, 67, of Sonoma. His passenger, Edna Cooper, complained of pain but was not treated.

The lead car was driven by Frank Romaggi Prince Jr. 39, of 39 Lochinvar road, San Rafael, the CHP said.

NOVATO

tions . . . at the expense of academic pursuits."

The study groups noted a split between the Legislature's education committee and the state Department of Education. "The Legislature's set of objectives favors stress on academic achievement," said the chairman. "The state Department of Education stressed social adjustment."

All the study groups asked for a return to A-B-C-D-F grading on report cards. They said the report card now in use in Novato elementary schools "is unrealistic, tends to deceive and confuse a child as to his true intellectual standing."

Discipline should be tightened both in the school and at home, the conferees agreed. But parent members of the group blamed teachers for lax discipline in school, and teacher members blamed parents for failure to discipline their children at home.

The state Department of Education came in for criticism again by groups studying curriculum.

Most objectionable courses, in the parents' opinion, were those in "personal development." But a teacher defended these courses, saying children were interested in talking to him about their problems and "they told me things they would not tell their parents."

Several courses parents found most objectionable are required by the state, the conference noted.

The conferees split as to whether children should be grouped in classes by ability. But a plan tried last year at West Novato School won praise. Under it "gifted" children were taken out of classrooms during certain periods to take speeded-up courses in their special interests.

The conferees found little to criticize in the present setup at Novato High School, which provides both college preparatory and vocational training.

As to teachers' salaries, the parents on the committee agreed salaries should be at least as high in Novato as the Bay Area average, and some felt they should be higher to attract superior teachers.

The conference continued its discussions last night in four sections. Lee Wise was chairman of a section on "competition as a motivation for learning." Thomas C. Hardcastle headed the section on ability groupings; and William Mayo, that on teacher problems. Mrs. Yarish was chairman of a section on school responsibilities.

The group decided to hold monthly meetings, with a digest of the results of the previous meeting to be presented at the opening of the succeeding one.

Trucker Gets Back Lost Furniture

Deputy Sheriff Newall Snyder recovered several boxes of furniture which blew off a truck on Highway 101 south of Le Chateau last night.

Snyder was headed north about 9:30 p.m. when he spotted two men loading a box onto their station wagon. Another big box lay in front of the station wagon. When the deputy stopped, the station wagon started to leave.

Snyder stopped driver Howard Eli Sassen, 36, of San Jose and Charlie Monroe Johnson, 64, of Morgan Hill and ordered him to take out the box. Inside the station wagon were a large box with three chairs, a smaller box with cushions, and three loose chairs.

Meanwhile, the deputy radioed the main office to have the truck notified. Truck driver Oral L. Gray of Martinez returned for his lost furniture. He was delivering the furniture for Certified Chrome Furniture Co. of El Segundo when the boxes fell off. He had driven on unaware of the loss.

Court Writ Sought By Police Slayer

Marion James Linden, 45, Los Angeles police slayer scheduled to die in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber next Friday, asked the state Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus.

In his petition he said he was insane at the time he asked to be allowed to conduct his own defense and consequently the court erred in permitting him to do so. He said this deprived him of liberty without due process of law.

Linden's pleas for review of his case have been turned down by all federal courts.

Ike Proclaims Day Of Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated Wednesday, Oct. 7, as a national Day of Prayer.

He called on Americans to join in prayer on that date and "give thanks for the bounty of Providence which has made possible the growth and promise of our land."

Boy Lost Five Days In Grand Canyon Found

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—A 16-year-old Savannah, Ga., boy lost in the Grand Canyon for five days was found alive this morning eight miles from the spot near Desert View where two hiking companions had died.

John Manson Owens III, barefoot, worn and dead tired, was rushed to Grand Canyon Hospital where National Park rangers described his condition as "good" considering what he had been through.

Rangers did not attempt to question the youth extensively because of his weakened condition. But they said he would be all right.

He told them he had survived by sucking juice from cactus. Rangers had given him up for dead two days ago.

Owens was known to be without food and water.

He entered the canyon off Highway 64 Friday on a hike with Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, and Father Eugene Gavigan, 30, a Catholic priest, both of Savannah.

A search was started Sunday when other hikers reported hearing cries for help. Mahany's body was found Sunday afternoon. He apparently was a victim of exposure. But he had scrawled a message saying one of the party was hurt in a fall.

That was the priest. His body was found Monday.

TIRED PIGEON GETS AIRLIFT

The bird dropped on the deck of the Royal Interocean Line ship Pjinegara, July 14. Crewmen found a leg band showing its home was in Formosa.

WATER

Cost of the job is estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000.

The water district issued an appeal today for the public to continue precautions against water waste, saying that there was fine cooperation during this month's hot spell but pointing out that next year's needs and supply are not known.

"We're got the water but let's not waste it," said Seeger. Normal use, including lawn watering, is all right, he said. But he urged avoidance of overflow down driveways and along curbs.

"We have about five billion gallons of water in storage," said Seeger. "Our estimated consumption now and January is three and one-half billion—which means that in January we wall have a balonce of one and one-half billion.

Marin's First Army Reserve Center Opens

The first Army Reserve Center in Marin County has been opened at 46 Louise street, San Rafael.

The center is now recruiting men between 17 and 25 without military service who can fulfill their service obligations by enlisting in the reserve for eight years and serving six months at Fort Ord, beginning in August or September.

They will continue training with their local unit one night a week and 15 days each summer for three years. They will then be eligible for transfer to the standby reserve.

The first Marin County Army Reserve unit is Headquarters Company of the 362nd Basic Combat Training Regiment. Commanded by Col. John R. Martindale of Mill Valley, the unit has openings for men with earlier military service to continue paid training. Reservists receive a day's base pay for attending a two-hour drill.

The Reserve Center is open from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday, and from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday.

Questions On School Costs Being Answered Next Week

Yesterday in this space we noted the high cost of state government, particularly that 49.5 per cent of state government cost goes to education.

Slightly more than 50 per cent of your county tax dollar goes to schools as well, making education by far the most costly part of government today.

This is not necessarily bad. We can think of no way we'd rather spend our tax dollar than on the education of our youth, providing it is properly expended.

Next week you will have an opportunity to see how the schools are planning to spend your taxes. You will have an opportunity to speak out, and if you don't like the plans, you can ask for a change. If you have good reasons, you probably can get it too.

Under state regulation, every school district except one-teacher districts, of which there are six in Marin, must hold a public hearing on its budget during the first week in August. This includes elementary, high school and college districts.

That means that your districts, you're probably in two or three, will be opening their books for your perusal.

How much of the school budget goes to teachers' salaries?

How much to administration?

What does transportation cost?

How much for extra-curricular activities?

How much is being paid off on school bonds? On interest?

These are all fair questions and you should get the answers directly from your schools' trustees.

Trustees, incidentally, are distressed that more taxpayers don't attend their budget hearings. The Marin County Schools Board Association, an organization of all school boards in the county, is anxious to have you and is urging the public to attend.

These hard-working, non-paid men and women wish more of their fellow citizens would come in and see where the money goes. They would like to know where the public thinks savings could be made without harming the school program or where additional emphasis should be placed.

So next week is your opportunity to have a part in planning your own school districts' expenditures next year.

Find out where and when your particular meeting is going to be held (you'll find all the dates and times listed today on page 3?) and then be there to see for yourself.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

GIVE AS WELL AS TAKE

"What do you want out of life?" was the eye-catching caption in a recent bank advertisement.

In a bid for savings accounts, it advocated that individuals save for "That dream vacation, a new wardrobe, retirement years, a new house, a car or boat. Most anything, in fact."

It's natural to desire both the essentials and reasonable comforts of life. But it is important, too, to keep a healthy balance between "taking out" and putting in."

You have been delegated by God to make a unique contribution to life. It may seem insignificant to you. But if you recognize your divine mission, you find a deep and real joy in partaking of both the essentials and pleasures of life.

Seek in a Christ-like way to serve the best interests of others, especially those less fortunate than yourself. If you do, you will be making an investment that will endure for all eternity and bring endless peace and joy.

"The Son of man is not come to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a redemption for many."
(Matthew 20:28)

Old-Fashioned Grandfathers Are Hard To Find These Days

As a child I felt vaguely cheated by life because I had never known a grandpa.

One of my grandfathers was dead. The other dwelt all alone in faraway Ireland. Once he sent a photo of himself. It showed a misty-faced white-whiskered old man smoking a pipe as he sat on the doorstep of his small farm home.

Ever since then I have thought of him as Father Time. As a small boy, after being punished, I used to lie awake for hours at night wishing he were near so I could tell him my troubles.

In my mind's eye he was like the grandfather pictured sometimes on the cheap colored calendars the neighborhood grocer gave away free in good years.

It was Grandpa who stood as a kindly shield between a little boy and the rest of the adult world. It was Grandpa who took the boy fishing or gave him his first real knife.

Best of all, Grandpa never seemed so eternally busy with his own problems. That made him different from all other grownups. He always had time to pause to listen to a small boy's woes and answer his wondering questions, and tell strange and fascinating tales of how the world had been when he had been a small boy, too, ages and ages ago.

Whatever happened to that old-fashioned grandpa? If he still survives, he must be hiding in the small towns. You sure don't see him very often in the big city.

The Big-City grandpa has gone big time.

Grandpa wears a sport shirt instead of a cane. You don't find him hanging around a park playing checkers with old cronies. His game is gin rummy.

Grandpa cares more for an afternoon nip than an afternoon nap.

Does Grandpa love to babysit his grandchildren? Are you kidding? By day he is too busy taking hormone shots at the doctor's or chip shots on the golf course. At night he and Grandma are too busy doing the cha-cha.

WHO KEEPS THE night clubs going? It's foxy old Grandpa. Look at the dance floor of any good night club. For every teen-age lad you'll see five sprightly grandpas. Only Grandpa can foot the tariff.

I used to envy the kids who had an old-fashioned grandpa. Not any more. I've got a new ambition. Now I just want to become a modern-type grandpa myself — and really start living.

Please keep us posted on this importation (of 30,000 lambs from Australia). Anything that brings down or gives better value in meat prices will surely be welcome to us consumers, and it is to be hoped that special interests will not prevail against it.

Brown In Middle Of Butler-Johnson Scrap

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

He is trying to remain absolutely neutral in the hassle between Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, and Democratic leadership in Congress, notably Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Brown was thrown into the fight between the liberal and conservative wings of the party when he accepted an appointment to serve on the Democratic National Advisory Council (DAC).

The DAC is a policy-making group, appointed by the Democratic national committee and/or Butler.

ACTUALLY, GOVERNOR Brown accepted Butler's invitation to serve on the committee two months ago, long before Butler threw a few bricks in the general direction of Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas).

However, the announcement that Brown had accepted a DAC post was made by Butler at the height of the controversy between the national chairman and congressional leaders.

Simultaneously in Washington and in Sacramento statements of acceptance were issued, both quoting Brown.

The Washington statement quoted the governor as saying he deeply appreciated the invitation of Butler to serve on the DAC to "make the party more responsive to the desires and needs of the people."

SOME WASHINGTON pundits promptly said that the timing of Brown's acceptance and his quotes from the Washington release put out by Butler's office allied the California governor with Butler in his beef with Congressional Democrats.

However, the statement released by Brown's own office in Sacramento quoted the governor as saying he was confident "the Democratic Congress is putting together a comprehensive record of accomplishment."

This particular phrase was not in the release from Butler's office — and Washington columnists once again leaped to the conclusion that Brown was mad at Butler for editing his press release and lined him up on the side of Johnson and Rayburn.

Gov. Brown, finding himself on the spot with both sides, pleaded innocent.

"I am not taking any sides in the current fight," he said last week in Sacramento.

"I think Paul Butler has been a good national chairman and has fought hard for things I believe in. I also have great respect for Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"I wish," the governor added somewhat plaintively, "all our Democratic party leaders would fight Republican policies and not each other."

BROWN'S STAFF said the published reports of friction between Brown and Butler over the different wording of the press releases were ridiculous.

They explained that the release prepared by Brown's office here was not given to Butler and that the Washington release was prepared only after a telephone conference between Butler and Fred Dutton, Brown's executive secretary. Both releases, they said, accurately quoted the governor's views.

Brown must remain neutral in the controversy for one obvious reason — as a "favorite son" candidate for president next year and possibly a serious candidate for the top spot or second place on the ticket, he cannot afford to alienate either liberal or conservative wings of the party.

Praising Billboard Ban Enforcement

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Architectural Advisory Committee of the City of Mill Valley would like to publicly commend the district attorney and the Board of Supervisors in their decision to enforce the provisions of the County Zoning Ordinance relative to the removal of illegal advertising structures.

We would urge all individuals who believe in preserving Marin County against the continuing blight of the billboards, to write to their respective supervisors in support of their stand that the value of the beauty of Marin County to the many is worth more than its obliteration by the few.

Youths Had Glorious Time

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There is a sequel to my letter which you published on March 25.

"Big Daddy" Paul Hartman of Redwood Travel Advisors of San Rafael, brought the first group of Young America Tours safely home to roost on July 22 after their 30 gloriously exciting days came to an end with all acclaiming its historical and educational value.

Truly the phrase "See and Know America First" made one swell with pride after hearing my son's day-by-day and blow-by-blow account of his tour on the evening of his return.

I am sure that because he made the trip he will appreciate and become a better informed young citizen of this great country of ours.

A buxom driver became involved in a minor accident and had a few million words to say about it to the motorcycle cop who drove up to investigate. "Yes, yes," the cop intrupted her harangue, "but tell me this: Did you manage to take down the other car's license number?"

"Did I!" crowed the mad madam — and whipped out a battered license plate for his approval.

That Beautiful Autumn-Hued Plant Can Land You In Hospital

That shining broad-leafed plant that develops lovely autumn-like hues is a beautiful production of nature — but many a weekend flower gatherer has wound up in the hospital after picking it for table decorations.

Poison oak is truly a scourge in Marin, as Supervisor Vera Schultz said at a recent meeting of the County Board of Supervisors. She wanted to know if there is some way it could be controlled.

SOMETHING IN the nature of a countywide (for the unincorporated area) poison oak abatement district was suggested, and Supervisor Walter Castro said that if such a district were set up, poison oak probably would be controlled within a couple of years.

It is doubtful, however, that the supervisors, charged as they are with watching where the tax money goes, would initiate such an expensive undertaking.

There is a county ordinance that names certain kinds of noxious thistles that must be put under control. Under the ordinance County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Peryam can declare that these thistles or any other noxious weeds are detrimental to agriculture. He must have the approval of the state director of agriculture.

But the ordinance does not direct him to rid the county of poison oak.

THE TROUBLE with an ordinance that would kill off this pernicious pest throughout the county, Supervisor William D. Fusselman has pointed out, that it would affect both urban and farm areas.

While the law might be a good one for suburban but unincorporated areas, it would work a hardship on farmers and ranchers. The intent of such a law would be to order residents to clear out poison oak and if this were not done, the county would clear it up and charge for the work.

THIS IS SIMILAR to city ordinances that require that vacant lots be cleared of debris and fire hazard materials. In the case of an abatement district, county residents would pay a tax.

If residents were told to clear off lands or pay the county to have it done, farmers and ranchers would be put to quite an expense.

Another solution would be to form special districts in urban areas. This again is impractical and complicated.

Peryam said that his office, in its program to clear weeds from roadsides, has sprayed poison oak with a substance that controls growth. The spraying is usually done along county roads where children must walk to school buses, but not in urban areas.

THE SPRAY ALSO kills other broadleaf plants, Peryam said, and in urban areas this would be costly and time-consuming because the slightest wind might carry the spray into private gardens.

Peryam said civic groups, such as women's clubs, have carried on successful campaigns against poison oak.

And he suggests this might be a good way to take action now—the formation of volunteer groups to enlist the labor of their neighbors, and conduct fund-raising campaigns to pay for spray.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Next Political Era Progressive But Can Be On Conservative Principles

How would you like a political forecast for the next eight or 10 years? Not a prediction of who will be president or which party will control Congress, but a preview of the political climate, the political problems, and the trend of the political answers?

This is what Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., has recently submitted, in the form of a most stimulating memorandum, to the New York Committee for the Democratic Advisory Council.

IT WOULD BE idle to dismiss lightly Schlesinger's forecast of the shape of things soon to come. His views will strike a responsive chord with many people and they need to be looked at understandingly. The three principal propositions in his memorandum are these:

That the "Eisenhower epoch" — the "swing to conservatism" — is drawing to its "natural end" in light of the "rhythm" of political change in the U. S.

That the new political epoch to be ushered in by the 1960 election will not resemble the New Deal, which took its special character from the depression, so much as it will the progressive period of the turn of the century.

That it is uncertain which party will be the instrument of the New Progressivism; that it might well be the Republican party under Nelson Rockefeller and that it won't be the Democratic party "if the Democrats are foolish enough to expect to inherit by default."

SCHLESINGER ARGUES that the great difference between the politics of the Sixties and the politics of the Thirties will be that, while the New Deal dealt with the problems of subsistence and survival, the New Progressivism will deal with how to improve the "quality" of life of the American people.

He sees such concrete issues as these most likely to preoccupy us during the next decade:

Improvement of Community Facilities — cities, suburbs slum clearance, better housing, urban renewal, etc.; revitalizing our educational system; improving medical care and care for aged; equal rights for minorities; development of natural resources; control of inflation; improvement of social security; elevation of popular culture; adequate foreign aid; prosecution of our weapons effort.

IN A WORD, Schlesinger is talking about the goal of a more hopeful future in this high-technology world and he suggests that if we can achieve a 4.5 per cent rate of annual economic growth, "we can give the public sector of our economy what it needs without substantial increase in taxation."

My own guess is that any change in the political consensus next year will be leftward, particularly since, as I see it, either Nixon or Rockefeller would be less "conservative" than Eisenhower.

THE REASON I put quotes around conservative is that it needs to be understood that progressive and conservative ideas do not necessarily conflict, that a progressive era of political action need not necessarily violate conservative principles. The best example is Theodore Roosevelt, whom Schlesinger cites as the first great figure of the old Progressive movement.

A conservatism which uses conservative principles to deal with the nation's problems rather than to neglect them would be a haven for a progressive. And I am convinced that if the post-Eisenhower leadership of the Republican party does not show that it is intent upon dealing with the problems Schlesinger has cited, the voters will choose the Democratic party to do so.

MMWD Considers Youth Camp Plan

The proposal of a forestry camp for Marin's juvenile law breakers got a first hearing before the directors of the Marin Municipal Water District, on whose watershed the county proposed to locate the camp, and an inconclusive reaction.

The directors decided that the proposed site next to Kent Lake was too close to the lake to protect the district's water supply adequately, reported William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer.

He said the water district directors would be willing to consider a different site for the camp.

"The next move depends on the county board of supervisors," Seegar said.

Donald A. Jensen and Alan Bruce, county administrator and his assistant, presented the county's plan to the water district directors at their Wednesday night meeting.

MT. WHITNEY'S A MESS, SO CLEANUP SET

LONE PINE (AP)—Mt. Whitney is a mess.

"There are tons of tin cans and litter up there," says Tom Hunt of Covina, spokesman for the Sierra Club Angeles Chapter. "So we're going to climb the peak—and clean it, too."

The 30-member expedition will climb and clean Aug. 8-16. Mt. Whitney, highest spot in California, towers 14,495 feet.

Hollis May Nominate New Assistant Monday

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis may have a nominee for the job of assistant superintendent for business services to propose to the Marin County Board of Education when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday at 317 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Hollis said he had interviewed eight candidates, all of whom are acceptable to him, but needs the recommendation of an advisory committee headed by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais Union High School District before making a final selection.

The county superintendent also is in the process of interviewing 15 persons suggested as possible replacements for W. P. (Doc) Duhamel on the San Anselmo School District board.

He said he was certain to have a recommendation for this vacancy at Monday night's meeting.

Also on the agenda is an appeal from R. B. Hay of Chileno Valley road in Northern Marin, who wants an interdistrict agreement so that his children may attend Petaluma schools. Earlier this year he was denied annexation to accomplish the same purpose.

Dr. Hollis said 1,000 copies of Volume 1 of the county's new course of study for elementary grades would be ready from the printer by Monday's meeting. In addition, 500 copies each of Volumes 2 and 3 have been multilithed in the county schools office so that all three volumes will be available for teachers' meetings to precede the opening of school next month, he reported.

Taxpayers Feel Steel Strike Pinch

It has taken several forms: relief money, unemployment compensation and surplus food.

The cost to the federal government alone is expected to reach 45 million dollars a week if the strike continues much longer.

In many states there has been a gradual increase in the number of persons applying for relief money and unemployment compensation as the strike has idled about 85,000 workers in allied industries.

Also on the upswing are applications for free government foods, such as flour, corn meal, powdered milk and rice.

STEEL WALKOUT

Union Might Welcome U.S. Intervention

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the steel union has indicated it would welcome increased federal participation in efforts to settle the nationwide steel industry strike.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said: "In view of the size and complexity of the steel industry, I don't see how the government can help but become involved in something as important as a steel strike."

McDonald's remark, made at a news conference yesterday, was interpreted in some quarters as an expression of hope that the government would intervene directly in the 17-day-old strike.

As the steel deadlock continued, further progress was made in averting scattered strikes in some segments of the aluminum industry.

Negotiations continue today in efforts to prevent a strike at midnight by the Aluminum Workers International Union against the Reynolds Metals Co. The talks went on until last midnight, with federal mediators sitting in.

Matt Davis, an international vice president of the union, said the main issue in dispute is working conditions at Reynolds plants in Virginia, Alabama and Kentucky.

Compromise Military Fund Bill Includes Sum For A-Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds for the start of a second big nuclear aircraft carrier have been included in a bill providing just under 40 billion dollars for U.S. armed forces this fiscal year.

The compromise bill worked out yesterday by Senate-House and Senate approval. It adds up to about the total President Eisenhower asked—39¼ billion dollars in new funds plus transfer authority of more than 400 million previously voted by Congress.

The measure carries an extra 45 million dollars to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men. The administration proposed a 175,000-man ceiling. An additional 170 million was provided to hold Army Reserves at 300,000 men and the Army National Guard at 400,000—10 per cent above the total asked by the Pentagon.

The Senate had voted 380 million dollars for the full cost of the nuclear carrier. The House provided no funds for it. The conferees agreed on 35 million.

At least 30 disease germs are carried by houseflies. Among them are the organisms that cause tuberculosis, typhoid fever, cholera, yaws, ad trachoma.

Ten Still Hospitalized, One Critical, After Train Mishap

MENOMONIE, Wis. (UPI)—Ten persons still were hospitalized today with injuries received when a speeding passenger train derailed at the edge of a 100-foot cliff.

At least 100 persons were injured in all, many of them children returning home from summer camps. Forty-seven persons were taken to Menomonie Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Risskin, 78, Chicago, was in critical condition. She received only bruises but suffered a heart attack on the way to Menomonie Hospital.

Some crew members said they felt a bump just before the accident.

U.S. Judge Delays Desegregation Ruling In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Negro attorneys pondered ways today to overcome a federal judge's refusal to order immediate desegregation of Dallas public schools or set up any sort of integration timetable.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, 82, advised the school board to "put your house in order for integration" and postponed a final ruling until "closer to the fall of 1960."

He said he felt his decision was to the "best interest of all" and remarked that the U.S. Supreme Court "has us (the South) over a barrel."

Giants Really Give Foes 'The Willies'

Willie Mays. Willie Kirkland. And now—Willie McCovey!

McCovey, a 21-year-old rookie, came up from Phoenix and slammed two triples and two singles off Robin Roberts yesterday in a sensational major league debut with San Francisco. His performance sparked the Giants to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia and snapped a four-game Giant losing streak.

"I've never seen anyone break into the big leagues and hit the ball like that," chuckled Giant Manager Bill Rigney.

In the fourth, the Mobile, Ala., Negro crashed a Roberts' high fast ball to the centerfield scoreboard for a triple and scored the Giants' second run on an error at the plate.

In the fifth, the new Giant first sacker bounced a Roberts' fast ball so hard off the right field wall 340 feet away that he had to settle for a single, although it scored Mays.

On his fourth time up in the seventh, he ripped an outside fast ball for a triple to score Mays who had doubled.

Afield in Seals Stadium, where ocean breezes do tricks to fly balls, McCovey handled three pop flies expertly and was on the end of a double play.

"It was the greatest thrill of my life," grinned McCovey as he slumped his weary body on a dressing room bench.

McCovey's performance appeared to key up the other Giants. The last place Phillies had knocked the Giants out of the National League lead. Mays, who had fallen below .300, banged out two hits and walked in five times.

Orlando Cepeda, the Giants' Rookie of the Year 1958 and recent all-star game ace, was shifted from first to third to make room for McCovey. Third sacker Jim Davenport was benched.

Wednesday night McCovey had played at Phoenix. Just before he left the ball park, he got a telephone call to rush to San Francisco along with another Phoenix sensation, infielder Jose Pagan. The Giants sent shortstop Andre Rodgers to Phoenix in the trade. They also first planned to send Felipe Alou, but changed their minds.

Quality '5' Wins Cage Forfeit

Cox and Company, the Drake Benchwarmers and Quality Liquors were winners of last night's games in the Drake Summer Recreation Basketball League.

The Quality team from Fairfax won its game the easy way, a forfeit over Giacomini Cagers, but the other victors had to struggle for their triumphs.

Chet Carlisle, superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District, and Cal Riemcke, basketball coach at College of Marin, scored 11 and 10 points, respectively, to pace the Benchwarmers to a 43-41 edge over Pinky's Pizza Parlor. The losers were kept in contention throughout the game by Claude Curley who tanked 19 markers.

Bill Gallagher potted 18 digits in the Cox team's 48-44 win over Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop. Ken Anderson's 10 points led the losers.

Wrist Broken In Fall

Six-year-old Chip English of 18 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, Ross, was taken to Ross General Hospital with a broken left wrist suffered in a fall while she was playing on the lawn of her home at 8:15 p.m. yesterday.

Pony Champs Play In Hub Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the San Anselmo Recreation Park will see a clash between the championship Pony League teams of Booth and Little Roofers of San Anselmo and the Vallejo Merchants of Vallejo.

On the mound for San Anselmo will be the star sensational pitcher of the San Anselmo Pony League, Chuck Reindollar, who broke all park records with nine wins and one loss, four no-hit games, and 13 home runs, eight over the previous park record of five, formerly held by Bill Collins.

Sausalito Tennis Resumes Tomorrow

Kathy Fickert and Theresa Puharich advanced Wednesday into the second round if girls' play in the Sausalito Beginners Tennis Tournament. Kathy blanked Chris Pera, 6-0, while Theresa edged Kathy's younger sister, Marsha, 6-4.

Play will continue tomorrow at Richardson Bay School, beginning at 9:45 a.m., in both boys' and girls' divisions.

According to John Minton, director of the city's summer tennis program, sign-ups will also be accepted tomorrow morning for the city-wide junior tournament.

Sixto To Sue Bowdry For Walkout

The nation's No. 4 light heavyweight contender, Jess Bowdry, ran out on a fight at curtain time last night. He was suspended.

Today he was threatened with lawsuits to reimburse the promoter and his scheduled opponent, Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo, for their expenses.

The 60-day suspension was automatic.

Bowdry appeared at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium a few minutes before time for the first of the evening's scheduled six fights. He presumably learned only then that the California Athletic Commission in mid-afternoon had refused to license one of his co-managers, Bernie Glickman.

Bowdry, from St. Louis, said he wouldn't fight without Glickman in his corner.

So promoter Bennie Ford had the ring announcer tell the fans the entire card was cancelled and they could cash in their tickets at the box office. The fans, still arriving and estimated at perhaps 1,000, exhausted the funds on hand and some will have to collect today or later.

Jack Urch, executive officer of the athletic commission, said Glickman didn't even come to California until Wednesday and didn't apply for a license until 3 p.m. yesterday. He said two witnesses at recent California commission hearings into possible underworld influence on boxing testified Glickman and co-manager Eddie Yawitz associated with Frankie Carbo, eastern underworld figure who is under investigation in New York.

California commissioners held a telephone conference and refused to license Glickman pending an investigation. Yawitz did not come to California and has not applied for a license.

"It is not our desire to punish any fighter because of his manager's action," Urch said. "But the state Legislature told us not to license anybody under investigation by the attorney general or the commission.

"In view of the testimony linking them with Carbo, we can't permit them to be licensed until they are investigated."

Urch said Glickman, a Chicagoan, might appear before the commission Sept. 19. Yawitz, of St. Louis, has indicated no interest in a California license.

Karl Ashley, of San Anselmo, Rodriguez' manager, said he would sue Bowdry for loss of purse and reimbursement of training expenses. He said the unranked San Anselmo fighter laid off work on a $150 a week job three weeks to train, had to pay sparring partners and had other expenses.

Sixto was to have received 17½ per cent of the net gate. Ford said sales were $2,600 at noon and hundreds were at the box office when the fight was cancelled.

Ford said he instructed his attorney, Nate Cohn, to sue for loss of all promotional expenses and potential profit. He said Bowdry's camp had received four round trip plane tickets worth about $1,000 and an advance of $200. He reported other expenses include at least $400 for rent—the minimum on a sliding scale; $1,500 for ushers and other employees and such promotional items as advertising and tickets.

S.R. Pony League Tourney Starts

San Rafael Pony League, which began a successful season June 1, will close out its 1959 season this weekend with a round robin tournament scheduled at Albert Field.

Double-headers tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday night starting at 6 and 8:15 o'clock are on the schedule. Public is invited free of charge.

Brown Ely Co. won the Senior Division (age 15-16) with 12 victories and three defeats while the Native Sons and Optimists shared the Junior Division (13-14 years old) each with 10 wins, 3 losses and 2 ties.

play in the majors," McCovey said, "but I didn't expect to come up in the middle of the season."

When he voiced the opinion that Roberts didn't look much tougher than some of the Pacific Coast League pitchers he had faced, Kirkland leaned over and warned:

"You'd better just say you were lucky today."

Today, somebody said, he's facing Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix.

"He don't scare me," the rookie said. It wasn't a boast. Just confidence.

49ers Get New End Prospect, But Lose A Tackle

MORAGA (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers lost a rookie tackle and picked up an end prospect yesterday.

Wally Bavaro from Holy Cross, the pro footballers' sixth draft choice, decided to give up the game this year because of a weak ankle. The 6-foot-4, 240-pounder may return next season.

Burney McQueen, 6-3, 200-pound offensive end from North Carolina A & T was drafted by the 49ers, but went to Edmonton in the Canadian League instead. He was released and asked the 49ers for a trial. He's getting it.

The length of Afghanistan is about 600 miles, containing about 250,000 square miles of mountains and fertile valleys.

Greatest, Closest Tourney Predicted In PGA Scramble

After the first-round firing over the long, tough 6,580-yard Minneapolis club course, there were nine players tied for the lead with one-under-par 69's, nine more players at even par 70, eight at 71, another 15 at 72, and 14 at 73.

No tournament in a decade has seen the players so closely bunched after the end of the first round. And all of those pros who figured to win were within shooting distance of the top.

Casper and Souchak came in early with 69's and then every half hour the list grew until it included former PGA Champion Walter Burkemo, little Jerry Barber, long-hitting Mike Krak, 23-year-old Dick Hart, veterans Chuck Klein and Jackson Bradley and Gene Littler, who is showing signs of finally living up to the predictions that he would become a second Ben Hogan.

And the rest of the who's who in America's golfing world were breathing down the leaders' neck.

Such threats as Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert were in the 72 bracket while five former PGA champions were in the 73 group. They were 57-year-old Gene Sarazen, who first won this event 37 years ago; Jim Turnesa, Chandler Harper, Jim Ferrier and Chick Harbert. With them were Claude Harmon, Don January and former U.S. Open king Dick Mayer, among others.

LEN MATTHEWS, McFARLAND IN TV GO TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson is due to climb through the ring ropes tonight, but only as a second.

The middleweight champion (in some states) will work with his Philadelphia protege, Canday McFarland, against Len Matthews, another Philadelphia boy, in Madison Square Garden. The bout will be nationally-televised and broadcast (NBC) starting at 7 p.m. PDT.

Although Matthews, only 20, was stopped by Carlos Ortiz in six rounds April 13, there is talk of matching him with lightweight champion Joe Brown in a September match in Philadelphia.

Matthews, beaten only twice in 21 pro starts, has suffered both defeats this year.

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (UPI) — Students at Gallia Academy High School will be able to strut to school when they see an "honor flag" flying from a flagpole in front of the schoolhouse.

The flag, purchased by the student council, will be unfurled whenever a pupil wins a scholarship test, a club takes an honor or an athletic team brings home a victory.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Dodgers Will Win N.L., Says Ashburn

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Before the Phillies moved on their way last night, Richie Ashburn admitted he was not much of a prophet, but when pressed to pick the National League's 1959 winner he ventured the opinion the Dodgers would take it all.

"There are four or five teams up there now," said the Philly center fielder who was last year's batting champ.

The towhead smiled, hesitated only a moment, and said:

"Well, the Dodgers. We haven't beaten them once in the Coliseum. I believe they have the best record of any team against us. They have fine pitching and they're hitting too.

"Anyone of the teams bunched up front now could do it, but I guess I lean toward the Dodgers because of our record against them in that ball park down south.

"That is a bad ball park, incidentally. When the second All-Star game is played there, all the TV viewers who watch the game will see for themselves just how bad it is."

AS THE Giants discovered in the three-game series with the Phillies, the red-capped men from Philadelphia are going to be tough from now on.

"We've been getting some good pitching," said Ashburn. "We're not going to be easy for any team. The same goes for Cincinnati. The Redlegs are no pushover."

Ashburn believes 90 games will be enough to win the pennant, "Maybe 91." He does not hold with some prophets who think the winner might slide in with as low as 88.

Ashburn also believes that the tight race is going to see-saw some more before any team pulls away from the pack.

"IF ONE of those first division teams did get hot they could put a pretty good clamp on the pennant," he said. "But none has been able to do it yet. Look at the Braves. They dropped seven in a row."

Ashburn put in a plug for Willie Mays and expressed surprise that some Seals Stadium fans ride the $80,000 center fielder.

"Why do the fans here get on Willie?" he asked. "He's one of the greatest. That was a tough break for him the other night. I was lucky on that double. But the sonofagun has robbed me of so many hits that I was glad to take that one.

"I know it's been said before but it's a fact: Willie beats you so many ways."

In the deepest batting slump he's been in for some time, Mays has Asburn's sympathy. He is just emerging from one of his own and "they are mighty depressing."

Eddie Sawyer, the Phillies' erudite manager, made an observation that others have made about Mays' slump.

"He's swinging too hard," said the quiet-spoken ex-college professor.

Nat'l Headquarters Denies Novato Li'l League Protest

Marin County's Little League playoffs hit a sour note last night at Novato when a San Rafael American League 2-1 victory was protested by the Novato All-Stars.

However, Tournament Director Tom King denied the protest and was supported this morning by national headquarters in Williamsport, Pa.

Immediately after San Rafael pitcher Mark Maas retired the last Novato batter on a strikeout, the Novato manager, Edwin Hale, registered a protest because he declared a San Rafael player was "ineligible."

The player involved, Barry Hachmeyer, is a resident of Novato and is ineligible to play for San Rafael, Hale declared. King explained that Hachmeyer started his Little League career in San Rafael four years ago, but since has moved to Novato. The tournament director said: "The San Rafael league has the right to retain him" under National Little League rules. After denying the protest last night, King telephoned Little League Secretary Albert Houghton in Williamsport this morning. "He supported my ruling," said King, "and told me that 'Those games are to be won on the playing field, not by protest.'"

Thus, San Rafael's 2-1 victory stands and sends the American Leaguers into the semi-finals tonight against Gallinas Valley at Novato field starting at 6:15 o'clock. The other semi-final game matches Twin Cities against the Mill Valley National League at Twin Cities, also at 6:15.

The winner of tonight's games will play for the District 3 championship tomorrow, 3:30 at Novat. The losers tonight will battle for third place tomorrow at 1:15 as a preliminary to the championship game.

Last night's thriller at Novato was not decided until the first half of the sixth inning when Jim Kilgore opened the inning with a double, was singled along to third by Jim May and then scored the winning run when a grounder to shortstop by Glen Corona was erred.

Novato's George Scherba opened the bottom of the sixth with a double, but died there when Maas got the next batter on a ground out and then struck out the last two batters. Maas pitched a three-hitter and losing hurler Chuck Overmyer gave up five hits.

In the other quarter-final games Steven Fisher hit a home run to pace Gallinas Valley to a 5-1 win over Marinwood, whose only run came on Brian Whaite's homer; Bob Campagna struck out 13 in hurling the Mill Valley Nationals to a 3-2 win over the crosstown American Leaguers and Twin Cities belted Sausalito, 12-4.

All-Class Regatta Set This Weekend

By ALFRED MATSON

After a five-week vacation the yachtsmen will return to class tomorrow and Sunday as a furtherance to their knowledge of racing in the popular All-Class Regatta. The two-day event, sanctioned by the Yacht Racing Assn., is confined to boats of class designation only, which bespeaks the shabby pun in the foregoing.

The growth of class racing in the past few years has been meteoric. There will be 23 starts in each series of races for an equal number of classes as sanctioned by the YRA. A class to rate such distinction must comprise a minimum of five boats of presumably identical measurement and if in any two races during a season less than three boats participate it will no longer be considered as an identity. The yachts involved will be assigned to one of the handicap divisions.

The weekend of racing will feature the usual channel courses and all starts will be off the St. Francis Yacht Club. First starting gun will be at 10:30 a.m. and will continue at five minute intervals until 12:20 p.m. when the last contingent will be sent on its way.

| Class | Time | Course |
|---|---|---|
| Rhodes | 10:30 | 9 |
| International One Design | 10:35 | A |
| Farallone Clipper | 10:40 | 1 |
| Yankee | 10:45 | 1 |
| Spaulding 33 | 10:50 | 1 |

| Frisco Flyer | 12:10 | 2 |
| Teak Lady | 12:15 | 7 |
| King's Cruiser | 12:20 | 2 |

TODAY THE International Mercury Championship classic will come down to the finish line with the final contest of the five-race series. From the status of the top contenders at the conclusion of the fourth race, today's set-to will determine the crown bearer for 1959.

THIRD & IRWIN STS. — OPEN NIGHTS and SUNDAYS — SAN RAFAEL, GL 3-4220

'PREVIEW OF AUTUMN' will be the theme for the third Northgate Luncheon series to be held on Wednesday, Aug. 5 at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Sponsors for the event will be the Social Service and Junior Social Service Auxiliaries. Working on the event is Mrs. Henry Hillebrand III, standing, Junior chairman, and seated, Mrs. Carl S. Brown, decorating chairman.

School Announces Fall Registration

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School announces that fall registration for pre-school children and their parents is now open.

The school, sponsored by the College of Marin's adult education program, emphasizes a study program of child development and behavior. Dr. Samuel Le Count, head of adult education, says that he is pleased to work with mothers to provide a sound parent education program for the Mill Valley area. He announced that a new director, Mrs. Arthur Seibert, has been named.

Mrs. Seibert has had several years' experience as a participating parent in the school, and last year served as a substitute teacher. She has just completed a course in nursery school techniques and activities at San Francisco State College.

Mrs. Seibert states that she plans to revise the entire curriculum of the school in order to provide more stimulating and enjoyable programs for parents and children.

The parent group meets Monday nights under the direction of the teacher at study workshops designed to help the parents understand their children's needs and growth in creative activities and group play, as well as the parent-child relationship.

Each mother participates one morning a week as a mother-teacher helping the director to organize and supervise the children's program. This includes art work, block building, story time, music and outdoor "muscle" activities.

The school will be in session five mornings a week at Almonte Hall, Lavender lane and Wisteria, Mill Valley.

Children over two years and nine months are eligible. Interested parents are urged to contact for future information about the school membership chairman Mrs. Jerome Jacobson, 540 Browning, Mill Valley.

SOCIAL SERVICE

'Preview Of Autumn' Northgate Theme

The third of the Marin Art and Garden Centers Northgate Group summer luncheon and fashion show is being sponsored by the Social Service and Junior Social Service Auxiliaries. The date is Aug. 5 at 12:30 o'clock.

Chairman for the Social Service is Mrs. John G. Buresh. The model chairman is Mrs. Hugh Allen. For her models she has chosen Mesdames Howard P. Haswell, Edward Grady, John B. DeMaria, Alfred J. Oyster Jr., John O'Connell, and Frank Duhme. The waitress chairman is Mrs. James Ringrose Jr. Serving will be the Mesdames John Emos, Lawrence Murray, William Upton, John Clancy, Oliver Olson, Alexander Eagle, Robert Poeschl, Roy Pasqualetti and John Borzini. Her decorating chairman is Mrs. Carl S. Brown, who has on her committee Mesdames Victor Earll, Edward Roddy and Roy Pasqualetti.

Chairman for the Junior Social Service is Mrs. Henry Hillebrand III and in her group of volunteers are: Mrs. Eugene Aureguy, model chairman. Modeling for the Juniors will be Mesdames William Parnow, William Donohoe, James Bowler, Luciano Sabella, J. Paul Limont, and Gottfried Rolly. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Ben Parker and helping her is Mrs. Charles Spongberg and Mrs. Aloysius Nathe.

"Preview of Autumn" will be the theme of the newest in autumn fashions to be shown. The commentators will be Marion Bellamy and Arthur Edwards.

A novel feature of the luncheon is that baby-sitting will be provided during the fashion show by the Pixie Parent group from 12 to 3 p.m. A small charge will be made. Mothers interested in this service are asked to notify the Center at the same time they make their luncheon reservations.

Mrs. Fred Buscher has assumed the chairmanship of waitresses for this Junior Social Service Auxiliary's summer luncheon and fashion show. The Juniors who will help serve are Mesdames Rome Brusati, Gima John Sessi, Richard Marowitz, Donald Dalpino, Robert Golcher, William Slocum, Bowman Pollock, Mario Brenta, Emil Bettini, Louis Castellani, Rolfe Crocker and Thomas Stahlbaum.

Mrs. Lanus Feted By Shop Board

Honored guest at a party given by the Governing Board of the Village Salvage Shop on Tuesday was Mrs. Carl Lanus, shop manager, who is moving shortly to Sonoma County.

At the luncheon, which was held at the Lagoon home of Mrs. John Ericson, chairman of the board, Mrs. Lanus was presented with a chafing dish to be used in her new home.

Mrs. Lanus has been manager of the shop for several years. No successor has been named.

Invited to attend were members of the management committee which has worked with Mrs. Lanus weekly in sorting and pricing the merchandise which is contributed to the shop. They are Mesdames Charles Kircher, Wesley Costello, Joe Johnson and Victor Avilla. Past members of the board included were Mesdames Robert Bastian, H. F. Green, George McKegney and James Wilson who was at one time chairman of the governing board.

Sunny Note

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Take the sun gradually to avoid drying-out precious oils in both your skin and hair," suggests Ellen Noreen Baum, beauty expert.

"A little prevention goes a long way," she said, "so be sure to take along a bottle of sun lotion and a scarf for your hair on every beach outing."

John Finns III Party Hosts To Accountants

Mr. and Mrs. John Finn III of Mill Valley entertained recently at a cocktail party for 40 officers and members of the North Bay Chapter of the Society of California accountants. Finn was installed president of the chapter last week.

Present were Irving Rosen, immediate past president of the Society, and Mrs. Rosen of San Francisco; Gordon Graham, district governor of the state society, and Mrs. Graham of Oakland, and George Menzel of Daly City, district director.

Among those attending from Marin County were Messrs. and Mesdames Roland Hellman and Peter J. Wikel, all of San Rafael.

Afterward the group went to a restaurant for dinner.

Mrs. Finn was also hostess recently at an informal gathering for luncheon, swimming and bridge of a few members of the Rector's Guild of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour. Most of the members are out of town on vacation.

Solos Form Program Of Junior Music Club

Tamelpa NDGW President Lists Committee Heads

Newly installed president Mrs. John Guth of Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor 231, Native Daughters of the Golden West, has announced her committee chairmen for her term of office.

They are Mesdames Anthony Damazio, Lloyd Canham and Francis Doyle, visiting committee; Ambrose Polacchi, Americanism and civic participation; Jean Stinchcomb, press book; Beatrice Allumbaugh, publicity; Cornelia Brunette, history and landmarks; Thomas McKeon and Fred Brusati, children's foundation; Arthur Langhoff, Native Daughters of the Golden West home.

Edward Kraft, pioneer roster; G. W. Meierdierks, conservation; Brusati, California Herald magazine; Canham, safety; Damazio, Kraft, Brusati and Doyle, legislation and bylaws; Polacchi, welfare and philanthrophy; Robert Campagna, mission restoration; Doyle, membership; Campagna, gifts.

Edward Clinton, Alva Smith, Marjory Foster, Olga Tupper and Meierdierks, escorts; McKeon and Dunne Spayd, sunshine; Canham and Smith, decorative specials; Joyce Lawler and Miss Betty Crawley, and Mesdames Smith, Malcom Piper, Canham and Langhoff, special events.

Plans were made for a float to be in the Admission Day parade Sept. 9 at Santa Rosa, in which Native Sons and Daughters will take part.

A scrapbook of activities of the parlor's activities during the term of office of past president Miss Crawley was presented to her by Mrs. Guth. It was compiled by Mrs. Piper.

Short-Cut

DETROIT (UPI) — Install a combination washer-dryer on the second floor of your home, rather than in the basement. With the laundry center close to bedrooms, where soiled linen originates, you'll cut needless stair-climbing.

Also, with a modern combination unit, you can do the laundry in small batches at convenient times and possibly bypass the all-day washing chore, said Carl Sundberg, partner in a Detroit industrial design firm specializing in appliances.

Authority Says Junior's Strokes On Wallpaper Mark Of Talent

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Junior's strokes across the wallpaper are the strokes of creative talent. So encourage the child's creativity—don't "cripple" it—even as you mop up signs of small artist at work.

"The best art materials are the messiest," said Dr. Howard Conant, re-affirming what every mother knows.

Conant, a native of Wisconsin and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is an abstractionist who works in oils, has two children following in father's artistic footsteps, is chairman of art education at New York University, and director of the newly-organized Children's Creative Art Foundation.

Lest he be misunderstood, Conant does not advocate the use of walls as easels. Rather, he believes the walls and floors will escape if a child is given a place of his own for painting, with the materials always at hand—in his room, the den, the basement playroom. Even turn him loose in a warmed bathtub.

"The bathtub is practical," said Conant, "Because you can wash the child and the spilled colors at the same time.

"But we've never had any trouble with our children and walls, because they have a place of their own to paint. They work right alongside me in the basement studio."

Because he believes that expression of childish imagination should not be "crippled," he opposed parents purchasing "stereotyped" art materials — these, he said, include those painting-by-numbers sets, the coloring books, the drawing books which encourage a child to trace the work of others.

Conant argues that these leave no room for a child's own ability—"Children possess art ability as a birthright, and with the proper guidance it can be developed," he said.

He believes parents should encourage creativity as soon as a child can and wants to hold a brush or squeeze modeling clay—nine months to a year. And even tots can be trusted with paints—"if mother will be patient enough to clean up later."

Conant advises children be given tempera or poster paints, a brush, and large (12 by 18 or 18 by 24 inch) inexpensive sheets of manila paper as a starter. The parents might include moist modeling clay and crayon, although he said crayons call for more muscular coordination than most tots have.

"Good play often is messy play," said Conant. "But it is a case of what the parent and teacher want—the most for the child or the least for the child.

"Everything in life tends to shape up to conformity. I would rather my children developed into individuals with problems than into well-adujusted little robots.

"Recently I've been re-reading American history . . . I believe what our forefathers were saying was that the individual personality is important . . . this was the Yankee spirit."

Conant says that the child whose "birthright" is not encouraged just "gives up" by the time he is eight, nine or 10. But often, the creative urge is revived in later life — that is why, he said, "the museums are crowded . . . why adult education courses in art are full; an estimated 10 million are enrolled in art study.

"That is why also we have the painting hobbyists — President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill and Grandma Moses

CUTTING THE CAKE at their reception at the San Rafael Improvement Club which followed their recent marriage in the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo are Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cain. The bride is the former Eleanore Anna Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc A. Truitt of Fairfax.

IN SAN ANSELMO

Eleanore Roberts Weds Edward Cain

White tapers and white gladioli were at the altar of the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo for the recent wedding of Eleanore Anna Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc A. Truitt of Fairfax and Edward M. Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cain of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned with scalloped neckline, basque bodice and long sleeves. Diamond shaped inserts of nylon tulle circled the skirt with Chantilly lace accents. Her veil of French illusion was held by a coronet of lace, sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia.

Carol M. Parisi of Fairfax, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina gown of pink chiffon styled with a shirred bodice, and chiffon train for back detail. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore pink satin shoes. Her headdress was a bandeau of pink net and flowers with fingertip veil.

Bridesmaids were Frances Brett of Fairfax; Paula Hetzner of San Anselmo, Jackie Coffeey and Karen Dunning, both of San Anselmo. Two were gowned in yellow chiffon and two wore blue. They had matching satin shoes, headdresses and carnation bouquets.

Little Marilyn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller of Fairfax, as flower girl, wore an orchid nylon dress and had white flowers in her hair.

Keith Thompson of San Anselmo was best man and ushers were John Roberts, the bride's brother, of Fairfax; Byron Beckstron and Marc Mertrude, both of San Rafael, and Art Olen of Fairfax.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Truitt wore a beige dress with Chantilly lace, beige and brown hat and pink accessories. She had an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is the sister of John Roberts of Fairfax and Mrs. J. L. Keen of Oceanside, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sanders of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Alan Dodd of Anaconda, Montana are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. He is employed with Pacific Telephone in San Rafael.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Morgenstern of Allentown, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunter of Nashville, Tenn.

Airline Adopts Bermudas As New Official Uniform

By GAY PAULEY

The first airline stewardess to don the Bermudas as an official uniform dropped by our office today to announce that shorts are more comfortable than suits aloft and she hasn't been pinched yet by an ardent male.

The stewardess is Carolyn Cameron, a native of Douglaston, New Brunswick, Canada, and cute enough to stop traffic anywhere. She has been a stewardess for Eagle Airways for 10 months; a wearer of the new shorts uniform for two weeks.

"The first flight (from Bermuda to Nassau) was the hardest," said the freckle-faced, 110-pound stewardess. "One look at my knees and I thought, 'Oh, I need more suntan.'"

Not all of Eagle's stewardesses have converted, or been converted, although the airline hopes for eventual conformity.

When the airways first announced the proposed change, a howl of protest went up from stewardesses and crew alike. But the airlines president, Harold L. Graham Jr., insisted that the Bermudas were typical of apparel in the sub-tropical isle and, since Bermuda was the company base, the shorts were altogether fitting.

Pilots and other crewmen's protests have won to date — they still are flying the New York - Baltimore - Washington - Bermuda-Nassau runs in standard blues with long pants.

Carolyn said the stewardesses at first said absolutely not —they didn't feel nature intended them showing their gams to the traveling public. They also complained that they have enough trouble juggling trays, feeding babies, mixing martinis and adjusting seat belts without having the possible extra chore of fending off overly friendly male passengers.

And, some just thought shorts were not dignified apparel.

Friendly persuasion so far has gotten most of the girls into the new uniform; but one stoutly holds out on grounds she just isn't built for shorts.

A company spokesman said any holdouts probably will be transferred to "behind-the-counter" jobs, although this decision is not definite.

Most passenger reaction has been favorable—and safe. "Of course, a lot of people going to Bermuda are honeymooners."

MR. AND MRS. PIERCE Grigaut and daughter, Carol, of Mill Valley boarded a Pan American Clipper at San Francisco Airport on Monday for a flight over the pole to London. From there they will continue on to Paris to spend five weeks vacationing with relatives. (Pan American photo)

Writer Lists Several Ways For Girl To Meet Boys

By VIVIAN BROWN

It seems pitiful that some girls just can't meet boys. One 18-year-old girl laments this condition, and says she just can't seem to get dates because she has none of the usual opportunities for introductions close at hand. She has no brothers and no friends living near her home.

What do you do about, she asks, because summer is a particularly lonely time.

Some of the ways to meet a man include:

1. If you are summer school bound, let's hope it is coed and that you choose a boy-type course, not pie making or sewing. There are a lot of home ec students in the bachelor girl bracket for that reason.

2. If you are going to a vacation resort, make sure it majors in golf, tennis and other man-size attractions. Get dad to take you to a fishing camp. (He'll be glad to get away from it all.)

3. Choose a hobby that attracts boys, and spend honest time at it.

Auberry Visitor Is Honor Guest At Society Meet

Honor guest at the July meeting of the Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera was young Sadie Hudson whose home is on the Indian Reservation at Auberry, Calif.

The program featured a visual presentation of the work of the American Baptist Convention at the Kodiak, Alaska, Children's Homes and the Murrow Home for Indian Children at Bacone, Okla.

Sadie's visit to Northern California was arranged through the H.O.P. (Homes Open Please) program in the department of Christian Social Relations of the Northern California Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Union.

Under this program, Indian boys and girls from 7 to 11 years of age living on reservations at Covelo, Calif., and Auberry, are entertained in Christian homes for two weeks each summer. During Sadie's visit to Corte Madera, she was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Chisholm and their two daughters, Shelley and Daphne.

At the conclusion of the program, Sadie was presented with a Bible from the Mission Society.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Gerald Moyer, vice president of membership and program. Refreshments were served by members of the Marion Beebe Circle.

Show Will Spotlight Officers' Wives Club

Elegant Country Fashions will combine with elegant costumes for the Aug. 4 "Fashion Focus" luncheon at Rickey's Rancho when the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club will be spotlighted. Adding to the occasion will be a preview of the costumes from the 1960 Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies Show.

A fashion shop of Marin will preview fall fashions with casual quality attractive for Marin County wear, such as Davidow suits.

The Ice Follies costumes, designed by Renee of Hollywood will be shown by eight members of the Ice Follies cast. They will parade the exquisite costumes which have been made individually for each member of the show—by hand—including the hundreds of sequins sewn on by hand to guard against the possibility of one falling off and causing a mishap on the ice.

The Ice Follies members come from all parts of the United States and Canada, England, Switzerland, Scotland and Australia.

The Officers' Wives who will model are Mrs. Hugh A. Parker, wife of Maj. Gen. Parker, commander of Western Air Defense Force and Mesdames Robert Margison, Thomas A. Fisher, Richard Tompkins, James Winberry, Benjamin B. Cassidy, Benjamin R. Battle and Joe Lyle Jr., who is the newly elected president of the OWC. Mrs. Cassidy is the wife of the new deputy commander of Hamilton AF Base, Col. Cassidy.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 with the fashion show beginning at 1 p.m. Reservations should be made early at Rickey's for this open-to-the-public event.

"HOW CAN YOU skate with it?" asks Mrs. James Winberry of Hamilton Air Force Base of Carol Rawski and Marily Cooper of the Ice Follies. The headdress and the skater's costumes are examples of the $250,000 spent each year to completely restyle—costumes and property—the Ice Follies each year. The HAFB Officers' Wives Club is being spotlighted at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Aug. 4, as one in a series of Fashion Focus luncheons. Also elegant country fall fashions from a Marin County shop will be modeled by Officers' Wives.

UP, UP, IN a jump goes Joni Taylor, 21, from Ardmore, Pa., for Mrs. Richard Tompkins. Mrs. Tompkins is one of eight Hamilton Officers' Wives who will model on Tuesday. The Ice Follies costumes designed by Renee of Hollywood will be shown by eight members of the cast. The luncheon will get underway at 12:30 o'clock with the fashion show at 1 p.m. (U.S. Air Force photos)

Machine-Made Glass Revives Old Patterns

Time was when handcut crystal was cut by hand, but in this new age of automation even machine-cut classware can look hand-cut. One of the oldest arts in the world, glass blowing has been with us since about 20 B.C., and hasn't changed much, right down to the hollow iron tube used for blowing by the Phoenicians.

But more glass is to be machine-blown, now that the machine invented by Michael Owens, an Irish immigrant, has been updated. In 50 years it has gone through a number of refinements until newer grinding techniques and more recent changes in glass formula have given a hand-made look to glass.

New stemware being shown for table elegance includes Waterford style cut glass that is clear and sparkling in its classic cutting.

Bridge Series Will Begin On Aug. 28

Mrs. Josephine Hovis, former all-western women's pairs champion will teach a series of bridge lessons starting Aug. 28 and continuing every Friday until Nov. 13. The lessons will be from 1 to 3 p.m. and are for beginning, intermediate and advanced players.

Mrs. Hovis teaches at Barton Stonestown Bridge Salon and at the San Francisco Yacht Club. A small fee will be charged members with a slightly higher one to non-members.

Currently playing bridge at the Center on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month from 7:30 to 11 p.m. is a group hostessed by Dr. Albertine Nash. These sessions are free to members with non-members paying a small fee. Anyone is welcome.

Party Welcomes New Resident To Lyford Cove

A cheery fire in the new fireplace and cocktails served to new and old neighbors recently served to welcome Mrs. F. J. Bertrand to the new home she has built in Tiburon's Lyford Cove area.

Mrs. Bertrand, who with her four children Tina, Tom, John and Richard, has been living on Old Landing Road has recently completed the house which is next door to her mother, Mrs. Jonas Von Rosen. Arrangements for the housewarming party were made by Mrs. Robert Bastian and Mrs. James Reynolds with whom Mrs. Bertrand has been associated in the Belvedere Nursery School. Mrs. Van Rosen arranged for the food.

Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Schubart, Jr., George Goddard, Luther Conover, George McKegney, Warren Finke, Fred Hawes, Ed Ryall, Gordon Pritchett, Bruce Keppel, Kirby Atterbury, James Knox, William H. von Lackum Jr., Phil Reedstrom, Davis Teather, Ed Nelson, Berger Stockfleth, Frank Kelly, Mrs. Eleanor Pritchett.

From San Rafael came the Thomas Langdons, Merrill DeWitts and Harry Lowes and from Sausalito the Adolf Kiefers and John Brebners. Mrs. James Crowe, a former teacher in the nursery school who is visiting her mother in Mill Valley also attended.

First Aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Checked your medicine chest lately? If you're missing any of six basic items, you're not adequately prepared to treat the 14 minor injuries statistics show are most prevalent in the average home.

Color Styling Is Essential In Bathroom

Absolutely the most forgotten room in the house when it comes to achieving a semblance of color styling is the bathroom.

Scour the tub, mop the floor, change the towels—this too often has been the only attention most of us give to it.

There is, however, one simple way to maintain attractiveness in the bath, as well as neatness. That is to see that the facial tissues, paper towels, and other paper products blend with, or contrast decoratively, with your conventional towels.

This is no problem today, fortunately, thanks to the attractive color selections which have been introduced in today's paper accessories. For example, bathroom tissues are now obtainable in the most popular pastel tones such as pink, yellow, and aqua, along with white, as are Kleenex tissues. It's an easy matter to select your toilet and facial tissues to blend with the other bathroom accessories.

New Residents Are Honored At Coffee Party

New residents of Little Reed Heights were greeted at a coffee party recently co-hosted by Mesdames Dick De Berry and H. F. Green at the latter's home. Among the honored guests was Mrs. Reuel Whigam who, with her husband, has recently built a new home on Virginia drive. The Whigams previously lived in San Rafael. He is office manager for Tamalpais Motors.

Also honored was Mrs. Bruce Manheim, wife of Dr. Manheim, pediatric surgeon. The Manheims, who have recently moved from Scarsdale, N.Y., have built on Stewart drive. They have three children and are active members of the Belvedere Tennis Club.

Other honoree was Mrs. Carlisle Bennett. Mr. Bennett is choir director at the new Golden Gate Baptist Seminary on Strawberry Point. The couple recently purchased the Virginia drive home of the David Warnows. The Warnows are currently traveling and plan to settle in Southern California.

Fried Apple Slices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fried apple slices is an old-fashioned dish, but it's just as tasty as it ever was. Cut unpared, cored apples into thick slices. Saute slowly in melted butter until tender.

When almost tender, sprinkle with brown sugar for a caramelized effect. Try it with bacon or sausage for Sunday morning breakfast.

HOUSE OF GRES

Sculptured Spiral Line Runs To Tunics And Wasp Waists

By NADINE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—A sculptured spiral line running heavily to tunics and wasp waists was the curtain raiser at the house of Gres for the annual showings of French fall and winter fashions.

Skirts were at the top of the calf. Colors initiated the sculptor's materials, from wood browns and grays to bronze green.

Reversible coats were of heavy rustic tweed or mohair. Day dresses were almost wasp-waisted and with cinched belts two to four inches wide.

Gres' forte has always been drapery, and she uses it this time to wrap the figure in sculptured folds.

Leather and wool are used together to make suit jackets and blouses. Jackets hit midhip and are usually tightly belted. They are sometimes lined with shaggy mohair and teamed with heavy mohair blouses.

Coats are barrels — the designer calls them magnet shaped—with big pilgrim collars. Belted tunic coats leave just about two inches of contrasting dress showing at the hem. Cuff and necklines are lined with dress material.

Classic jersey dresses have soft gathers on the skirts and gathered-in sleeves, and the audience still likes them.

Lots of coats have three fourths bat-wing sleeves to give them cape-like lines they are worn over skirt and blouse or dress to match their lining. Some have scarf-tied collars.

For after dark, necklines are called "handle or arrow" shaped and, as the designer says, "do not fear any boldness."

Thoughtful

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wise brides and bridegrooms, according to hotel executive, Robert Howard, won't: Hold a reception between the hours of 4 and 7 because the dress problem is too complicated; serve hors d'oeuvres that are messy on the fingers; or permit the cocktail hour to run longer than an hour.

Conceal It

Marin Girl To Spend Six Months In Italy

Six months of living with an Italian family and studying at an Italian school lie ahead for 16-year-old Kay Goff of Terra Linda, who will sail Aug. 26 from Montreal, Canada.

Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Goff, will go to Italy under the exchange student program of the American Field Service.

She will live with the Pietro Slanzi family in the north Italian town of Reggio-Emilia. The family includes two girls, aged 17 and 19, and two boys, 15 and 18. Their father is manager of an industrial plant.

Kay will attend the Liceo Sientifico, a coeducational school of 300 students that specializes in science and mathematics. Her studies will include Italian, English, Latin, chemistry, history, physics, mathematics and geography.

The school, to which girls usually wear a black uniform, does not offer extracurricular activities.

When Kay returns she will finish her senior year at San Rafael High School, where she is active in the school orchestra, California Scholarship Federation and Ra Ravas girls' service club. She also belongs to a YWCA group and the Marin County Youth Orchestra.

Her father is assistant superintendent of the Dixie School District.

Another San Rafael High School student, Jill Sigler, is spending the summer with a Turkish family in Istanbul under another American Field Service exchange program.

Dominican College Library Final Plans Are Drawn

Preliminary plans for a new college library at Dominican College have been approved and final plans are expected to be completed in about a month, a college spokesman said today.

The plans, being drawn up by Tiburon architect Henry Schubart Jr., call for the construction of a new building to be ready shortly after Jan. 1, 1960.

At the same time the college announced the present library in Guzman Hall will be converted into a lecture hall and language laboratories, although the room interiors will not be changed.

Plans to convert a school building into a residence for the sisters have not been completed.

At Centennial Fete

Three members of Equitable Life Assurance Society's San Rafael office have been attending the company's centennial celebration in New York City this week, announced J. Edmund Williams, district manager. The three are Buel M. Snyder of Marinwood, Allan B. Murray of Kentfield and Norman A. Orford of Fairfax.

Teachers Prove Apt Pupils In Business

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty-eight high school teachers working at beginners' jobs in stores, banks and businesses have brought some surprises to San Francisco Bay Area businessmen.

The 18 men and 10 women business teachers were from northern California high schools. They were hired at standard pay in downtown jobs as part of a six-week summer course in work experience education at San Francisco State College.

The college reports the employers were doubtful about the plan at first but now heartily approve.

"Excellent," "completely productive," "a great success," "no waste of either time or money" were some of the comments.

"The idea makes sense," said one banker. "It's a fine way to get needed closer relations between business and education."

Some said the teachers were apt learners, asked no favors and did what came to hand.

Others said the academic recruits had valuable general knowledge and skills, which made them especially good vacation help. They wanted the widest range of work possible and could be rotated flexibly among departments.

They listened attentively when employers outlined the kinds of jobs open to beginners, opportunities for later advancement and preparation they wished high schools could provide.

"It's hard for a business man to go around to schools trying to explain just what he needs in the way of graduates," said S. E. Hansen, employment supervisor of Crocker-Anglo Bank "This plan was our chance to do a little teaching to the teachers."

Many of the teachers were asked to stay on for the rest of the vacation period. Some are doing this. A few reported to permanent jobs offered them.

It was strenuous for the teachers. In order to earn six college credits — and cash — they worked a full 40-hour week, went to college for two and one-half hours two evenings a week and wrote a weekly paper about adapting their experience to later teaching.

"I'm worn out," sighed Richard McCool, 44, of Merced. "But I wouldn't have missed it for anything. After 11 years of steady teaching it has been wonderful to come back and see all these new processes in action."

McCool worked at First Western Bank.

Experts Disagree On How Often Oil In Car Should Be Changed

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP)—You can get a lot of expert advice on how often to change the oil in your car.

In fact, the more experts you talk to, the more advice you'll get. And it probably will add up to this: Within reason, use your own judgment.

There is the school that says flatly the oil in the engine of an automobile should be changed every 1,000 miles. The owner's handbook for most 1959 model Chrysler Corp. cars says every 5,000 miles, or three months under normal conditions.

Most service stations stick with the 1,000-mile recommendation unless they sell one of the brands of oil that specifically claims 2,000 miles.

The argument is almost as old as the auto industry. One reason the disagreement is heard more frequently now is that the car-makers gradually are lengthening their recommended period between changes. This has hurt the sale of motor oil.

The trade paper Automotive News, in a full-scale survey of the situation, found that service departments of new car dealers usually urged an oil change every 2,000 or 2,500 miles despite factory recommendations.

The oil you use rarely wears out regardless of the mileage. But this isn't true of the things put in it—the additives—to reduce wear and acidity, prevent corrosion, oxidation or sludge.

Almost every motor oil on the market has from four to eight of these additives and they break down with use.

The way a car is used has much to do with how long the oil lasts. Cold weather, dusty roads, start and stop driving all shorten the life of the oil, because it is under these conditions that the oil becomes contaminated with water, dirt and various oxides that harm an engine.

Both the auto industry and the oil industry are tending to accept the use of time, rather than miles, in suggesting oil changes.

The American Petroleum Institute wants to make it 30 days in winter, 60 days in summer but in no case more than 2,000 miles. Auto manufacturers still favor longer periods.

Although Honduras ranks fourteenth in size among the 20 Latin American nations, its area of 43,277 square miles is greater than that of the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Denmark combined.

Your Boy Should Have Check-Up Before He Starts Football Play

Does your boy play football? The season starts in a few weeks. Here are three important questions. Can you answer them?

Does your son have any physical defects? Can his body stand the beating it'll get? Football is a very strenuous sport. Boys who have physical defects should not take part. I suggest you have your family physician give your boy a careful going over. Don't rely on the team doctor. He may examine your son very carefully or he may not. The team doctors mean well, but often they're badly rushed. Don't let your boy play unless your doctor okays it.

Will your son be protected from injury? The football accident rate is too high. Between 15 and 30 players will be killed next fall. Thousands will suffer broken bones, wrenched joints, bruised kidneys. Every player at your school should have a complete set of safety equipment. The equipment should be in good repair. Even the scrubs should be given proper football gear. Every boy should be required to wear his equipment in every scrimmage, and during every minute of play. Helmets are especially important. Head and neck injuries cause most of the football deaths. The coach should make the boys work out rigorously. They need to be in tiptop condition. Talk with your coach about these things—or with your principal. Let them know you're interested in your son's welfare.

Does your school have football player insurance? Many schools do. Many don't. If your boy should be sent to the hospital, would the insurance pay the bill? Or would have to? Hospitals are awfully expensive. You could find yourself bankrupt.

(Q) "Can parents buy their own insurance for their sons who are active in high school sports?"

N. D. B.

(A) I'm told there are companies which write such policies. Ask your insurance agent about it. If he doesn't know, check with your high school principal.

ALMANAC

The moon is in its last quarter

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1777, Congress commissioned the Marquis de Lafayette as a major general in the Continental Army.

In 1792, the cornerstone for the first building of the United States government, the mint, was laid in Philadelphia.

In 1940, Adolf Hitler banned Christian Science in Germany.

HOW YOU WILL BOARD NEW JETLINERS

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Solons Eye TV Quizzes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to do some quizzing of its own to see if television quiz programs have been rigged.

Both House and Senate investigators say they're curious about findings of a recent New York grand jury investigation into whether contestants on some of the shows were coached in advance.

The grand jury findings have not been made public.

Japan Plans Satellite

The Japanese Astronautic Development Committee said the satellite launching will be part of a five-year program including firing of rockets for studies of typhoons, space health and space communications.

Mountaineers Lost

KARACHI (AP)—Five members of a British mountaineering team are feared swept away by a blizzard in the Karakoram ranges of the Himalayas. The British team, set out to climb 25,540-foot Batura Mustagh Peak.

Raft In Trouble

PARIS (AP)—Two adventurers aboard the raft Cantuta II were reported adrift today in Polynesian waters—minus two companions who got stranded when they went ashore for water supplies. A French naval ship and a schooner were reported searching Polynesian waters for the craft that set out from Peru three months ago for Tahiti.

Matador Gored

MADRID (AP)—Matador Luis Miguel Dominguin, gored in the Valencia Arena yesterday, is reported out of danger. His dctor said the gash is more painful than dangerous.

News Umpire Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) has called for appointment of a "referee or umpire" to whom persons in the news could complain about what they consider unjust treatment in newspapers.

Davis made the proposal during a House debate yesterday in which several congressmen criticized the press for not reporting on their speeches. They claimed correspondents were deliberately ignoring the floor remarks of House members opposed to free trade policies.

Employment Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department has removed 14 more major industrial centers from its list of areas with unemployment of 6 per cent or more.

Employment gains were reported last night in nearly all of 149 key centers surveyed by the department. Continued improvement in the job picture was forecast by businessmen.

Levit Leaves Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Finance Director Bert W. Levit, a key figure in the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, bowed out today after citing the need for single management of the state colleges and the University of California.

Levit will turn over the highest-paid appointive state post tomorrow to outgoing Employment Director John E. Carr and will return, without vacation, to his San Francisco law practice.

Levit said that a problem "of overwhelming significance is the need to end competion between the university and the colleges.

Brucellosis Rule

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Department of Agriculture has adopted a regulation requiring all dairy cows and heifers over four months of age that are imported to California to be vaccinated for brucellosis.

The rule will not go into effect until Jan. 2, 1961, in order to give out-of-state breeders time to build up a supply of calfhood vaccinated cows.

From Church To 'Cycle

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Two 17-year-old boys were arrested yesterday for stealing two organ pipes from St. Augustin's Church to use for exhaust pipes on their motorcycles.

Midwest Gets Relief

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool dry air spread across most of the Midwest today to bring welcome relief from the warm and humid weather of the past several days.

But muggy weather clung to wide sections from Texas eastward and northeastward through the Gulf states and Ohio Valley to the lower Great Lakes region and the Atlantic seaboard.

Songwriter Succumbs

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—Death has claimed songwriter Herman Ruby, who wrote "Cecilia," "I'll Always Be In Love With You," "My Sunny Tennessee" and others. Ruby, 66, died of heart disease yesterday.

Storm Flays Mojave

LANCASTER, (AP)—A wind, rain and thunder storm struck the Mojave Desert last night with such fierceness that it toppled 51 telephone poles in a row. Lightning which accompanied the storm touched off four brush fires.

Hallowed Parking Site

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Parking Authority has seized about one-third of Boston Common by eminent domain and will break ground Aug. 15 for a 2,000-car garage. The move changed title to the history-hallowed ground for the first time since December 1634, when it was purchased by the town fathers for 30 pounds.

A Rockefeller To Wed?

OSLO (UPI)—An Oslo newspaper said today that a Norwegian girl has been asked to be a witness at the wedding of Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he met while she was a maid in the Rockefeller home.

But there still has been no confirmation of reports that the 23-year-old son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Anne-Marie Rasmussen are planning to be married.

Probe Into Viet Nam Aid Program Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he may propose an on-the-spot inquiry to get all the facts in a controversy over the foreign aid program in Viet Nam.

Mansfield is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which recalled American aid officials for further questioning today about administration of the program.

He asked officials to return with a full answer to charges of irregularities in the award of a steel contract in that Southeast Asian republic.

The charges were made by Scripps-Howard writer Albert M. Colegrove, whose series of articles written from Saigon touched off the hearings.

Mansfield said he may suggest to the full Foreign Relations Committee that it send an investigator of its own to Saigon, or ask its foreign policy group to contract for a special nongovernmental study.

Colegrove told the committee yesterday that Frank Gonder, an American business man representing Bethlehem Steel, claimed he lost out in the bidding for a steel bridge contract with Viet Nam although his bid per ton was below that of the winner. The award went to the Eurasia Corp., a firm with Belgian supply sources, Colegrove said.

"Gonder is prepared to testify under oath that a confidential informant told him two weeks before the sealed bids were opened who would get the contract," Colegrove testified.

ANSWER: IN NEWSPAPERS—BY FAR! As a matter of fact, advertisers, year after year, invest more money in newspapers than in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined! In 1957, advertisers spent $3,325,000,000 in daily newspapers across the land. The reasons why advertisers prefer newspapers are many and varied but it really boils down to one basic fact: newspapers serve up results in such generous helpings! That's why they're worth more. ## Live Turtles For Tots At New Station

Upton took over management of the station this week from Carlo Drago. Small live turtles will be given away to children of customers during tomorrow's celebration.

The station's rustic design so pleased the Corte Madera Planning Commission that it sent a letter of commendation to the Shell Oil Co.

Upton, who will operate the station as Del's Shell Service, said it will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 7 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday.

A veteran of four years in the Air Force, Upton was assistant manager of his father's garage in the Midwest before coming to California. More recently, he was a student at San Francisco State College and City College of San Francisco. He is married and has a 10-month-old son.

Lagunitas School Board Schedules Budget Hearing

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District will hold a public hearing on the district's $147,865 budget for 1959-60 at 8 p.m. Thursday at Lagunitas School.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye explained that a $19,850 item labeled "transfers" is composed of $500 spent for children in the district who attend special county schools such as Marindale School for deaf and orthopedically handicapped children and $19,350 which the school district received as payment for a seven-acre property in Woodacre. The $19,350 will be reserved for expansion of Lagunitas School, the superintendent said.

Part of the district's 1959-60 spending program will be financed by a general fund tax rate of $2 per $100 assessed valuation. Override taxes cannot be calculated until it is known what the district's total assessed valuation is, Frye said.

All In Readiness For Belvedere's Big Beer Bust

All is in readiness for Belvedere's traditional annual beer bust this evening at the firehouse under sponsorship of the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Assn., according to Stanley V. Dick, association president.

The event will get under way at 8 p.m., Dick said. It will also provide an opportunity to inspect the city's fire fighting equipment.

Host will be Chief Lawrence T. (Bunk) Mersereau, who pointed out that the group will observe the traditional "bring your own mug" procedure.

SCHOOL WAS NEVER SO DISTRACTING

A story is interesting, but 6-year-old Merrily Milmoe has discovered something even more fascinating, a deer to feed at Junior Museum of Marin in San Rafael. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Milmoe, still holds the attention of the other youngsters. From the left, they are Sandra Egger, Timmy Messinger, Debbie and Betty Leininger, Marsanne Milmoe and Cynthia Egger. (Independent-Journal photo)

Schools Slate Budget Hearings Next Week

Governing officials of school districts throughout Marin County next week will hold public hearings prior to the adoption of final 1959-60 budgets. The hearings are required by state law.

In all, 23 district budgets will be considered out of a total of 29 districts. Six one-teacher districts are not required to hold public hearings.

MONDAY

Kentfield, 7:45 p.m., Kent School, $578,118; Larkspur, 7:30 p.m., Larkspur-Corte Madera School, $661,237 Mill Valley, 8 p.m., 26 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, $1,159,995; San Jose, 8 p.m., Lynwood School, $764,397; Sausalito, 8 p.m., district office, $599,140; Tamalpais Union High School, 8 p.m., district office, Larkspur, $3,350,690, West Marin Union, 8 p.m., West Marin School, $97,485.

TUESDAY

Bolinas, 8 p.m., Bolinas School, $39,274; Fairfax, 7:45 p.m., Manor School, $357,416; Novato Unified, 8 p.m., 1015 Seventh street, Novato, $1,578,406; Reed Union, 8 p.m., Reed district office, $548,762; San Rafael Elementary ($1,745,900), and San Rafael High School ($1,570,625), 7:30 p.m., administrative offices; Stinson Beach, 7:30 p.m., schoolhouse, $24,550.

WEDNESDAY

Dixie, 8 p.m., district office, $39,274; Ross, 8 p.m., school, $225,437; San Anselmo, 8 p.m., Isabel Cook School, $789,721; San Quentin, 8 p.m., school, $20,533; Tomales Joint Union High, 8 p.m., school, $151,771; Tomales Union, 8 p.m., Union Elementary School, $35,267.

THURSDAY

Lagunitas, 8 p.m., Lagunitas District School, $147,865; Marin Junior College, 8 p.m., College of Marin, $1,171,829; Nicasio, 8 p.m., school, $19,484.

Budgets of school districts not holding hearings are: Lincoln, $9,200; Burdell, $11,475; Pt. Reyes, $11,922, and Union Joint, $9985.

All budgets are being checked by the county superintendent of schools office and will be returned to district governing boards for public hearings.

Then the budgets must be turned over to the county board of supervisors on or prior to Aug. 15, so the county can set the tax rates.

2 Sex Deviates Given Probation

Maurice Lucien Gaillard, 34, of Fairfax, and Don Edward Penfold, 31, San Francisco salesman, drew five years probation yesterday for sex perversion in San Rafael last March.

They were arrested in a restroom of a San Rafael hotel March 28.

Retired Civil Workers Picnic

A picnic at Samuel Taylor State Park will be held by Marin Chapter 400 of the National Assn. of Retired Civil Employees at 11 a.m. Aug. 12.

Mrs. Peter Bettega of San Anselmo is in charge of refreshments, and A. L. Upham of Fairfax is arranging transportation.

The group's next meeting will be at Scout Hall in Mill Valley Sept. 9.

Many Events Set For Fete In Mill Valley

A downtown art exhibit and an auction sale of paintings, plus an assortment of other attractions, are planned for the annual Mill Valley Art Festival to be held Sept. 25-27.

Randall W. Greig, general chairman, said the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce again will sponsor the show, in cooperation with Mill Valley businessmen.

Included in the program are the downtown art exhibit and art auction; entertainment on all three days including folk dancing; puppet shows; free movies; children's games and contests; a parade to open the festival; downtown decorations; a queen contest; booths in the Lytton Square area, and a street dance.

Greig said committee members plan to go before the city council at its meeting next Wednesday for approval of the plans.

Deadline Aug. 21 For Vote Sign-Up

Residents of the San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts who are not registered have until Aug. 21 to register if they want to vote Oct. 20 when both school districts are asking for a tax rate boost to $2 per $100 assessed valuation.

San Anselmo School District currently has a tax rate limit of $1.45. Fairfax's school tax rate is $1.25.

Herter Pledges West Germany No Concessions

Assurance Given U.S. Won't Cut Berlin Truce Price

GENEVA (AP)—West German officials said today they won fresh assurances from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that he will not cut his basic price for a Berlin truce.

Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, made a flying trip to Geneva for conferences with Herter and Heinrich von Brentano, the West German foreign minister.

When the talks had finished, Brandt declared: "We have no fears at all there will be any major concessions" on the part of the Western Allies.

GERMAN CONCERN

The West Germans were said to be concerned that the West might give away something to the Soviets in order to get a Berlin settlement here.

Meanwhile, Geneva hummed with rumors of a possible visit to Washington by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Should President Eisenhower invite Khrushchev to Washington and the Soviet leader accept, this could well serve as a substitute for a proposed summit conference.

DIPLOMATIC TRAP

West Germany fears a diplomatic trap may be sprung by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko before the conference ends or recesses Wednesday. The Germans believe Gromyko may offer a concession in Soviet demands that the Western garrisons get out of Berlin, then use this to pry concessions from the West.

Associates said West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano told Herter his government believes any Berlin solution based on the latest Soviet proposals would weaken the Western position in Berlin.

MORE WANT ADS THAN EVER IN I-J TODAY

Today's Independent-Journal sets a new classified advertising record by presenting seven full pages plus three columns, nearly a page larger than any previous issue. Individual ads total about 850.

The previous record was set last April 24 with six pages plus four and one-half columns.

"Real estate is by far our biggest category and today's record reflects the present real estate boom in Marin County," said Carl Lehman Independent-Journal classified manager.

"This marks our 22nd straight month of classified gain," he added. "During the first six months of this year we ran 115,449 classified ads, and we'll probably total close to 230,000 for the year."

Nixon Slates TV Reply To Hecklers

Tired Vice President Back In Moscow To Plan Speech

MOSCOW (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned today from a flying Siberian-Ural trip and promised to answer Soviet hecklers in a televised speech to the Russian people tomorrow night.

Nixon also is expected to give a nationwide television report to the American people after he stops off in Poland for a three-day visit.

He called off all appointments at the American Embassy tonight as well as most of tomorrow. At Moscow Airport, Nixon in effect urged the Russians to hear and see his address.

Talking into a microphone, he said:

"When I speak tomorrow night at 8 o'clock I will discuss and answer some of the questions I got during the trip. I will also give my impressions of the Soviet economy, the managers, workers and people."

Nixon called his fast-moving, five-day trip outside Moscow "very interesting." The Russian people, he said, are very friendly to Americans even as the people of the United States are toward the people of the USSR.

"I found a common interest in finding ways to peace," he said. "I heard on every side the word 'mir druzhba'—peace and friendship."

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, and his 30-member official party, flew into the Soviet capital aboard a Russian TU104 jet. It whisked him in two hours from the Ural industrial city of Sverdlovsk, 850 miles away.

In ending his stay in the Soviet hinterland, Nixon appealed for world leaders to settle their political disputes so that Soviet and American scientists could devote their full time to peaceful atomic work instead of atomic bombs.

Nixon made his plea after traveling deep into a Siberian birch forest to inspect the site of a Soviet atomic power plant. He found a swarm of some 3,000 men and women workers, but the plant was only half as big as expected.

State Gets Blame For Deficiencies In Novato Schools

Faults with the Novato schools were laid on the doorstep of the state Department of Education last night by citizens and teachers attending the second conference of the Novato Advisory Council for Education.

Some 50 persons attended the meeting at Novato High School. They gathered in four separate sections to continue a study begun at the council's first meeting in May.

A summary of findings of the council to date was presented by Mrs. Alice Yarish, chairman.

"The state Department of Education and the state Legislature dictate many of our courses," the report declared. "The state department upholds and advocates certain philosophies of education in curriculum, teaching methods and teacher training.

". . . The criticisms voiced in the four discussion groups were almost identical with those being made in other parts of the state and nation.

"Of greatest interest is the fact that the criticisms and suggestions made by the predominantly lay group in Novato were very similar to those voiced by a predominantly teacher group at the 'Conference on Criticism of the Public Schools' held recently at San Francisco State College.

SAME OPINION

"It is also significant that the weight of opinion of all four subcommittees was preponderantly the same on most items of discussion."

The Novato study groups directed their sharpest barbs at the schools' emphasis on "life adjustment" to the detriment of the "three R's."

Mrs. Yarish quoted one comment as typical: "If a child is not capable of reading, writing and arithmetic in his respective grade, then any other subject he may be introduced to may be considered a frill."

PARENTS' DUTY

Parents, the discussion groups agreed, must assume a share of the responsibility for the schools' emphasis on "life adjustment."

"Many felt that parents were clearly responsible for having shoved more and more of the problems of child rearing onto the schools," reported Mrs. Yarish. "However, the schools have not been loathe to accept these former parental obliga-

Scientist Hoping For Live Shark For Study

No sharks this morning.

This was the word today from Felix Konatich, 30, who has been going out every morning in Tomales Bay in search of bass for Tony's Seafood a Marshall.

Felix and his father, Tony, 70, have caught three sharks in their nets, one last Saturday, one this Tuesday and another yesterday.

Each time they have contacted Dr. Earl Herrald, director of the Steinhardt Aquarium and the "Science in Action" television show in San Francisco.

Scientific information about these man-eating type of sharks is scarce, so Dr. Herrald would like to observe a live one in a tank to see better what makes them tick.

Yesterday Felix attempted to keep his catch, a seven-foot, 400-pounder, alive. But the shark died. He tried to keep the one he caught Tuesday alive, too, but a San Francisco photographer asked him to take it out of the water for a picture, and the shark died, Felix said.

The dead sharks have been turned over to Dr. W. I. Follett, curator of icthyology at the academy.

Follett has been examining the contents of the shark's stomachs in an effort to determine whether they might have attacked human beings.

"In about a week," Konatich said, "Dr. Herrald plans to have a big tank truck ready, so if I catch a shark and call

HUGE SHARK CAPTURED AT SANTA CRUZ

It was 14 feet long and weighed an estimated 1,300 pounds.

Fishermen said it was a black Manila type shark, usually a man-eater.

FAIR WEATHER PREDICTED FOR WEEKEND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Little weather change was indicated through the weekend in California, the forecaster said today.

The five-day forecast through next Wednesday said no rain was in sight, aside from occasional thunderstorms in the Sierra.

Dollar Days In San Rafael Draw Throngs

We're packed. We're mobbed. It's really good.

Those were some of the reports today in a sampling of merchants participating in San Rafael Dollar Days.

Housewives, eagerly awaiting the bargain events which will continue tomorrow, crowded into stores for the special values.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m., as is usual on Fridays, so families can come in and shop. Stores also will be open until the late hour in the Corte Madera Center, Novato and San Anselmo.

A total of 57 stores in participating in Dollar Days in San Rafael with the pledge that there will be "terrific real solid values" for all customers.

Here is a sampling of comments:

At J. C. Penney Co., a spokesman said, "There is a very gratifying response."

At Royce Department Store, Roy Michael said their parking lot was jammed for the first time in a long time and that sales are "moving very nicely."

Water 'Transfusion' Slated For Marin Lake

A dredge with high capacity pump will soon start transferring 200 million gallons of water from Alpine Lake to nearby Bon Tempe Lake, major supply source for southern Marin County which is at dangerously low level.

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District have authorized William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer, to rent a dredge from Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito as an emergency measure after word that Bon Tempe now holds only 200 million gallons, a supply adequate for only 30 to 40 days.

900 MILLION GALLONS

Alpine Lake now has 900 million gallons, said Seeger. It lies west of Kentfield, with Bon Tempe between.

Robert E. Rich, president of Associated Dredging, said today that the dredge will be moved on five large flat-bed trucks from its present location at Truckee, starting Monday afternoon. The trucks should start arriving at Alpine about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, he said.

Only such parts of the dredge mechanism as are needed for a pumping operation will be moved, he explained. Thus it won't be necessary to take the propellor-like cutter mechanism which ordinarily goes along to break up solids. Operation should start about Wednesday, he estimated.

SPECIAL LINE

"We'll use electric power," said Rich. "Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is putting in a special line. The dredge can pump five million gallons of water a day and therefore we shall take 40 days to move the 200 million gallons."

The lakes are about 3,000 feet apart and there is some permanent pipe between. From the dredge, water will move to this pipe through whatever flexible 12-inch pipe needed. Miles of such pipe are available, said Seeger.

Once the dredge, known as Crescent from the fact that it was first used at Crescent City, has been set up, it will float on Alpine Lake moored by anchors and wires.

Master Plan For Bolinas Lagoon Nears

A master plan for development of Bolinas Lagoon for recreation use will be completed within six months, directors of the Bolinas Harbor District were told last night.

"This is what we've been building toward for two years," said Gene McDaniel, harbor district chairman.

A state Lands Commission survey to determine state tideland boundaries has been completed, permitting the district to proceed with the study.

Plans were made at last night's board meeting at Stinson Beach to seek state funds for construction of small boat launching facilities at the lagoon for immediate use. McDaniel said there is also a possibility of private money for some temporary work on the lagoon entrance sand bar to make navigation easier.

The board approved a final budget of $5,500, which McDaniel said would indicate a tax rate of around 18 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Corte Madera Center Launches Sales Event

Corte Madera Shopping Center's big mid-summer Dollar Days sale got under way in a crisis atmosphere today, with African lions and an elephant named Susie on hand to entertain customers.

The wild animals are part of Ray Cox's Great Western Shows, which began a four-day run yesterday on the shopping center's east parking lot, beside Highway 101.

Five free circus shows are being offered daily. The half-hour programs include Bill Knutson's dog and pony acts, featuring what is reputed to be the smallest military drill horse in the world. Knutson also puts the lions through their paces.

HAFB Team Wins World 'Chute Trophy

A two-man pararescue team from the 41st Air Rescue Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base won the top award in worldwide competition at Orlando, Fla., yesterday.

M/Sgt. Jack D. Messina and T/Sgt. Dorsey Hamilton won the Don Flickinger pararescue trophy by a margin of 17 points over five other top Air Rescue teams. The final competing teams had been selected in regional elemination contests.

News of the win was telephoned from Florida by Messina to his wife, Inez, who lives in Raphael Village with their two children. Hamilton also lives in Raphael Village and has five children.

HANDICAPPED CHILDREN PLAY BALL

Handicapped children, taking part in the summer recreation program at Marindale School in Terra Linda, play softball. Program Director Gregg DeGear, 25, of San Anselmo pitches the ball. The children use either regular bats and softballs or plastic ones. Those in wheelchairs play too, but if they have the use of only one arm, a counselor may give them a push toward a base. DeGear says the program, which also includes field trips, puppet theater and arts and crafts, will attempt football, too. (Independent-Journal photo)

More Commercial Zoning Favored In Kentfield Poll

Kentfield residents would like more commercially zoned areas to share their tax load, but are opposed to industries and more apartment houses in their community and overwhelmingly against incorporation or annexation.

This is indicated by a tally of questionnaires returned to the Kentfield Civic League by residents, property owners and business people.

Results of the opinion poll will be used by the civic league and county planning staff as a guide in preparing a master plan for the unincorporated community.

Approximately 20 per cent of the questionnaires were answered. Douglas H. Ballinger, a director of the league, said the poll results appear to be "fairly representative of our area's thinking."

The poll showed 141 persons favoring and 117 opposing additional commercial zoning for Kentfield, a 55-45 per cent division of opinion. Sixty-one per cent of those queried opposed light industrial development, with 101 for it and 159 against.

The vote against incorporation of Kentfield was 173 to 59, or 75 per cent opposed. Annexation to a neighboring city also met with disfavor, but by the smaller margin of 166 to 94.

Judging by the poll, Kentfield residents generally are well satisfied with their fire and police protection, especially the former, provided by the Kentfield Fire District.

To the question, "Do you have adequate fire protection?" the civic league received an 87 per cent "yes" vote. As for the police services, furnished by the Marin sheriff's office, 64 per cent of those polled expressed approval.

Other questions, and the results, were:

Do you favor expansion of the College of Marin? Yes, 169; no, 85.

Do you want more apartment houses? Yes, 82; no 156.

Do you wish something done about traffic flow on College avenue? Yes, 179; no, 64.

Do you feel that through traffic on Sir Francis Drake boulevard between Fairfax and Highway 101 should be re-routed to relieve local traffic? Yes, 185; no, 93.

BOTHERED BY RATS

Are you bothered by rats? Yes, 43; no, 219.

Do you favor drive-ins in Kentfield? Yes, 43, no, 216.

Do you purchase most of your food and daily household needs in Kentfield? Yes, 178; no, 82.

Do you want more parking space in the Kentfield commercial areas? Yes, 99; no, 130.

Is your street lighting adequate? Yes, 210; no, 59.

Do you favor beautification of our commercial area? Yes, 208; no, 46.

FLOOD CONTROL BONDS

Do you favor residential lots under 10,000 square feet? Yes, 59; no, 188.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,300,000 shares against 3,240,000 yesterday.

Some shares leaned a bit below earlier levels in mid-afternoon. But price gains generally matched losses. Most key issues moved only fractions.

Aircrafts extended yesterday's brisk advances with some gains stretching beyond a point. Many rubbers, metals, airlines and tobaccos edged higher.

Steels, electronics, chemicals and oils generally receded. Motors, drugs, rails and metals were mixed.

DuPont rose more than two, Allied Chemical dropped more than two and Union Carbide was off around one.

'FLYPAPER' STREETS IN S.F. IRK MILL VALLEY MOTORIST

A Mill Valley clerk, arrested in San Francisco early today when he drove his sports car up to the axels in newly poured concrete, pleaded innocent in municipal court to a charge of being drunk in an automobile, but was fined anyway.

Gregory O. Lyon, 27, of 22 Tamalpais drive, was arrested by officers Joe Miles and Henry Kind of the San Francisco police fraud detail, who just happened to be passing by.

Earlier, Kind had warned Lyon of speeding but let him go "because he seemed like a nice guy."

But when the pair stopped his ramble through the newly poured street, Lyons became argumentive, so the officers handcuffed him and put him in a patrol wagon.

When he was arrested, he was sitting in a new Triumph with soft concrete up to the hub caps. Kind said Lyon complained that San Francisco shouldn't have "flypaper on the intersections."

Workmen were repaving at third and Kearney streets after removing streetcar tracks.

Lyon posted $50 bond, and appeared immediately before Municipal Court Judge Leonore Underwood. He pleaded innocent, but on the basis of testimony by the officers, the judge fined him $50, with the option of 10 days in jail.

The sentence was stayed until Aug. 5.

Landmarks Unit Elects

Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere has been elected first president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

It is a non-profit, charitable corporation organized to preserve historical property in the area. Mrs. Bastian has been acting chairman since the society was formed last spring.

Other officials chosen were Thomas K. Proctor, vice president; Mrs. John A. Ericson, secretary; William H. V. Brooke, treasurer, and Mrs. David Teather, historian.

Dr. Robert P. Watkin, Belvedere mayor, was appointed to the board, succeeding Ralph Y. Meyers, who leaves for Switzerland shortly.

First project of the society will be the restoration of Old St. Hilary's Church, acquisition of which was made possible by an anonymous contribution. The church and surrounding area will be used as a museum and park.

Membership in the society is open to all Marin residents.

Fabulous Oil Wildcatter Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Michael Late Benedum, fabulous oil wildcatter who earned about 100 million dollars in his 90 years, died yesterday at his Pittsburgh home.

The colorful king of the oil prospectors had an unmatchable career that extended back almost to the start of the oil business in the United States. The 100th anniversary of the industry will be marked Aug. 17 in Tutusville, Pa.

RABIES CHECK BEING MADE ON RACCOON

A raccoon found near a Kentfield home last night was picked up by an official of the Marin County Humane Society just in case the animal might be rabid.

Dr. D. G. Atwood of 93 Kent avenue called the sheriff about 7:50 p.m. to report that his dog had just chased a raccoon in his yard.

Curfew Measure For Belvedere Before Council

Introduction of a curfew ordinance in Belvedere is slated for Monday night's city council meeting, City Manager Britton Rey said today.

He said that it was introduced at the last meeting when not all councilmen were present, but will be re-introduced since it requires a four-fifths vote to be approved.

The ordinance is similar to those in some other Marin communities, requiring teenagers and younger children to be off the srteets after 11 p.m. unless accompanied by an adult.

Also on the council's agenda is a request from residents of Eucalyptus road that the street be accepted by the city, and further discussion of the Audubon Society lease for the proposed wildlife preserve.

Paralytic Polio On Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paralytic polio cases reported by the states increased to 177 last week, highest weekly total of the year.

The increase of 11 cases over the week ended July 18 was far lower, however, than the increase of 56 cases between July 11 and 18, U. S. Public Health Service statistics showed today.

The 177 paralytic cases last week compared with 73 in the corresponding 1958 week.

Prison For Try To Hire Slayer

PASADENA (UPI)—A 50-year-old electronics engineer was sentenced to one year in prison yesterday for offering a "soldier of fortune" $2,000 to kill a love rival.

Arthur Herbert Smith had pleaded guilty to trying to hire Charles H. Johnson, 44-year-old adventurer, to kill Joseph D. Reed, A Santa Fe, N.M., school teacher last May. Reed married Elaine Worthington whom Smith had courted.

Woman On Probation For Drunken Driving

Mrs. Mary Margaret Dignan, 40, of 34 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, drew two years supervised probation yesterday for her first drunken driving offense.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court set 4 p.m. Sept. 24 for another review of her sentence.

Mrs. Dignan was arrested on Magnolia avenue in Larkspur on June 21.

Commission Seeking Glenwood Firehouse

San Rafael fire commissioners would like to start building a new firehouse in Glenwood subdivision this year if possible.

Thec ommissioners last night asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to see whether plans used for the Third street firehouse can be applied to the Glenwood site, which is located just east of the developed area of Glenwood, near San Pedro road.

The city has set aside $40,000 this year for capital improvement for the fire department. This money could be used to start the new building. It would be the third firehouse for San Rafael.

The commission also decided to ask officials from Berkeley, San Leandro and Hayward to sit as an oral board to interview the 10 San Rafael firemen who are trying for promotions to engineer.

Six new positions of engineer have been created. Pay would be $6,328 per year as compared with $5,822 for firemen.

The oral examination is set for next Wednesday. Written tests were being given today. The new engineers expected to be picked about Sept. 1.

Solons Hear Taft Views On Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Housing Subcommittee listened to a famous Republican voice from the past today for guidance on whether to try to overturn President Eisenhower's veto of the Democratic housing bill.

In the speech, Taft, then Senate GOP leader, told the National Housing Conference on May 12, 1953, of his long-standing support for federally-subsidized public housing for low-income families who otherwise would be forced to live in slums. Taft died of cancer two months later.

Eisenhower vetoed the housing bill as "inflationary" and "extravagant." One of the provisions he opposed especially was the authorization for new public housing construction.

GREENBRAE INTERCHANGE OPEN NEXT WEEK

New U.S. 101 freeway and ramp structures will, after long construction, go into service next Sunday and Tuesday. At 10 a.m. Monday traffic will begin over the new "on-ramp" from Sir Francis Drake boulevard, west of 101, to the southbound lanes of 101. This will entail a change in traffic westbound from Pt. San Quentin which, instead of turning south at the light, will be routed under 101, then turn to go up the new ramp to the southbound 101 lanes. On Tuesday at 11 a.m. northbound 101 traffic will begin to flow over the new bridge paralleling the southbound lanes already open.

2 S.F. Barbers Accuse Marinite Of Swindle

Two San Francisco barbers, a father and a son, yesterday claimed a San Rafael business promoter clipped them for $10,300 when he told them he was going to build a big shopping center in Lucas Valley.

The barbers, Edmund A. Alipranti, 45, and his father, Vincent, said Ernesto A. Montano, 46, took their money.

San Francisco Municipal Court Judge Charles Peery issued a warrant for the arrest of Montano, on charges of 12 counts of grand theft and two counts of selling stock without a permit.

The Aliprantis claimed they made their first payment of $3,500 to Montano in 1958, and later when they asked for their money back he told them he had a $13,500 check coming from Los Angeles.

They said he told them that "lots of investors want in on this."

Space Agency Plans To Send Seismograph To Check Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Space Agency today disclosed plans to send a seismograph to the moon in five or six years to see what it is made of and how its crust is behaving.

The agency also is ordering other rocket-borne instruments to check lunar radioactivity and measure the density of charged gas particles in the neighborhood of the moon.

These projects were disclosed in a list of contracts, totaling nearly 16 million dollars, awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in June.

By means of reverse rockets, the seismograph would be gently deposited on the moon in a so-called soft landing which the space agency said it may attempt, if everything goes as planned, "within five to six years."

The seismograph is expected to be a rugged instrument weighing 10 to 20 pounds. What it learns about the structure of the moon and its quake activity, if any, will be reported to earth by radio.

Mrs. Torre Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Torre, 38, wife of a Kentfield physician, will have to spend five days in county jail, unless her drunk driving conviction is reversed.

A jury of seven women and five men yesterday deliberated for about an hour before finding Mrs. Torre guilty of drunken driving on Highway 101 near Corte Madera last Jan. 9. She has a prior drunken driving conviction in Marin on Aug. 9, 1956. State law makes a jail sentence mandatory for the second offense.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and Mrs. Torre's attorney, Leslie Gillen of San Francisco, fought the case since Tuesday before Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court.

Immediately after the verdict, Gillen indicated he would move for a new trial. Judge Haley set Aug. 4 at noon as time for argument for a new trial.

Mrs. Torre testified she had two martinis and six creme de menthes that evening. She was arrested by sheriff's deputies, who said they followed her weaving car for about a mile before stopping her near the Corte Madera overpass.

Climbers Conquer Yosemite Column

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (UPI)—Two skilled mountain climbers have become the first persons to scale the rugged southeast side of 1,952-foot Washington Column.

The feat was accomplished yesterday after a four-day endeavor by Warren Harding, 30, of West Sacramento and Chuck Pratt, 20, of Berkeley. Harding also led the team which conquered the sheer face of 3,604 foot El Capitan.

Assisting the two climbers by hauling rope, pitons, water and food up to them were Glen Denny, Rob McKnight and Steve Roper.

Thousand Marin Dogs Vaccinated At Clinics

With 125 dogs vaccinated against rabies at the last of 10 clinics held last night in the Marin City firehouse, it was announced today that 1,067 dogs received such protection at the entire series conducted by the Marin County Health Department.

In last year's series of clinics, 3,251 vaccinations were given. Last year's vaccinations were still good for this year; therefore, the current series showed a smaller total because it represented only new arrivals, pups or immigrants.

Private veterinarians have also been giving many vaccinations, the health department noted, the number being impossible to estimate. All Marin County dogs four months or older must be licensed by Aug. 31, and vaccination certificates are required before licenses will be issued.

Satellite Try Delayed Again

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—Technical reasons were blamed today for the third straight postponement of launching of the Discoverer V satellite.

The suspenseful countdown reached zero yesterday but the main state of the towering rocket failed to fire. The attempt was called off.

In the past it has taken at least two days before another attempt at launching could be made after a technical failure was discovered.

Launching of the baby moon was canceled both Tuesday and Wednesday because of bad weather.

Youths Caught With Liquor By Police In Corte Madera

Three Marin youths were arrested in Corte Madera at 1 a.m. today on charges of illegal possession of liquor.

The charges were brought against Wendell Martin Joost Jr., 18, of 104 Almenar drive, Greenbrae and two 17-year-old San Anselmo boys. They were released to their parents.

Inspector Harold Hockett said he stopped their car on Tamalpais drive near Highway 101 after it passed through town at a fast clip. One of the 17-year-olds was at the wheel.

In the car Hockett found an unopened bottle of bourbon and a speaker belonging to Marin Motor Movies in San Rafael. Police said it has not been learned whether the boys stole the speaker or received it from others.

Joost also was charged with contributing to the delinquency of his companions, and the latter were cited for curfew violation.

2 Youths Admit Stealing Coins

Mark Fredrick Dawson, 19, and Claude Bernard Anger, 18, pleaded guilty to four counts of petty theft. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court set 3:30 p.m. Aug. 19 as time for a probation office report and judgment.

The youths broke into 14 soft drink machines, getting a total loot of $8 in coins. They were caught about 1 a.m. yesterday in the act of looting a machine at the Texaco station at Alto.

Hamilton Units Return From Florida Training

Some members of a special detachment of the 78th Fighter Group from Hamilton Air Force Base, in Florida since July 4 for weapons training, will begin arriving back at Hamilton tomorrow.

All of the F101 Starfighters of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, included in the detachment, will return Sunday noon, Maj. Phillip Coady, base information officer, said today.

The 150 airmen who left the Marin base July 3 for Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., will return tomorrow. Starfighters have been put through their paces over the Gulf of Mexico, firing their cannons and Sidewinder missiles at remote controlled jet drones and air-towed targets.

No official word has been received as to how the detachment performed during the training, said Coady, except that it was reported scorings were high.

Ground support airmen are scheduled to arrive at Hamilton by cargo plane tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Included in the special detachment are men of the 78th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, the 78th Armaments and Electronics Squadron, the 678th Field Maintenance Squadron and the 78th Fighter Group Headquarters.

During the absence of the Starfighters, the defense mission at Hamilton has been borne by the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron with its recently arrived fleet of F101 Voodoos and F89 Scorpions, the latter gradually being replaced by additional Voodoos.

Military Building Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress approved a compromise $1,225,475,150 military construction authorization bill yesterday and sent it to the White House.

The House passed the measure by voice vote and shortly thereafter the Senate approved 85-0 in a roll call.

The authorization, subject to appropriations provided in a bill to be considered later, is about 130 million dollars less than the President had requested.

Drunken Driver Gets Jail Term, $250 Fine

Leon Samuel Miller, laborer of 320 C street, San Rafael, must spend five days in jail and pay a $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. Miller was arrested at Fifth avenue and E street in San Rafael last Sunday. He was convicted previously in Madera in 1953.

3 Cleared Of Illegal Deer Kill

Three employees of the Sweet Timber Co. of Olema were acquitted in justice court at Point Reyes Station this week on charges of killing a spiked buck out of season.

Alfred F. Giddings, game warden from Woodacre, produced the buck's head as evidence against Dale Moore, Royce Johnson and Ralph Conkle. But Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Judicial District Court dismissed the charge for lack of witnesses directly linking defendants with the offense.

Water power generates more than 99 per cent of the electricity in Switzerland, Norway, and Sweden, but less than 3 per cent in Britain, Denmark, and Belgium.

OBITUARIES

C. L. Pierce, Marin Realty Broker, Dies

Funeral services for Columbus L. Pierce, 51, prominent Marin realty broker and developer, who died of a heart attack at Garberville Wednesday night, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Pierce Realty will be closed tomorrow in memory of the man who designed and built the Pierce Building in which his office had been located for the past five years.

Pierce and his wife, Angela, were camping at Leggett, 39 miles from Garberville, when Pierce suffered the attack Tuesday night. He had been ailing from a heart condition. He died at a hospital Wednesday.

In Marin County real estate business since 1929, Pierce built more than 700 homes including the Sleepy Hollow Addition where streets are named after members of his family.

He also built Big Bear Market, Taylor tract and Meadow Way tract in Fairfax, and Bret Harte Village 3.

Pierce was a past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board and the San Rafael Lions Club, and member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin Rod and Gun Club. He was also active in Boy Scout work in San Anselmo in the 1920's. He was a member of the Coast Guard Reserve.

He resided at 175 Oak drive, Bayside Acres, with his wife and four children: Roger, 14, Sheila, 12, Angela, 11, and Charles, 9. Another son, Columbus Jr., lives in Sonoma.

Novato District Hires Fireman

William E. Walker of 586 Louis drive, Novato, has been hired as a fireman by the Novato Fire District, filling the vacancy created July 7 by the death of Verne W. Long.

Long was killed when the car he was driving crashed into a hay truck on Highway 101 near Vallejo avenue in Novato. Walker, a former post office employee, will begin his duties Aug. 1 at a starting salary of $380.

Physiotherapist's Last Rites Held

Private funeral services for Arvid Johnson, 69, a Marin County resident for 11 years, were held today at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Johnson died Tuesday after long illness. He was a physiotherapist who had maintained offices in San Francisco for a number of years.

He was born in Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 26, 1889. When he first came to Marin he lived for a time in Fairfax, but had recently resided at 18 Wolfe grade, Kentfield.

He is survived by his wife, Marguerite Johnson.

Johnson was a member of Elsinore Lodge 289 F&AM; San Francisco Chapter 1, Royal Arch Masons; California Commandery 1, Knights Templar; and Islam Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

Civilian Employee At Air Base Dies

Funeral services for Louis H. Knittel, 64, a civilian employee at Hamilton Air Force Base, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Halsted and Co. mortuary in San Francisco.

Knittel, fuel distributor foreman at the 78th Supply Squadron at Hamilton, died yesterday after a heart attack. He lived at Quarters 1147-B on the base.

Surviving are his wife, Faith; two daughters, Mrs. Hope Durham of San Rafael and Mrs. Josephine Robinson of Cocoa, Fla., and six sons, Louis S. of Norfolk, Va., Albert L. of San Francisco, James B. of Napa, Wilbert of Kings Beach, Placer County, Robert R. of San Rafael and H. Duane of Hamilton Air Force Base.

West Coast Air Flights Extended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—West Coast Airlines extended its Pacific Coast service today to three California cities and five in Oregon.

The airline's first scheduled flights were due today at San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. At the same time, service was inaugurated to Salem, Bend-Redmond and Newport-Toledo in Oregon.

The company also will start flying to Utah and eastern Washington and Oregon.

Truck Driver Strike Won't Affect Marin

A threatened strike by 3,000 pickup and delivery truck drivers of San Francisco Teamsters Local 85 has no effect on Teamsters truck drivers in Marin County, a union official said today.

Tony Silva, secretary of Teamsters Local 624 here, would not comment further on a vote last night by the San Francisco union to go on strike Monday unless employer groups come up with acceptable new offers by Sunday.

A citywide strike was threatened in San Francisco as the truck drivers, meeting at the Cow Palace, rejected the California Trucking Assn.'s offer of a 25-cent hourly increase retroactive to July 1 and a 20-cent raise next year.

The truck drivers also rejected an offer by the Draymen's Assn. for a three-year contract providing a 25 cent hourly increase this year and the next two years.

Members of Oakland Teamsters 70 and smaller locals in Contra Costa County and Santa Clara County accepted the California Trucking Assn. offer last week.

Enjoyable Life

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ray Trent says his duties as mayor of suburban Del City aren't wearing him down. "It's a fascinating hobby. Once you get into City Hall I don't think you can ever get it out of your system."

COURT GIVES REPRIEVE TO SLIPWAY RESIDENTS

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court gave Arques until Aug. 24 to work out some type of sewer connection with city facilities instead of letting sewage run into the bay.

Wallace S. Myers, attorney for Arques, told the judge his client is working with Sausalito City Engineer John C. Oglesby to connect to city sewer facilities. Arques hopes to have the problem solved by Aug. 24.

Defections By Iron Curtain Youths Feared At Festival

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Officials of the seventh Communist World Youth Festival took new precautions today to prevent any mass defection of Iron Curtain delegates to the West.

Reliable sources inside the festival said there will be a sharp reduction in East-West meetings, political discussions and even such social events as dancing parties and sightseeing tours.

"All this stuff about democracy, freedom and rock 'n' roll just gives our people a lot of wrong ideas and is bound to cause trouble," an East European Communist party official was quoted.

Three delegates—from Communist Hungary, Czechoslovakia and East Germany — asked Austria for political asylum. Communist organizers of the festival to promote "peace and friendship" fear their fete might backfire embarrassingly before the closing Tuesday.

There were about 7.1 per cent more full-time freshman students on the nation's college campuses during the 1958-'59 semester than there were the year before.

Package Stolen From Mailbox

Two men grabbed a package from the mailbox in front of Capri Apartments in San Rafael Wednesday night and fled in a late model car with lights off, police reported.

Florence Lillian Day of 14 Valencia street, who is acting manager of the apartment building at 79 Woodland avenue, said she noticed the two men loitering near the mailboxes about 9:50 p.m. As she approached, one of the men grabbed a package from a rack below the boxes and ran to their car.

Cars, Not Planes, Pay Airport Most

San Francisco International Airport, fifth in the United States in passenger volume, does not derive its greatest income from air traffic or the airlines which use its facilities, Mark Gerstle, airport public relations director, told the Sausalito Rotary Club yesterday.

Gerstle said the huge field's greatest single source of revenue is from the car parking concession, which pays 82 per cent of its fees to the airport.

State Asks Doctor Get Death Penalty

WEST COVINA (AP) — The threat of the gas chamber looms over the romance of Dr. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, lovers in a triangle shattered by death.

The prosecution announced yesterday it will seek the death penalty for the 41-year-old crew-cut surgeon—but not for his shapely 22-year-old sweetheart.

They are charged with murdering the doctor's pretty wife, socialite Barbara Finch, 33, found shot in the back near the Finches' $65,000 home July 18.

Municipal Judge Albert H. Miller denied the wealthy surgeon bail and ordered him held for superior court trial and set arraignment for Aug. 17 at nearby Pomona.

BROWN HINTS HE MAY BECOME REAL PRESIDENTIAL HOPEFUL

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown has indicated his status may change from that of favorite son to serious candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Brown's hint of becoming more than just a favorite son came yesterday at a news conference when he was asked to describe the term "favorite son."

He said a favorite son was one whom people active in politics in a state would like to see as a candidate for president. Brown added that historically a favorite son candidate is put into a campaign "where there might be some hope by the delegation." Then he added "I think I'll leave it there."

Fire-Fighters Continue Battle To Save Timber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the most extensive series of forest fires in California's history entered its 10th day today.

At Pollard Flat, 60 miles south of the Oregon line, 1,000 men hoped to encircle a blaze that has consumed 3,000 acres of fir and pine. Their fire line was about 80 per cent completed this morning.

Ranger Richard Mirrales would not elaborate but said Division of Forestry officials believed it was set deliberately.

South of Eureka and about 25 miles from the Northern California coast, forestry crews managed to surround a fire that tore through almost 800 acres of timber, slash and grass. But crew leaders said they had no idea when the blaze would be controlled.

Near San Andreas, about 50 miles southeast of Sacramento, a fire was partially controlled during the night after sweeping over more than 200 acres of timber and brush.

Game Closing At Carnival Protested

A member of Novato American Legion Post 708 said today he will protest to the Marin County Board of Supervisors the closing of three "wheels of fortune" at a Legion-sponsored carnival.

John R. Kiker of 1904 Benton lane, Novato, claimed the wheels "were in fact operating legally under county ordinance." He said he would file a formal protest with the supervisors.

Donald E. Midyett, district attorney's investigator, asked operators to shut down the wheels Tuesday night on the ground that they constituted illegal gambling. Operators of the wheels complied.

The Foley and Burk Carnival at Highway 101 and Diablo avenue is to run through tomorrow night. The Legion post is to receive a percentage of the show's profits to use toward construction of a public drag strip and recreational area north of Novato.

Trustees Slate Closed Session

After tomorrow morning's budget session, Mill Valley school district trustees will hold a closed executive session, according to Mrs. Jean Rosse, trustee president.

She said that the session will concern the employment of the district's administrators. Supt. G. R. McConnell will participate in the discussion.

HOW EXCITED CAN YOU GET?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ralph Hamilton, 40, rushed into a telephone booth to call his wife with the good news —the property they had wanted to buy was now available.

He received only minor cuts.

Unexpected Dip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Berquist couldn't understand why his wife and child, who had been watching him water ski from his auto on the beach, suddenly joined him in the water and were waving frantically. Then he noticed the car was underwater. The baby had loosened the hand brake. Both were rescued.

Job Chief Says Mexicans Picked Over Domestic Help

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—State Director of Employment John E. Carr has charged that members of his department's Farm Placement Service gave farm labor jobs to Mexican nationals when domestic workers had first right to the jobs.

Carr spoke yesterday before a group of departmental employees here. He said his investigation of the service would continue until he had fixed responsibility at the top—"no matter how high that might be."

The investigation already has resulted in the firing of Asst. Placement Service Chief William N. Cunningham last Tuesday, only four days before he was due to retire. Cunningham was charged with using state personnel and equipment to pick up gifts of food from ranchers and co-ops and keeping false, cover-up records.

Carr said that the point of his investigation was not "just a case of somebody accepting grapefruit or a bottle of whiskey, or responding to ordinary California hospitality. It went to the point of regular, traditional, longtime abuse of of power and authority."

Concerning farm laborers, Carr said, "There are many domestic farm workers who are ready, willing and able to comply with conditions that give them a prior right to the jobs that are being held by Mexican nationals in the state, and who never get a chance to exercise it.

"They are deliberately horned off by people in our department whose obligation it is to assure them that prior right."

Plane Delivers Serum To Town Hit By Botulism

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A "mercy" plane carrying antitoxin for five persons stricken with a usually fatal form of food poisoning arrived here early this morning after an all-night flight from Stewart Air Force Base, N.Y.

The serum was flown to the Idaho city in a T33 jet trainer in response to an urgent plea from six persons suffering with what is believed to be botulism.

One person has already died from the poisoning and three other victims have been placed in iron lungs.

The Dead Sea Scrolls, discovered in 1947, are about 1,900 years old. They are believed to antedate the Old Testament by 1,000 years.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

That Fragrant 4th Street Aroma Is Coming From Kitchen At Joe's

"If it had been a snake it would have bitten you."

So goes the old saying, meaning that what you were looking for was right under your nose all the time.

What your olfactory organ may have missed smelling is the tantalizing aroma of good cooking emanating from Joe's on downtown Fourth street, San Rafael, where Guido Farina and Hector Rubini hold kitchen counsel and turn out food gems to match the fragrance.

If it happens to be Hector's recipe for voltolini (veal rolled with prosciutto) that's doing the beckoning, my advice is to let yourself go and partake. Beef Medallion, another specialita della casa, is served nightly. Consider also the tenderloin brochettes served with Italian risotto.

Until recently Joe's has been open seven days a week. Now it's closed on Sundays—not because there isn't enough business but because there hasn't been enough time to rest. If you don't think Hector and Guido and their wives, Bob and Jo Ann Benjamin, Adele Barrow and the others can't stand some weekend time off you evidently haven't looked in and seen the activity here since it blazoned out in its remodeled glory.

TRANSPORTING 40 DOZEN wine glasses without breakage to Squaw Valley and back again doesn't seem like much of a problem—but that's only a part of it.

Ondine has been selected to put on a feed at the Olympic Games site Sept. 25 which will probably have chef Alfred Roblin running in circles right in Sausalito. It won't be just any old feed like a weekend barbecue, but haut cuisine for some 60 bigwigs, movie stars, gourmets and Olympic officials, with all the de luxe trimmings.

Alfred Roblin himself will supervise the menu down to the last fromage. Dinner will be held in Squaw Valley Lodge but participants will have to go 2,500 feet higher by ski lift to the Cornice for their hors d'oeuvres and champagne.

Why all the wine glasses? Just that there are seven courses, each with its appropriate vintage, and with more than 60 people—well, figure it out for yourself.

AL CAWEST, CHEF at The Cellars, puts out a $2.75 dinner selection on Sunday nights to please a variety of tastes—prime rib, New York steak, scallopini, parmigiano and others. He'll also take care of special orders for frog legs, sweetbreads and trout (he'll cook your own, too). All you have to do is ask, but give him a little extra notice.

Sunday is the only night The Cellars is open for dinner, but lunches are served daily—I suggest you try the steak sandwiches. They're good.

FIGURES IN THE right hand column of the Woodlands menu are just about as popular as you can get in Marin County these days. For that matter, I haven't any complaint to make about the listing in the left hand column either.

The Woodlands has a new broiler—guaranteed to put the xxxx's on your New York steak just the way you want them. In between it's juicy and tender—10 ounces of delightful beef eating. We tried it a few days ago and I went home convinced that I should do something about our own grill, or the meat, or the cooking, or something. My xxxx's always come out looking like I smeared them up with a charcoal eraser.

Maybe it happens other places, too, but I seem to notice it more at the Woodlands. Just when you're all settled on what you're going to eat, along comes a gal bearing a plate of something you were going to order but didn't, and it looks so appetizing you wish you had because you were probably right in the first place, only now it's too late.

Cheer up. That guy who just came in and sat at the next table will feel the same way when he sees what you got.

Here's Weekend Movie Roundup

By LESLIE DARD

Here's what your entertainment money will get you this weekend at Marin's movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Hercules" (color), starring muscleman Steve Reeves, is an adventure tale based on the legends of Greek mythology—a half man-half god who saves a royal princess, slays a Cretan bull and a lion with his bare hands, licks a dragon, encounters Amazons and joins Jason and his Argonauts to bring back the Golden Fleece.

Reese was a relatively obscure fellow before he left this country to act in Europe. He reportedly has a huge following there and his is a bid to build him up as a beefcake sensation here.

Reeves is quite a fellow in the strength department and performs some amazing feats. Attired in a fringe beard and an abbreviated toga, he looks like a composite of all the Mr. Universe winners (he was one, too).

Sylva Koscina plays the princess rescued by Hercules and there are a flock of Italian beauties, sparsely draped, as the Amazon gals.

"God himself could not sink her," a deckhand boasted. But when the biggest vessel of its time went down in mid-Atlantic she carried 1,502 men, women, and children into the depths.

Eric Ambler's superb script hews closely to the outline of the Walter Lord best-seller. The cast is headed by Kenneth More as a courageous second officer.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"South Pacific," the big-screen, color version of the Broadway hit, is being held over another week.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

The best thing about "Some Came Running" is Shirley MacLaine's performance (which won her an Oscar nomiantion as best actress) as a floozy in pursuit of Frank Sinatra. The film opens Sunday.

The film belongs pretty much to Miss MacLaine, perfect in her performance as the devoted pushover in Frankie's brooding search for a meaning to his life.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

He plays an insurance salesman who unwittingly sells a policy to Jesse James and then is ordered to go West—either to invalidate the policy or preserve the life of the outlaw.

LARK THEATER

"My Uncle," Oscar-winner as the best foreign film of the year, ends its long run in a few days.

It stars Jacques Tati, the clown of "Mr. Hulot's Holiday" who demonstrates the idocy of modern gadgetry by contrasting the insane mechanized world with the gay, carefree life of an old-fashioned Parisian suburb.

NOVATO THEATER

Walt Disney's leprechauns take over the Novato screen starting Sunday in "Darby O'Gill and the Little People," a frequently delightful Irish fantasy (in color).

Albert Sharpe is Darby, the lazy, aging caretaker of a lord's estate; Janet Munro is Katie, his lovely, spitfire daughter; Sean Connery is a Dublin lad imported to replace Darby; Kieron Moore is the village bully, and Jimmy O'Dea, for many years as star of the Irish stage, is Brian Conner, king of the leprechauns.

FAIRFAX THEATER

No man wants to die—if he must—in what may be the final battle of a war. This was the situation at Pork Chop Hill in Korea, which King Company, led by Lt. Joe Clemons (Gregory Peck) was ordered to retake.

Inch by inch, the 135 men moved forward. And when the terrible day was over, the 28 men still alive held the hill—a fragile victory recorded by that brilliant military historian, Gen. S. L. A. Marshall.

The story has been told in the film, "Pork Chop Hill," and it may well establish this battle alongside Bunker Hill in history. Recommended.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Young Philadelphians," starring Paul [illegible]an, is a comedy-drama [illegible] several generations from [illegible]e city of Brotherly Love — some from the Main Line, some from the wrong side of the tracks. And when the twain meet, the results are somewhat unsettling. Quite a few skeletons are rattled in the dramatic windup.

FBI Transfers Office Chiefs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—D. K. Brown, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Los Angeles for nearly two years, is being transferred to Cleveland as head of the office there, it was announced yesterday.

Webb Burke, San Francisco office head, will succeed Brown and Richard D. Auerbach of the Chicago office will replace Burke.

Brown is a native of Arizona and a graduate of Arizona State University. He suffered two mild heart attacks earlier this year but is now nearly completely recovered and reported in good health.

Hawaii Vote Record

ANCIENT MUSCLEMAN—Steve Reeves plays the title role, co-featured with Sylva Koscina, in the Technicolor production of "Hercules," opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

MR. FUNNY — Jacques Tati stars in "My Uncle," a "panic of laughter" which is now in its third week on the screen of the Lark Theater in Larkspur. It will end its run there Tuesday.

Nike Bases Invite Public

Starting next week, three of Marin's four Nike guided missile sites will hold open house from 2 to 4 p.m. each Wednesday.

Visitors will be shown the missile areas, radar control equipment and administrative buildings, announced Col. Andrew R. Lolli, commander of the 40th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade at Ft. Barry.

At Ft. Barry, the first operational Nike-Hercules site will be open. Nearby, at Ft. Cronkhite, there is another site soon to be converted from Nike-Ajax to the larger Hercules. North of San Rafael at the Santa Venetia site is another Hercules unit which will also hold open house each Wednesday afternoon.

Only the Angel Island site will not hold open house due to lack of transportation.

France has a population of about 40 million people. This does not include its colonial population.

GATE PLAYGROUND

Cast Shares Honors In 'On The Town'

By HARRY LOVETT

A talented cast, sensitive direction and a made-to-order vehicle combine at the Sausalito Gate Playhouse in "On the Town," a zany, fast-moving vehicle which opened to an enthusiastic audience last week.

"On the Town" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow, and Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the theater, on Bridgeway opposite Princess street. It is scheduled to run each Friday, Saturday, and Sunday through August.

"On the Town" recounts the highly unlikely experience of three sailors on 24-hour leave in New York City, whose efforts to find girls create some of the maddest and entertaining sequences possible.

Director Leslie Abbott has drawn together the abilities of a huge cast and has extracted from it the talent which drew constant rounds of applause throughout the two-act, 16-scene production on opening night.

"On the Town" is one of those large cast productions where there is no such thing as a star or leading character. To single one out would be unfair to the many talented performers.

It is obvious that the three sailors, played by Zane Tamas, Ron Debenedictis, and John Roberts, constituted the "framework" of a lead part ably abetted by their "femmes," Raquel Lopez, Virgina Rae, and Jean Dayl.

To these six should go the plaudits normally heaped on the leads, and we found it difficult to single out one above the others.

Raquel Lopez, another of the girls, in the part of Ivy, performed some exquisite dancing on a tiny stage that brought rounds of applause as she played for the affections of her sailor.

The third girl, statuesque Jean Dayl as Claire, did a masterful job of capitalizing on her tallness, especially when she was adorned in a sexy, clinging black gown. In addition, she brought to the Gate Playhouse a refreshing singing voice that was clear, true, and vibrant.

Commendation should go, too, to Larry Gryggman as Pitkin, the foppish fiance of Claire, and to Jeraldine Burnett as Lucy Schmeeler, the blind date for Pitkin who constantly sneezed.

Particular credit should go to Gloria Mendenhall, who in less than three days' rehearsal time, mastered the part of Madame Dilly, the music teacher. Not even listed on the program, she stepped into the part at the last moment, when Val Bleecker, originally engaged for the role, dropped out.

Highlights were an ensemble musical number staged in a subway train with swaying movements of the sitters and standees executed hilariously; the scene of Hildy and her sailor boy in a taxi as they sing "Come Up to My Place," the dream ballet done by Ivy and the ensemble, and the series of quick scenes staged in three New York nightclubs.

Worthy of note was the smooth work on the part of the entire cast and stage crew for scene-shifting between the 16 fast-moving scenes. As for the scenery itself, the deft touch of Sausalito artist Enid Foster was evident throughout.

'Wind In Willows' Done Perfectly In Sausalito

By MARTHA TRUDELL

A capacity audience attended the opening performance of "The Wind in the Willows," the Playbox production at Sausalito's Little Theater. The cast of the A. A. Milne adaptation of Kenneth Graham's story included youngsters from 8 to teen-age. Ann Brebner, responsible for direction, should feel rewarded for her efforts. The large cast was letter perfect and performed with the poise of seasoned troupers.

The story concerns a little girl, Marigold, played by Pippa White, who will be remembered for her important and professional role in the recent Little Theater production of "The Innocents." Marigold feels an affinity with the animal world and we are taken into their "home life."

The timid and near-sighted Mole, played by Robin Ray, joins Mr. Rat and crotchey Mr. Badger, played extremely well by both Carol and Stephanie Burns. These three have little regard for Mr. Toad, a pompous and conceited extrovert.

Inga Newbeck carrried the role with all the bluster called for—perhaps a little loud at times, but toads are noisome creatures. The foursome's adventures continue through three acts with Mr. Toad emerging triumphant.

Even more important than the mechanics of the production is the fact that the children so enjoyed what they were doing. The cast members took care of their own costumes and showed imagination and humor.

State Legislators Dig Deep Into Wallets Of Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State legislatures reached into taxpayers' wallets for hundreds of millions of dollars this year to keep state bank accounts in the black and finance record budgets.

Lawmakers in almost all of the 46 states with legislatures meeting in 1959 have approved or still must approve budgets at an all time high. In some cases they found that the tax take from economic growth or the bounce-back from the 1958 recession would cover the increased drain on the treasury.

But in many other states the legislatures glumly agreed that they had to raise taxes. Some tried new tax gimmicks but most of them simply raised income taxes, sales taxes or excises on liquor, beer and tobacco.

New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Utah joined the federal government and about a dozen other states which impose withholding taxes on paychecks to help insure collection of income taxes. Idaho levied a $10 head tax on each income tax return filed.

Colorado, Ohio, Maine and Utah put a tax on hotel and motel bills. Nebraska levied a new tax on pari-mutuel betting. The heretofore dry state of Oklahoma legalized liquor, and the legislature promptly taxed it $2.40 a gallon to yield an estimated 3½ million dollars a year.

Cigarette smokers were a favored target in the search for new revenue. California, which had no cigarette tax, got a levy of three cents a package when the legislature approved 222 million of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 256 million dollar tax program.

Of 11 other states which increased cigarette taxes this year, Iowa and Wyoming went to four cents a pack; Idaho, New York, Ohio, South Carolina and South Dakota to five cents; Minnesota five and one-half; Pennsylvania and Washington, six; and Vermont seven cents. According to the Tobacco Institute, 25 states now collect cigarette taxes of five cents or more per package on top of the eight-cent federal tax.

In Minnesota, the legislature boldly approved a slight increase in the beer tax, which had been untouchable for 25 years. Although it balked at a withholding tax, it also raised taxes on personal and corporate income, liquor, cigarette and other tax sources as part of a 45 million dollar tax package.

Besides California with its 222 million dollars of new taxes, states with six-figure tax increase packages this year included: Ohio, 275 million dollars; New York, 273 million; Illinois, 135 million and Washington, 112 million dollars.

In the crisis-ridden state of Michigan, the legislature appears to be moving toward a sales tax increase from 3 to 4 or 5 per cent, with an exemption for food if it goes to 5. Action along this line would kill off Gov. G. Mennen Williams' proposal for a new state income tax as part of his 140 million dollar tax plan.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. David L. Lawrence's request for a 200 million dollar tax increase has been snarled in the legislature since March. The legislature has raised the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ and may try to break the present deadlock by lifting it to 4 per cent and extending it to items now exempt.

The Washington State Legislature raised the sales tax from 3½ to 4 per cent and increased other levies, too. Although they controlled the legislature, the Democrats failed to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to get a referendum on a constitutional amendment to authorize an income tax.

After the recent rash of state gasoline tax increases, fewer states reached for the motorist this year. Among those which did were New York with a gas tax increase from four to six cents a gallon, Ohio from five to seven and New Hampshire and West Virginia from six to seven. Proposed gas tax increases are still pending in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Several governors presumed to have national political ambitions as candidates or kingmakers had to wrestle with record-breaking budgets and sizeable tax programs this year. Beside Brown and Williams on the Democratic side, they included Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and William G. Stratton of Illinois and Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio.

A Democratic exception was Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who found increased revenue from present tax laws enough to finance a record budget.

Another was Gov. George Docking of Kansas, who recommended a small reduction from last year's budget and cutting the sales tax from 2½ to 2 per cent. The GOP legislature refused to make the tax reduction and made some increases in the Docking budget but left it still 2½ million dollars below the total for last year.

In California, where the legislature concentrated on upper bracket taxpayers in voting an income tax increase, Democratic members liked to compare their plan with what they called Rockefeller's "soak the poor" income tax schedule.

In an order delaying new state construction in Illinois, Stratton had Michigan in mind when he said his administration was "not going to wake up some morning and find we can't meet our payrolls."

If you consider that the purchasing power of the dollar was $1.00 in the 1947-49 period, then it was worth $268.10 in 1909 and less than 83 cents today.

TROPHY

paramedics, it is also the first time a team stationed in the United States has ever won the trophy.

Col. Robert J. Stribling, commander of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron, when told the news, said: "I always knew we had the best. We just waited for the opportunity to prove it."

Events in the contest were directly related to what the paramedics learn to do in their work in the rescue squadron. They were required to make jumps with their 28-foot parachutes into a tree, open water, and three open field jumps from SA16 Albatross aircraft.

The tree jump required the jumper to land safely in a tree, shed the special suit worn, and let himself down with his own rope. In the water jump, a man has to gain a raft in record time after hitting the water. Open field jumps are related to landing close to a target.

Combined with the actual jumping is the solving of complicated medical problems, making accurate cargo drops, military appearance and courtesy, and demonstration of how well the jumper understands his job.

him, he can come right over and get it." Konatich said he would try to keep alive any shark he catches by tying it to a dock, or securing it in a net. He said a shark might die if its back is broken trying to break a rope tied to its tail.

SEA BASS RUN

Scientists said warmer water probably is not the reason more sharks are being observed here. They said the increased run of sea bass probably is responsible, and that it probably is easier for a shark to catch a bass in shallow bay water than in the deeper ocean.

Examination of the sharks' stomach, however, has disclosed no bass.

Dr. Follett said nothing found in the sharks' stomach indicates they had attacked human beings, but the shark taken yesterday, a male, had a smaller shark inside him. Follett said the smaller shark was a different variety, probably an angel shark.

PREVIOUSLY UNNOTICED

Follett said sharks of the man-eater variety have always been in northern coastal waters, but have gone unreported or unnoticed.

A spokesman for the state Division of Beaches and Parks in Sacramento said Indian Beach, near where the three Marin sharks have been caught, will not be closed, but officials at Tomales Bay State Park have been warning swimmers.

5 Men Handcuff Patrolman, Toss Him Off Cliff

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—A California highway patrolman was handcuffed and thrown off a cliff last night by five men he had stopped for speeding.

Mitchell was found by a fellow patrolman at the bottom of an embankment near Robroy Junction on Highway 1. The other patrolman said he began searching for Mitchell when the latter failed to report at the end of his shift.

Mitchell said the five men overpowered him after he had stopped their car for speeding. He said they handcuffed and beat him, then threw him down the embankment.

3-Car Crash Hurts Woman

A 70-year-old Sausalito woman today was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital after being injured in a three-car accident at 5:45 p.m. yesterday just south of the Corte Madera overpass on Highway 101.

Mrs. Lillian F. Thompson of 99 Monte Mar drive was the driver of the rear car in a three-car rear-end collision, and was cited for driving too fast for traffic conditions. The hospital reported she suffered internal injuries.

The California Highway Patrol said her car rammed the rear of one driven by Hayward Cooper McDonald, 67, of Sonoma. His passenger, Edna Cooper, complained of pain but was not treated.

The lead car was driven by Frank Romaggi Prince Jr. 39, of 39 Lochinvar road, San Rafael, the CHP said.

The study groups noted a split between the Legislature's education committee and the state Department of Education. "The Legislature's set of objectives favors stress on academic achievement," said the chairman. "The state Department of Education stressed social adjustment."

All the study groups asked for a return to A-B-C-D-F grading on report cards. They said the report card now in use in Novato elementary schools "is unrealistic, tends to deceive and confuse a child as to his true intellectual standing."

Discipline should be tightened both in the school and at home, the conferees agreed. But parent members of the group blamed teachers for lax discipline in school, and teacher members blamed parents for failure to discipline their children at home.

The state Department of Education came in for criticism again by groups studying curriculum.

Most objectionable courses, in the parents' opinion, were those in "personal development." But a teacher defended these courses, saying children were interested in talking to him about their problems and "they told me things they would not tell their parents."

Several courses parents found most objectionable are required by the state, the conference noted.

The conferees split as to whether children should be grouped in classes by ability. But a plan tried last year at West Novato School won praise. Under it "gifted" children were taken out of classrooms during certain periods to take speeded-up courses in their special interests.

The conferees found little to criticize in, the present setup at Novato High School, which provides both college preparatory and vocational training.

As to teachers' salaries, the parents on the committee agreed salaries should be at least as high in Novato as the Bay Area average, and some felt they should be higher to attract superior teachers.

The conference continued its discussions last night in four sections. Lee Wise was chairman of a section on "competition as a motivation for learning." Thomas C. Hardcastle headed the section on ability groupings; and William Mayo, that on teacher problems. Mrs. Yarish was chairman of a section on school responsibilities.

The group decided to hold monthly meetings, with a digest of the results of the previous meeting to be presented at the opening of the succeeding one.

Trucker Gets Back Lost Furniture

Deputy Sheriff Newall Snyder recovered several boxes of furniture which blew off a truck on Highway 101 south of Le Chateau last night.

Snyder was headed north about 9:30 p.m. when he spotted two men loading a box onto their station wagon. Another big box lay in front of the station wagon. When the deputy stopped, the station wagon started to leave.

Snyder stopped driver Howard Eli Sassen, 36, of San Jose and Charlie Monroe Johnson, 64, of Morgan Hill and ordered him to take out the box. Inside the station wagon were a large box with three chairs, a smaller box with cushions, and three loose chairs.

Meanwhile, the deputy radioed the main office to have the truck notified. Truck driver Oral L. Gray of Martinez returned for his lost furniture. He was delivering the furniture for Certified Chrome Furniture Co. of El Segundo when the boxes fell off. He had driven on unaware of the loss.

Court Writ Sought By Police Slayer

Marion James Linden, 45, Los Angeles police slayer scheduled to die in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber next Friday, asked the state Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus.

In his petition he said he was insane at the time he asked to be allowed to conduct his own defense and consequently the court erred in permitting him to do so. He said this deprived him of liberty without due process of law.

Linden's pleas for review of his case have been turned down by all federal courts.

Ike Proclaims Day Of Prayer

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today designated Wednesday, Oct. 7, as a national Day of Prayer.

He called on Americans to join in prayer on that date and "give thanks for the bounty of Providence which has made possible the growth and promise of our land."

Boy Lost Five Days In Grand Canyon Found

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—A 16-year-old Savannah, Ga., boy lost in the Grand Canyon for five days was found alive this morning eight miles from the spot near Desert View where two hiking companions had died.

John Manson Owens III, barefoot, worn and dead tired, was rushed to Grand Canyon Hospital where National Park rangers described his condition as "good" considering what he had been through.

Rangers did not attempt to question the youth extensively because of his weakened condition. But they said he would be all right.

He told them he had survived by sucking juice from cactus. Rangers had given him up for dead two days ago.

Owens was known to be without food and water.

He entered the canyon off Highway 64 Friday on a hike with Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, and Father Eugene Gavigan, 30, a Catholic priest, both of Savannah.

A search was started Sunday when other hikers reported hearing cries for help. Mahany's body was found Sunday afternoon. He apparently was a victim of exposure. But he had scrawled a message saying one of the party was hurt in a fall.

That was the priest. His body was found Monday.

TIRED PIGEON GETS AIRLIFT

The bird dropped on the deck of the Royal Interocean Line ship Pjinegara, July 14. Crewmen found a leg band showing its home was in Formosa.

Cost of the job is estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000.

The water district issued an appeal today for the public to continue precautions against water waste, saying that there was fine cooperation during this month's hot spell but pointing out that next year's needs and supply are not known.

"We're got the water but let's not waste it," said Seeger. Normal use, including lawn watering, is all right, he said. But he urged avoidance of overflow down driveways and along curbs.

"We have about five billion gallons of water in storage," said Seeger. "Our estimated consumption now and January is three and one-half billion—which means that in January we wall have a balonce of one and one-half billion.

Marin's First Army Reserve Center Opens

The first Army Reserve Center in Marin County has been opened at 46 Louise street, San Rafael.

The center is now recruiting men between 17 and 25 without military service who can fulfill their service obligations by enlisting in the reserve for eight years and serving six months at Fort Ord, beginning in August or September.

They will continue training with their local unit one night a week and 15 days each summer for three years. They will then be eligible for transfer to the standby reserve.

The Reserve Center is staffed by members of the XV Army Corps (Reserve), Presidio of San Francisco. Capt. George C. Gossert heads the center, assisted by Sgt. Francis Rockey.

The first Marin County Army Reserve unit is Headquarters Company of the 362nd Basic Combat Training Regiment. Commanded by Col. John R. Martindale of Mill Valley, the unit has openings for men with earlier military service to continue paid training. Reservists receive a day's base pay for attending a two-hour drill.

The Reserve Center is open from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday, and from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday.

Questions On School Costs Being Answered Next Week

Yesterday in this space we noted the high cost of state government, particularly that 49.5 per cent of state government cost goes to education.

Slightly more than 50 per cent of your county tax dollar goes to schools as well, making education by far the most costly part of government today.

This is not necessarily bad. We can think of no way we'd rather spend our tax dollar than on the education of our youth, providing it is properly expended.

Next week you will have an opportunity to see how the schools are planning to spend your taxes. You will have an opportunity to speak out, and if you don't like the plans, you can ask for a change. If you have good reasons, you probably can get it too.

Under state regulation, every school district except one-teacher districts, of which there are six in Marin, must hold a public hearing on its budget during the first week in August. This includes elementary, high school and college districts.

That means that your districts, you're probably in two or three, will be opening their books for your perusal.

How much of the school budget goes to teachers' salaries?

How much to administration?

What does transportation cost?

How much for extra-curricular activities?

How much is being paid off on school bonds? On interest?

These are all fair questions and you should get the answers directly from your schools' trustees.

Trustees, incidentally, are distressed that more taxpayers don't attend their budget hearings. The Marin County Schools Board Association, an organization of all school boards in the county, is anxious to have you and is urging the public to attend.

These hard-working, non-paid men and women wish more of their fellow citizens would come in and see where the money goes. They would like to know where the public thinks savings could be made without harming the school program or where additional emphasis should be placed.

So next week is your opportunity to have a part in planning your own school districts' expenditures next year.

Find out where and when your particular meeting is going to be held (you'll find all the dates and times listed today on page 3?) and then be there to see for yourself.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

GIVE AS WELL AS TAKE

"What do you want out of life?" was the eye-catching caption in a recent bank advertisement.

In a bid for savings accounts, it advocated that individuals save for "That dream vacation, a new wardrobe, retirement years, a new house, a car or boat. Most anything, in fact."

It's natural to desire both the essentials and reasonable comforts of life. But it is important, too, to keep a healthy balance between "taking out" and putting in."

You have been delegated by God to make a unique contribution to life. It may seem insignificant to you. But if you recognize your divine mission, you find a deep and real joy in partaking of both the essentials and pleasures of life.

Seek in a Christ-like way to serve the best interests of others, especially those less fortunate than yourself. If you do, you will be making an investment that will endure for all eternity and bring endless peace and joy.

"The Son of man is not come to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a redemption for many."
(Matthew 20:28)

Old-Fashioned Grandfathers Are Hard To Find These Days

As a child I felt vaguely cheated by life because I had never known a grandpa.

One of my grandfathers was dead. The other dwelt all alone in faraway Ireland. Once he sent a photo of himself. It showed a misty-faced white-whiskered old man smoking a pipe as he sat on the doorstep of his small farm home.

Ever since then I have thought of him as Father Time. As a small boy, after being punished, I used to lie awake for hours at night wishing he were near so I could tell him my troubles.

In my mind's eye he was like the grandfather pictured sometimes on the cheap colored calendars the neighborhood grocer gave away free in good years.

It was Grandpa who stood as a kindly shield between a little boy and the rest of the adult world. It was Grandpa who took the boy fishing or gave him his first real knife.

Best of all, Grandpa never seemed so eternally busy with his own problems. That made him different from all other grownups. He always had time to pause to listen to a small boy's woes and answer his wondering questions, and tell strange and fascinating tales of how the world had been when he had been a small boy, too, ages and ages ago.

Whatever happened to that old-fashioned grandpa? If he still survives, he must be hiding in the small towns. You sure don't see him very often in the big city.

The Big-City grandpa has gone big time.

Grandpa wears a sport shirt instead of a cane. You don't find him hanging around a park playing checkers with old cronies. His game is gin rummy.

Grandpa cares more for an afternoon nip than an afternoon nap.

Does Grandpa love to babysit his grandchildren? Are you kidding? By day he is too busy taking hormone shots at the doctor's or chip shots on the golf course. At night he and Grandma are too busy doing the cha-cha.

WHO KEEPS THE night clubs going? It's foxy old Grandpa. Look at the dance floor of any good night club. For every teen-age lad you'll see five sprightly grandpas. Only Grandpa can foot the tariff.

I used to envy the kids who had an old-fashioned grandpa. Not any more. I've got a new ambition. Now I just want to become a modern-type grandpa myself — and really start living.

Keep Us Posted On Cheaper Meat

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Please keep us posted on this importation (of 30,000 lambs from Australia). Anything that brings down or gives better value in meat prices will surely be welcome to us consumers, and it is to be hoped that special interests will not prevail against it.

It is hard to imagine that a little competition will seriously hurt the U. S. suppliers.

CAPITOL REPORT

Brown In Middle Of Butler-Johnson Scrap

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

He is trying to remain absolutely neutral in the hassle between Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, and Democratic leadership in Congress, notably Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Brown was thrown into the fight between the liberal and conservative wings of the party when he accepted an appointment to serve on the Democratic National Advisory Council (DAC).

The DAC is a policy-making group, appointed by the Democratic national committee and/or Butler.

ACTUALLY, GOVERNOR Brown accepted Butler's invitation to serve on the committee two months ago, long before Butler threw a few bricks in the general direction of Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas).

However, the announcement that Brown had accepted a DAC post was made by Butler at the height of the controversy between the national chairman and congressional leaders.

Simultaneously in Washington and in Sacramento statements of acceptance were issued, both quoting Brown.

The Washington statement quoted the governor as saying he deeply appreciated the invitation of Butler to serve on the DAC to "make the party more responsive to the desires and needs of the people."

SOME WASHINGTON pundits promptly said that the timing of Brown's acceptance and his quotes from the Washington release put out by Butler's office allied the California governor with Butler in his beef with Congressional Democrats.

However, the statement released by Brown's own office in Sacramento quoted the governor as saying he was confident "the Democratic Congress is putting together a comprehensive record of accomplishment."

This particular phrase was not in the release from Butler's office — and Washington columnists once again leaped to the conclusion that Brown was mad at Butler for editing his press release and lined him up on the side of Johnson and Rayburn.

Gov. Brown, finding himself on the spot with both sides, pleaded innocent.

"I am not taking any sides in the current fight," he said last week in Sacramento.

"I think Paul Butler has been a good national chairman and has fought hard for things I believe in. I also have great respect for Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"I wish," the governor added somewhat plaintively, "all our Democratic party leaders would fight Republican policies and not each other."

BROWN'S STAFF said the published reports of friction between Brown and Butler over the different wording of the press releases were ridiculous.

They explained that the release prepared by Brown's office here was not given to Butler and that the Washington release was prepared only after a telephone conference between Butler and Fred Dutton, Brown's executive secretary. Both releases, they said, accurately quoted the governor's views.

Brown must remain neutral in the controversy for one obvious reason — as a "favorite son" candidate for president next year and possibly a serious candidate for the top spot or second place on the ticket, he cannot afford to alienate either liberal or conservative wings of the party.

Praising Billboard Ban Enforcement

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Architectural Advisory Committee of the City of Mill Valley would like to publicly commend the district attorney and the Board of Supervisors in their decision to enforce the provisions of the County Zoning Ordinance relative to the removal of illegal advertising structures.

We would urge all individuals who believe in preserving Marin County against the continuing blight of the billboards, to write to their respective supervisors in support of their stand that the value of the beauty of Marin County to the many is worth more than its obliteration by the few.

There is a sequel to my letter which you published on March 25.

"Big Daddy" Paul Hartman of Redwood Travel Advisors of San Rafael, brought the first group of Young America Tours safely home to roost on July 22 after their 30 gloriously exciting days came to an end with all acclaiming its historical and educational value.

Truly the phrase "See and Know America First" made one swell with pride after hearing my son's day-by-day and blow-by-blow account of his tour on the evening of his return.

I am sure that because he made the trip he will appreciate and become a better informed young citizen of this great country of ours.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DONALD G. DAVIS

That Beautiful Autumn-Hued Plant Can Land You In Hospital

That shining broad-leafed plant that develops lovely autumn-like hues is a beautiful production of nature — but many a weekend flower gatherer has wound up in the hospital after picking it for table decorations.

Poison oak is truly a scourge in Marin, as Supervisor Vera Schultz said at a recent meeting of the County Board of Supervisors. She wanted to know if there is some way it could be controlled.

SOMETHING IN the nature of a countywide (for the unincorporated area) poison oak abatement district was suggested, and Supervisor Walter Castro said that if such a district were set up, poison oak probably would be controlled within a couple of years.

It is doubtful, however, that the supervisors, charged as they are with watching where the tax money goes, would initiate such an expensive undertaking.

There is a county ordinance that names certain kinds of noxious thistles that must be put under control. Under the ordinance County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Peryam can declare that these thistles or any other noxious weeds are detrimental to agriculture. He must have the approval of the state director of agriculture.

But the ordinance does not direct him to rid the county of poison oak.

THE TROUBLE with an ordinance that would kill off this pernicious pest throughout the county, Supervisor William D. Fusselman has pointed out, that it would affect both urban and farm areas.

While the law might be a good one for suburban but unincorporated areas, it would work a hardship on farmers and ranchers. The intent of such a law would be to order residents to clear out poison oak and if this were not done, the county would clear it up and charge for the work.

THIS IS SIMILAR to city ordinances that require that vacant lots be cleared of debris and fire hazard materials. In the case of an abatement district, county residents would pay a tax.

If residents were told to clear off lands or pay the county to have it done, farmers and ranchers would be put to quite an expense.

Another solution would be to form special districts in urban areas. This again is impractical and complicated.

Peryam said that his office, in its program to clear weeds from roadsides, has sprayed poison oak with a substance that controls growth. The spraying is usually done along county roads where children must walk to school buses, but not in urban areas.

THE SPRAY ALSO kills other broadleaf plants, Peryam said, and in urban areas this would be costly and time-consuming because the slightest wind might carry the spray into private gardens.

Peryam said civic groups, such as women's clubs, have carried on successful campaigns against poison oak.

And he suggests this might be a good way to take action now—the formation of volunteer groups to enlist the labor of their neighbors, and conduct fund-raising campaigns to pay for spray.

Next Political Era Progressive But Can Be On Conservative Principles

How would you like a political forecast for the next eight or 10 years? Not a prediction of who will be president or which party will control Congress, but a preview of the political climate, the political problems, and the trend of the political answers?

This is what Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., has recently submitted, in the form of a most stimulating memorandum, to the New York Committee for the Democratic Advisory Council.

IT WOULD BE idle to dismiss lightly Schlesinger's forecast of the shape of things soon to come. His views will strike a responsive chord with many people and they need to be looked at understandingly. The three principal propositions in his memorandum are these:

That the "Eisenhower epoch" — the "swing to conservatism" — is drawing to its "natural end" in light of the "rhythm" of political change in the U. S.

That the new political epoch to be ushered in by the 1960 election will not resemble the New Deal, which took its special character from the depression, so much as it will the progressive period of the turn of the century.

That it is uncertain which party will be the instrument of the New Progressivism; that it might well be the Republican party under Nelson Rockefeller and that it won't be the Democratic party "if the Democrats are foolish enough to expect to inherit by default."

SCHLESINGER ARGUES that the great difference between the politics of the Sixties and the politics of the Thirties will be that, while the New Deal dealt with the problems of subsistence and survival, the New Progressivism will deal with how to improve the "quality" of life of the American people.

He sees such concrete issues as these most likely to preoccupy us during the next decade:

Improvement of Community Facilities — cities, suburbs slum clearance, better housing, urban renewal, etc.; revitalizing our educational system; improving medical care and care for aged; equal rights for minorities; development of natural resources; control of inflation; improvement of social security; elevation of popular culture; adequate foreign aid; prosecution of our weapons effort.

IN A WORD, Schlesinger is talking about the goal of a more hopeful future in this high-technology world and he suggests that if we can achieve a 4.5 per cent rate of annual economic growth, "we can give the public sector of our economy what it needs without substantial increase in taxation."

My own guess is that any change in the political consensus next year will be leftward, particularly since, as I see it, either Nixon or Rockefeller would be less "conservative" than Eisenhower.

THE REASON I put quotes around conservative is that it needs to be understood that progressive and conservative ideas do not necessarily conflict, that a progressive era of political action need not necessarily violate conservative principles. The best example is Theodore Roosevelt, whom Schlesinger cites as the first great figure of the old Progressive movement.

A conservatism which uses conservative principles to deal with the nation's problems rather than to neglect them would be a haven for a progressive. And I am convinced that if the post-Eisenhower leadership of the Republican party does not show that it is intent upon dealing with the problems Schlesinger has cited, the voters will choose the Democratic party to do so.

MMWD Considers Youth Camp Plan

The proposal of a forestry camp for Marin's juvenile law breakers got a first hearing before the directors of the Marin Municipal Water District, on whose watershed the county proposed to locate the camp, and an inconclusive reaction.

The directors decided that the proposed site next to Kent Lake was too close to the lake to protect the district's water supply adequately, reported William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer.

He said the water district directors would be willing to consider a different site for the camp.

"The next move depends on the county board of supervisors," Seegar said.

MT. WHITNEY'S A MESS, SO CLEANUP SET

"There are tons of tin cans and litter up there," says Tom Hunt of Covina, spokesman for the Sierra Club Angeles Chapter. "So we're going to climb the peak—and clean it, too."

The 30-member expedition will climb and clean Aug. 8-16. Mt. Whitney, highest spot in California, towers 14,495 feet.

Hollis May Nominate New Assistant Monday

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis may have a nominee for the job of assistant superintendent for business services to propose to the Marin County Board of Education when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday at 317 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Hollis said he had interviewed eight candidates, all of whom are acceptable to him, but needs the recommendation of an advisory committee headed by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais Union High School District before making a final selection.

The county superintendent also is in the process of interviewing 15 persons suggested as possible replacements for W. P. (Doc) Duhamel on the San Anselmo School District board.

He said he was certain to have a recommendation for this vacancy at Monday night's meeting.

Also on the agenda is an appeal from R. B. Hay of Chileno Valley road in Northern Marin, who wants an interdistrict agreement so that his children may attend Petaluma schools. Earlier this year he was denied annexation to accomplish the same purpose.

Dr. Hollis said 1,000 copies of Volume 1 of the county's new course of study for elementary grades would be ready from the printer by Monday's meeting. In addition, 500 copies each of Volumes 2 and 3 have been multilithed in the county schools office so that all three volumes will be available for teachers' meetings to precede the opening of school next month, he reported.

TWISTED RAILS — Workmen and spectators are seen around the Chicago and Northwestern Twin Cities 400 after the passenger train was derailed yesterday in western Wisconsin. At least 100 persons were hurt and ten were still hospitalized today. (AP Wirephoto)

Taxpayers Feel Steel Strike Pinch

It has taken several forms: relief money, unemployment compensation and surplus food.

The cost to the federal government alone is expected to reach 45 million dollars a week if the strike continues much longer.

In many states there has been a gradual increase in the number of persons applying for relief money and unemployment compensation as the strike has idled about 85,000 workers in allied industries.

Also on the upswing are applications for free government foods, such as flour, corn meal, powdered milk and rice.

STEEL WALKOUT

Union Might Welcome U.S. Intervention

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the steel union has indicated it would welcome increased federal participation in efforts to settle the nationwide steel industry strike.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said: "In view of the size and complexity of the steel industry, I don't see how the government can help but become involved in something as important as a steel strike."

McDonald's remark, made at a news conference yesterday, was interpreted in some quarters as an expression of hope that the government would intervene directly in the 17-day-old strike.

As the steel deadlock continued, further progress was made in averting scattered strikes in some segments of the aluminum industry.

Negotiations continue today in efforts to prevent a strike at midnight by the Aluminum Workers International Union against the Reynolds Metals Co. The talks went on until last midnight, with federal mediators sitting in.

Matt Davis, an international vice president of the union, said the main issue in dispute is working conditions at Reynolds plants in Virginia, Alabama and Kentucky.

Compromise Military Fund Bill Includes Sum For A-Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds for the start of a second big nuclear aircraft carrier have been included in a bill providing just under 40 billion dollars for U.S. armed forces this fiscal year.

The compromise bill worked out yesterday by Senate-House and Senate approval. It adds up to about the total President Eisenhower asked—39¼ billion dollars in new funds plus transfer authority of more than 400 million previously voted by Congress.

The measure carries an extra 45 million dollars to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men. The administration proposed a 175,000-man ceiling. An additional 170 million was provided to hold Army Reserves at 300,000 men and the Army National Guard at 400,000—10 per cent above the total asked by the Pentagon.

The Senate had voted 380 million dollars for the full cost of the nuclear carrier. The House provided no funds for it. The conferees agreed on 35 million.

At least 30 disease germs are carried by houseflies. Among them are the organisms that cause tuberculosis, typhoid fever, cholera, yaws, ad trachoma.

Ten Still Hospitalized, One Critical, After Train Mishap

MENOMONIE, Wis. (UPI)—Ten persons still were hospitalized today with injuries received when a speeding passenger train derailed at the edge of a 100-foot cliff.

At least 100 persons were injured in all, many of them children returning home from summer camps. Forty-seven persons were taken to Menomonie Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Risskin, 78, Chicago, was in critical condition. She received only bruises but suffered a heart attack on the way to Menomonie Hospital.

U.S. Judge Delays Desegregation Ruling In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Negro attorneys pondered ways today to overcome a federal judge's refusal to order immediate desegregation of Dallas public schools or set up any sort of integration timetable.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, 82, advised the school board to "put your house in order for integration" and postponed a final ruling until "closer to the fall of 1960."

He said he felt his decision was to the "best interest of all" and remarked that the U.S. Supreme Court "has us (the South) over a barrel."

Giants Really Give Foes 'The Willies'

Willie Mays. Willie Kirkland. And now—Willie McCovey!

McCovey, a 21-year-old rookie, came up from Phoenix and slammed two triples and two singles off Robin Roberts yesterday in a sensational major league debut with San Francisco. His performance sparked the Giants to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia and snapped a four-game Giant losing streak.

"I've never seen anyone break into the big leagues and hit the ball like that," chuckled Giant Manager Bill Rigney.

In the fourth, the Mobile, Ala., Negro crashed a Roberts' high fast ball to the centerfield scoreboard for a triple and scored the Giants' second run on an error at the plate.

In the fifth, the new Giant first sacker bounced a Roberts' fast ball so hard off the right field wall 340 feet away that he had to settle for a single, although it scored Mays.

On his fourth time up in the seventh, he ripped an outside fast ball for a triple to score Mays who had doubled.

Afield in Seals Stadium, where ocean breezes do tricks to fly balls, McCovey handled three pop flies expertly and was on the end of a double play.

"It was the greatest thrill of my life," grinned McCovey as he slumped his weary body on a dressing room bench.

McCovey's performance appeared to key up the other Giants. The last place Phillies had knocked the Giants out of the National League lead. Mays, who had fallen below .300, banged out two hits and walked in five times.

Orlando Cepeda, the Giants' Rookie of the Year 1958 and recent all-star game ace, was shifted from first to third to make room for McCovey. Third sacker Jim Davenport was benched.

Wednesday night McCovey had played at Phoenix. Just before he left the ball park, he got a telephone call to rush to San Francisco along with another Phoenix sensation, infielder Jose Pagan. The Giants sent shortstop Andre Rodgers to Phoenix in the trade. They also first planned to send Felipe Alou, but changed their minds.

Quality '5' Wins Cage Forfeit

Cox and Company, the Drake Benchwarmers and Quality Liquors were winners of last night's games in the Drake Summer Recreation Basketball League.

The Quality team from Fairfax won its game the easy way, a forfeit over Giacomini Cagers, but the other victors had to struggle for their triumphs.

Chet Carlisle, superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District, and Cal Riemcke, basketball coach at College of Marin, scored 11 and 10 points, respectively, to pace the Benchwarmers to a 43-41 edge over Pinky's Pizza Parlor. The losers were kept in contention throughout the game by Claude Curley who tanked 19 markers.

Bill Gallagher potted 18 digits in the Cox team's 48-44 win over Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop. Ken Anderson's 10 points led the losers.

Wrist Broken In Fall

Six-year-old Chip English of 18 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, Ross, was taken to Ross General Hospital with a broken left wrist suffered in a fall while she was playing on the lawn of her home at 8:15 p.m. yesterday.

Pony Champs Play In Hub Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the San Anselmo Recreation Park will see a clash between the championship Pony League teams of Booth and Little Roofers of San Anselmo and the Vallejo Merchants of Vallejo.

On the mound for San Anselmo will be the star sensational pitcher of the San Anselmo Pony League, Chuck Reindollar, who broke all park records with nine wins and one loss, four no-hit games, and 13 home runs, eight over the previous park record of five, formerly held by Bill Collins.

Sausalito Tennis Resumes Tomorrow

Kathy Fickert and Theresa Puharich advanced Wednesday into the second round if girls' play in the Sausalito Beginners Tennis Tournament. Kathy blanked Chris Pera, 6-0, while Theresa edged Kathy's younger sister, Marsha, 6-4.

Play will continue tomorrow at Richardson Bay School, beginning at 9:45 a.m., in both boys' and girls' divisions.

According to John Minton, director of the city's summer tennis program, sign-ups will also be accepted tomorrow morning for the city-wide junior tournament.

Sixto To Sue Bowdry For Walkout

The nation's No. 4 light heavyweight contender, Jess Bowdry, ran out on a fight at curtain time last night. He was suspended.

Today he was threatened with lawsuits to reimburse the promoter and his scheduled opponent, Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo, for their expenses.

The 60-day suspension was automatic.

Bowdry appeared at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium a few minutes before time for the first of the evening's scheduled six fights. He presumably learned only then that the California Athletic Commission in mid-afternoon had refused to license one of his co-managers, Bernie Glickman.

Bowdry, from St. Louis, said he wouldn't fight without Glickman in his corner.

So promoter Bennie Ford had the ring announcer tell the fans the entire card was cancelled and they could cash in their tickets at the box office. The fans, still arriving and estimated at perhaps 1,000, exhausted the funds on hand and some will have to collect today or later.

Jack Urch, executive officer of the athletic commission, said Glickman didn't even come to California until Wednesday and didn't apply for a license until 3 p.m. yesterday. He said two witnesses at recent California commission hearings into possible underworld influence on boxing testified Glickman and co-manager Eddie Yawitz associated with Frankie Carbo, eastern underworld figure who is under investigation in New York.

California commissioners held a telephone conference and refused to license Glickman pending an investigation. Yawitz did not come to California and has not applied for a license.

"It is not our desire to punish any fighter because of his manager's action," Urch said. "But the state Legislature told us not to license anybody under investigation by the attorney general or the commission.

"In view of the testimony linking them with Carbo, we can't permit them to be licensed until they are investigated."

Urch said Glickman, a Chicagoan, might appear before the commission Sept. 19. Yawitz, of St. Louis, has indicated no interest in a California license.

Karl Ashley, of San Anselmo, Rodriguez' manager, said he would sue Bowdry for loss of purse and reimbursement of training expenses. He said the unranked San Anselmo fighter laid off work on a $150 a week job three weeks to train, had to pay sparring partners and had other expenses.

Sixto was to have received 17½ per cent of the net gate. Ford said sales were $2,600 at noon and hundreds were at the box office when the fight was cancelled.

Ford said he instructed his attorney, Nate Cohn, to sue for loss of all promotional expenses and potential profit. He said Bowdry's camp had received four round trip plane tickets worth about $1,000 and an advance of $200. He reported other expenses include at least $400 for rent—the minimum on a sliding scale; $1,500 for ushers and other employees and such promotional items as advertising and tickets.

S.R. Pony League Tourney Starts

San Rafael Pony League, which began a successful season June 1, will close out its 1959 season this weekend with a round robin tournament scheduled at Albert Field.

Double-headers tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday night starting at 6 and 8:15 o'clock are on the schedule. Public is invited free of charge.

Brown Ely Co. won the Senior Division (age 15-16) with 12 victories and three defeats while the Native Sons and Optimists shared the Junior Division (13-14 years old) each with 10 wins, 3 losses and 2 ties.

play in the majors," McCovey said, "but I didn't expect to come up in the middle of the season."

When he voiced the opinion that Roberts didn't look much tougher than some of the Pacific Coast League pitchers he had faced, Kirkland leaned over and warned:

"You'd better just say you were lucky today."

Today, somebody said, he's facing Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix.

"He don't scare me," the rookie said. It wasn't a boast. Just confidence.

49ers Get New End Prospect, But Lose A Tackle

MORAGA (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers lost a rookie tackle and picked up an end prospect yesterday.

Wally Bavaro from Holy Cross, the pro footballers' sixth draft choice, decided to give up the game this year because of a weak ankle. The 6-foot-4, 240-pounder may return next season.

Burney McQueen, 6-3, 200-pound offensive end from North Carolina A & T was drafted by the 49ers, but went to Edmonton in the Canadian League instead. He was released and asked the 49ers for a trial. He's getting it.

The length of Afghanistan is about 600 miles, containing about 250,000 square miles of mountains and fertile valleys.

Greatest, Closest Tourney Predicted In PGA Scramble

After the first-round firing over the long, tough 6,580-yard Minneapolis club course, there were nine players tied for the lead with one-under-par 69's, nine more players at even par 70, eight at 71, another 15 at 72, and 14 at 73.

No tournament in a decade has seen the players so closely bunched after the end of the first round. And all of those pros who figured to win were within shooting distance of the top.

Casper and Souchak came in early with 69's and then every half hour the list grew until it included former PGA Champion Walter Burkemo, little Jerry Barber, long-hitting Mike Krak, 23-year-old Dick Hart, veterans Chuck Klein and Jackson Bradley and Gene Littler, who is showing signs of finally living up to the predictions that he would become a second Ben Hogan.

And the rest of the who's who in America's golfing world were breathing down the leaders' neck.

Such threats as Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert were in the 72 bracket while five former PGA champions were in the 73 group. They were 57-year-old Gene Sarazen, who first won this event 37 years ago; Jim Turnesa, Chandler Harper, Jim Ferrier and Chick Harbert. With them were Claude Harmon, Don January and former U.S. Open king Dick Mayer, among others.

LEN MATTHEWS, McFARLAND IN TV GO TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson is due to climb through the ring ropes tonight, but only as a second.

The middleweight champion (in some states) will work with his Philadelphia protege, Canday McFarland, against Len Matthews, another Philadelphia boy, in Madison Square Garden. The bout will be nationally-televised and broadcast (NBC) starting at 7 p.m. PDT.

Although Matthews, only 20, was stopped by Carlos Ortiz in six rounds April 13, there is talk of matching him with lightweight champion Joe Brown in a September match in Philadelphia.

Flagpole Setters

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (UPI) — Students at Gallia Academy High School will be able to strut to school when they see an "honor flag" flying from a flagpole in front of the schoolhouse.

The flag, purchased by the student council, will be unfurled whenever a pupil wins a scholarship test, a club takes an honor or an athletic team brings home a victory.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Dodgers Will Win N.L., Says Ashburn

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Before the Phillies moved on their way last night, Richie Ashburn admitted he was not much of a prophet, but when pressed to pick the National League's 1959 winner he ventured the opinion the Dodgers would take it all.

"There are four or five teams up there now," said the Philly center fielder who was last year's batting champ.

The towhead smiled, hesitated only a moment, and said:

"Well, the Dodgers. We haven't beaten them once in the Coliseum. I believe they have the best record of any team against us. They have fine pitching and they're hitting too.

"Anyone of the teams bunched up front now could do it, but I guess I lean toward the Dodgers because of our record against them in that ball park down south.

"That is a bad ball park, incidentally. When the second All-Star game is played there, all the TV viewers who watch the game will see for themselves just how bad it is."

AS THE Giants discovered in the three-game series with the Phillies, the red-capped men from Philadelphia are going to be tough from now on.

"We've been getting some good pitching," said Ashburn. "We're not going to be easy for any team. The same goes for Cincinnati. The Redlegs are no pushover."

Ashburn believes 90 games will be enough to win the pennant, "Maybe 91." He does not hold with some prophets who think the winner might slide in with as low as 88.

Ashburn also believes that the tight race is going to see-saw some more before any team pulls away from the pack.

"IF ONE of those first division teams did get hot they could put a pretty good clamp on the pennant," he said. "But none has been able to do it yet. Look at the Braves. They dropped seven in a row."

Ashburn put in a plug for Willie Mays and expressed surprise that some Seals Stadium fans ride the $80,000 center fielder.

"Why do the fans here get on Willie?" he asked. "He's one of the greatest. That was a tough break for him the other night. I was lucky on that double. But the sonofagun has robbed me of so many hits that I was glad to take that one.

"I know it's been said before but it's a fact: Willie beats you so many ways."

In the deepest batting slump he's been in for some time, Mays has Asburn's sympathy. He is just emerging from one of his own and "they are mighty depressing."

"He's swinging too hard," said the quiet-spoken ex-college professor.

Nat'l Headquarters Denies Novato Li'l League Protest

Marin County's Little League playoffs hit a sour note last night at Novato when a San Rafael American League 2-1 victory was protested by the Novato All-Stars.

However, Tournament Director Tom King denied the protest and was supported this morning by national headquarters in Williamsport, Pa.

Immediately after San Rafael pitcher Mark Maas retired the last Novato batter on a strikeout, the Novato manager, Edwin Hale, registered a protest because he declared a San Rafael player was "ineligible."

The player involved, Barry Hachmeyer, is a resident of Novato and is ineligible to play for San Rafael, Hale declared. King explained that Hachmeyer started his Little League career in San Rafael four years ago, but since has moved to Novato. The tournament director said: "The San Rafael league has the right to retain him" under National Little League rules. After denying the protest last night, King telephoned Little League Secretary Albert Houghton in Williamsport this morning. "He supported my ruling," said King, "and told me that 'Those games are to be won on the playing field, not by protest.'"

Thus, San Rafael's 2-1 victory stands and sends the American Leaguers into the semi-finals tonight against Gallinas Valley at Novato field starting at 6:15 o'clock. The other semi-final game matches Twin Cities against the Mill Valley National League at Twin Cities, also at 6:15.

The winner of tonight's games will play for the District 3 championship tomorrow, 3:30 at Novat. The losers tonight will battle for third place tomorrow at 1:15 as a preliminary to the championship game.

Last night's thriller at Novato was not decided until the first half of the sixth inning when Jim Kilgore opened the inning with a double, was singled along to third by Jim May and then scored the winning run when a grounder to shortstop by Glen Corona was erred.

Novato's George Scherba opened the bottom of the sixth with a double, but died there when Maas got the next batter on a ground out and then struck out the last two batters. Maas pitched a three-hitter and losing hurler Chuck Overmyer gave up five hits.

In the other quarter-final games Steven Fisher hit a home run to pace Gallinas Valley to a 5-1 win over Marinwood, whose only run came on Brian Whaite's homer; Bob Campagna struck out 13 in hurling the Mill Valley Nationals to a 3-2 win over the crosstown American Leaguers and Twin Cities belted Sausalito, 12-4.

All-Class Regatta Set This Weekend

By ALFRED MATSON

After a five-week vacation the yachtsmen will return to class tomorrow and Sunday as a furtherance to their knowledge of racing in the popular All-Class Regatta. The two-day event, sanctioned by the Yacht Racing Assn., is confined to boats of class designation only, which bespeaks the shabby pun in the foregoing.

The growth of class racing in the past few years has been meteoric. There will be 23 starts in each series of races for an equal number of classes as sanctioned by the YRA. A class to rate such distinction must comprise a minimum of five boats of presumably identical measurement and if in any two races during a season less than three boats participate it will no longer be considered as an identity. The yachts involved will be assigned to one of the handicap divisions.

The weekend of racing will feature the usual channel courses and all starts will be off the St. Francis Yacht Club. First starting gun will be at 10:30 a.m. and will continue at five minute intervals until 12:20 p.m. when the last contingent will be sent on its way.

| Class | Time | Course |
|---|---|---|
| Rhodes | 10:30 | 9 |
| International One Design | 10:35 | A |
| Farallone Clipper | 10:40 | 1 |
| Yankee | 10:45 | 1 |
| Spaulding 33 | 10:50 | 1 |

| Folkboat | 11:40 | 6 |
| Fleur Bleu | 11:45 | 6 |
| Treasure Island | 11:50 | 6 |
| Junior Clipper | 11:55 | 6 |
| Acorn | 12:00 | 2 |
| Carinita | 12:05 | 2 |
| Frisco Flyer | 12:10 | 2 |
| Teak Lady | 12:15 | 7 |
| King's Cruiser | 12:20 | 2 |

TODAY THE International Mercury Championship classic will come down to the finish line with the final contest of the five-race series. From the status of the top contenders at the conclusion of the fourth race, today's set-to will determine the crown bearer for 1959.

THIRD & IRWIN STS. — OPEN NIGHTS and SUNDAYS — SAN RAFAEL, GL 3-4220

'PREVIEW OF AUTUMN' will be the theme for the third Northgate Luncheon series to be held on Wednesday, Aug. 5 at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Sponsors for the event will be the Social Service and Junior Social Service Auxiliaries. Working on the event is Mrs. Henry Hillebrand III, standing, Junior chairman, and seated, Mrs. Carl S. Brown, decorating chairman.

School Announces Fall Registration

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School announces that fall registration for pre-school children and their parents is now open.

The school, sponsored by the College of Marin's adult education program, emphasizes a study program of child development and behavior. Dr. Samuel Le Count, head of adult education, says that he is pleased to work with mothers to provide a sound parent education program for the Mill Valley area. He announced that a new director, Mrs. Arthur Seibert, has been named.

Mrs. Seibert has had several years' experience as a participating parent in the school, and last year served as a substitute teacher. She has just completed a course in nursery school techniques and activities at San Francisco State College.

Mrs. Seibert states that she plans to revise the entire curriculum of the school in order to provide more stimulating and enjoyable programs for parents and children.

The parent group meets Monday nights under the direction of the teacher at study workshops designed to help the parents understand their children's needs and growth in creative activities and group play, as well as the parent-child relationship.

Each mother participates one morning a week as a mother-teacher helping the director to organize and supervise the children's program. This includes art work, block building, story time, music and outdoor "muscle" activities.

The school will be in session five mornings a week at Almonte Hall, Lavender lane and Wisteria, Mill Valley.

Children over two years and nine months are eligible. Interested parents are urged to contact for future information about the school membership chairman Mrs. Jerome Jacobson, 540 Browning, Mill Valley.

'Preview Of Autumn' Northgate Theme

The third of the Marin Art and Garden Centers Northgate Group summer luncheon and fashion show is being sponsored by the Social Service and Junior Social Service Auxiliaries. The date is Aug. 5 at 12:30 o'clock.

Chairman for the Social Service is Mrs. John G. Buresh. The model chairman is Mrs. Hugh Allen. For her models she has chosen Mesdames Howard P. Haswell, Edward Grady, John B. DeMaria, Alfred J. Oyster Jr., John O'Connell, and Frank Duhme. The waitress chairman is Mrs. James Ringrose Jr. Serving will be the Mesdames John Emos, Lawrence Murray, William Upton, John Clancy, Oliver Olson, Alexander Eagle, Robert Poeschl, Roy Pasqualetti and John Borzini. Her decorating chairman is Mrs. Carl S. Brown, who has on her committee Mesdames Victor Earll, Edward Roddy and Roy Pasqualetti.

Chairman for the Junior Social Service is Mrs. Henry Hillebrand III and in her group of volunteers are: Mrs. Eugene Aureguy, model chairman. Modeling for the Juniors will be Mesdames William Parnow, William Donohoe, James Bowler, Luciano Sabella, J. Paul Limont, and Gottfried Rolly. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Ben Parker and helping her is Mrs. Charles Spongberg and Mrs. Aloysius Nathe.

"Preview of Autumn" will be the theme of the newest in autumn fashions to be shown. The commentators will be Marion Bellamy and Arthur Edwards.

A novel feature of the luncheon is that baby-sitting will be provided during the fashion show by the Pixie Parent group from 12 to 3 p.m. A small charge will be made. Mothers interested in this service are asked to notify the Center at the same time they make their luncheon reservations.

Mrs. Fred Buscher has assumed the chairmanship of waitresses for this Junior Social Service Auxiliary's summer luncheon and fashion show. The Juniors who will help serve are Mesdames Rome Brusati, Gima John Sessi, Richard Marowitz, Donald Dalpino, Robert Golcher, William Slocum, Bowman Pollock, Mario Brenta, Emil Bettini, Louis Castellani, Rolfe Crocker and Thomas Stahlbaum.

Mrs. Lanus Feted By Shop Board

Honored guest at a party given by the Governing Board of the Village Salvage Shop on Tuesday was Mrs. Carl Lanus, shop manager, who is moving shortly to Sonoma County.

At the luncheon, which was held at the Lagoon home of Mrs. John Ericson, chairman of the board, Mrs. Lanus was presented with a chafing dish to be used in her new home.

Mrs. Lanus has been manager of the shop for several years. No successor has been named.

Invited to attend were members of the management committee which has worked with Mrs. Lanus weekly in sorting and pricing the merchandise which is contributed to the shop. They are Mesdames Charles Kircher, Wesley Costello, Joe Johnson and Victor Avilla. Past members of the board included were Mesdames Robert Bastian, H. F. Green, George McKegney and James Wilson who was at one time chairman of the governing board.

John Finns III Party Hosts To Accountants

Mr. and Mrs. John Finn III of Mill Valley entertained recently at a cocktail party for 40 officers and members of the North Bay Chapter of the Society of California accountants. Finn was installed president of the chapter last week.

Present were Irving Rosen, immediate past president of the Society, and Mrs. Rosen of San Francisco; Gordon Graham, district governor of the state society, and Mrs. Graham of Oakland, and George Menzel of Daly City, district director.

Among those attending from Marin County were Messrs. and Mesdames Roland Hellman and Peter J. Wikel, all of San Rafael.

Afterward the group went to a restaurant for dinner.

Mrs. Finn was also hostess recently at an informal gathering for luncheon, swimming and bridge of a few members of the Rector's Guild of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour. Most of the members are out of town on vacation.

Sunny Note

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Take the sun gradually to avoid drying-out precious oils in both your skin and hair," suggests Ellen Noreen Baum, beauty expert.

"A little prevention goes a long way," she said, "so be sure to take along a bottle of sun lotion and a scarf for your hair on every beach outing."

Solos Form Program Of Junior Music Club

DETROIT (UPI) — Install a combination washer-dryer on the second floor of your home, rather than in the basement. With the laundry center close to bedrooms, where soiled linen originates, you'll cut needless stair-climbing.

Also, with a modern combination unit, you can do the laundry in small batches at convenient times and possibly bypass the all-day washing chore, said Carl Sundberg, partner in a Detroit industrial design firm specializing in appliances.

Authority Says Junior's Strokes On Wallpaper Mark Of Talent

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Junior's strokes across the wallpaper are the strokes of creative talent. So encourage the child's creativity—don't "cripple" it—even as you mop up signs of small artist at work.

"The best art materials are the messiest," said Dr. Howard Conant, re-affirming what every mother knows.

Conant, a native of Wisconsin and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is an abstractionist who works in oils, has two children following in father's artistic footsteps, is chairman of art education at New York University, and director of the newly-organized Children's Creative Art Foundation.

Lest he be misunderstood, Conant does not advocate the use of walls as easels. Rather, he believes the walls and floors will escape if a child is given a place of his own for painting, with the materials always at hand—in his room, the den, the basement playroom. Even turn him loose in a warmed bathtub.

"The bathtub is practical," said Conant, "Because you can wash the child and the spilled colors at the same time.

"But we've never had any trouble with our children and walls, because they have a place of their own to paint. They work right alongside me in the basement studio."

Because he believes that expression of childish imagination should not be "crippled," he opposed parents purchasing "stereotyped" art materials — these, he said, include those painting-by-numbers sets, the coloring books, the drawing books which encourage a child to trace the work of others.

Conant argues that these leave no room for a child's own ability—"Children possess art ability as a birthright, and with the proper guidance it can be developed," he said.

He believes parents should encourage creativity as soon as a child can and wants to hold a brush or squeeze modeling clay—nine months to a year. And even tots can be trusted with paints—"if mother will be patient enough to clean up later."

Conant advises children be given tempera or poster paints, a brush, and large (12 by 18 or 18 by 24 inch) inexpensive sheets of manila paper as a starter. The parents might include moist modeling clay and crayon, although he said crayons call for more muscular coordination than most tots have.

"Good play often is messy play," said Conant. "But it is a case of what the parent and teacher want—the most for the child or the least for the child.

"Everything in life tends to shape up to conformity. I would rather my children developed into individuals with problems than into well-adujusted little robots.

"Recently I've been re-reading American history . . . I believe what our forefathers were saying was that the individual personality is important . . . this was the Yankee spirit."

Conant says that the child whose "birthright" is not encouraged just "gives up" by the time he is eight, nine or 10. But often, the creative urge is revived in later life — that is why, he said, "the museums are crowded . . . why adult education courses in art are full; an estimated 10 million are enrolled in art study.

"That is why also we have the painting hobbyists — President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill and Grandma Moses

CUTTING THE CAKE at their reception at the San Rafael Improvement Club which followed their recent marriage in the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo are Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cain. The bride is the former Eleanore Anna Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc A. Truitt of Fairfax.

IN SAN ANSELMO

Eleanore Roberts Weds Edward Cain

White tapers and white gladioli were at the altar of the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo for the recent wedding of Eleanore Anna Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc A. Truitt of Fairfax and Edward M. Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cain of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned with scalloped neckline, basque bodice and long sleeves. Diamond shaped inserts of nylon tulle circled the skirt with Chantilly lace accents. Her veil of French illusion was held by a coronet of lace, sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia.

Carol M. Parisi of Fairfax, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina gown of pink chiffon styled with a shirred bodice, and chiffon train for back detail. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore pink satin shoes. Her headdress was a bandeau of pink net and flowers with fingertip veil.

Bridesmaids were Frances Brett of Fairfax; Paula Hetzner of San Anselmo, Jackie Coffeey and Karen Dunning, both of San Anselmo. Two were gowned in yellow chiffon and two wore blue. They had matching satin shoes, headdresses and carnation bouquets.

Little Marilyn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller of Fairfax, as flower girl, wore an orchid nylon dress and had white flowers in her hair.

Keith Thompson of San Anselmo was best man and ushers were John Roberts, the bride's brother, of Fairfax; Byron Beckstron and Marc Mertrude, both of San Rafael, and Art Olen of Fairfax.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Truitt wore a beige dress with Chantilly lace, beige and brown hat and pink accessories. She had an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is the sister of John Roberts of Fairfax and Mrs. J. L. Keen of Oceanside, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sanders of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Alan Dodd of Anaconda, Montana are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. He is employed with Pacific Telephone in San Rafael.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Morgenstern of Allentown, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunter of Nashville, Tenn.

NO PETTICOATS

Airline Adopts Bermudas As New Official Uniform

By GAY PAULEY

The first airline stewardess to don the Bermudas as an official uniform dropped by our office today to announce that shorts are more comfortable than suits aloft and she hasn't been pinched yet by an ardent male.

The stewardess is Carolyn Cameron, a native of Douglaston, New Brunswick, Canada, and cute enough to stop traffic anywhere. She has been a stewardess for Eagle Airways for 10 months; a wearer of the new shorts uniform for two weeks.

"The first flight (from Bermuda to Nassau) was the hardest," said the freckle-faced, 110-pound stewardess. "One look at my knees and I thought, 'Oh, I need more suntan.'"

Not all of Eagle's stewardesses have converted, or been converted, although the airline hopes for eventual conformity.

When the airways first announced the proposed change, a howl of protest went up from stewardesses and crew alike. But the airlines president, Harold L. Graham Jr., insisted that the Bermudas were typical of apparel in the sub-tropical isle and, since Bermuda was the company base, the shorts were altogether fitting.

Pilots and other crewmen's protests have won to date — they still are flying the New York - Baltimore - Washington - Bermuda-Nassau runs in standard blues with long pants.

Carolyn said the stewardesses at first said absolutely not —they didn't feel nature intended them showing their gams to the traveling public. They also complained that they have enough trouble juggling trays, feeding babies, mixing martinis and adjusting seat belts without having the possible extra chore of fending off overly friendly male passengers.

And, some just thought shorts were not dignified apparel.

Friendly persuasion so far has gotten most of the girls into the new uniform; but one stoutly holds out on grounds she just isn't built for shorts.

A company spokesman said any holdouts probably will be transferred to "behind-the-counter" jobs, although this decision is not definite.

MV Teens Dance Set For Tonight

The bi-monthly gathering of the Mill Valley teen-agers Assn. will be held this evening at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley frm 8 to 11 p.m.

This will be an evening of games and dancing. The ping pong tables donated by Mrs. John Clyde will be assembled at the clubhouse with several tables of games set up for those who wish to play.

Two other dates for the Mill Valley teen recreational evenings are Aug. 14 and 28. An entrance fee will be charged with guests signing the register.

Chaperones for the evening will be Messrs. and Mesdames Hal Schwartz, Kenneth Bauder and George Wickham. Dr. and Mrs. Porter Danford, regular chaperons for the dances, are at Lake Tahoe.

MR. AND MRS. PIERCE Grigaut and daughter, Carol, of Mill Valley boarded a Pan American Clipper at San Francisco Airport on Monday for a flight over the pole to London. From there they will continue on to Paris to spend five weeks vacationing with relatives. (Pan American photo)

Auberry Visitor Is Honor Guest At Society Meet

Honor guest at the July meeting of the Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera was young Sadie Hudson whose home is on the Indian Reservation at Auberry, Calif.

The program featured a visual presentation of the work of the American Baptist Convention at the Kodiak, Alaska, Children's Homes and the Murrow Home for Indian Children at Bacone, Okla.

Sadie's visit to Northern California was arranged through the H.O.P. (Homes Open Please) program in the department of Christian Social Relations of the Northern California Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Union.

Under this program, Indian boys and girls from 7 to 11 years of age living on reservations at Covelo, Calif., and Auberry, are entertained in Christian homes for two weeks each summer. During Sadie's visit to Corte Madera, she was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Chisholm and their two daughters, Shelley and Daphne.

At the conclusion of the program, Sadie was presented with a Bible from the Mission Society.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Gerald Moyer, vice president of membership and program. Refreshments were served by members of the Marion Beebe Circle.

Writer Lists Several Ways For Girl To Meet Boys

By VIVIAN BROWN

It seems pitiful that some girls just can't meet boys. One 18-year-old girl laments this condition, and says she just can't seem to get dates because she has none of the usual opportunities for introductions close at hand. She has no brothers and no friends living near her home.

What do you do about, she asks, because summer is a particularly lonely time.

Some of the ways to meet a man include:

1. If you are summer school bound, let's hope it is coed and that you choose a boy-type course, not pie making or sewing. There are a lot of home ec students in the bachelor girl bracket for that reason.

2. If you are going to a vacation resort, make sure it majors in golf, tennis and other man-size attractions. Get dad to take you to a fishing camp. (He'll be glad to get away from it all.)

3. Choose a hobby that attracts boys, and spend honest time at it.

Show Will Spotlight Officers' Wives Club

Elegant Country Fashions will combine with elegant costumes for the Aug. 4 "Fashion Focus" luncheon at Rickey's Rancho when the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club will be spotlighted. Adding to the occasion will be a preview of the costumes from the 1960 Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies Show.

A fashion shop of Marin will preview fall fashions with casual quality attractive for Marin County wear, such as Davidow suits.

The Ice Follies costumes, designed by Renee of Hollywood will be shown by eight members of the Ice Follies cast. They will parade the exquisite costumes which have been made individually for each member of the show—by hand—including the hundreds of sequins sewn on by hand to guard against the possibility of one falling off and causing a mishap on the ice.

The Ice Follies members come from all parts of the United States and Canada, England, Switzerland, Scotland and Australia.

Because the show's owners Johnson and the Shipstad Brothers are camera enthusiasts the Ice Follies is one show which encourages photographers.

The Officers' Wives who will model are Mrs. Hugh A. Parker, wife of Maj. Gen. Parker, commander of Western Air Defense Force and Mesdames Robert Margison, Thomas A. Fisher, Richard Tompkins, James Winberry, Benjamin B. Cassidy, Benjamin R. Battle and Joe Lyle Jr., who is the newly elected president of the OWC. Mrs. Cassidy is the wife of the new deputy commander of Hamilton AF Base, Col. Cassidy.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 with the fashion show beginning at 1 p.m. Reservations should be made early at Rickey's for this open-to-the-public event.

"HOW CAN YOU skate with it?" asks Mrs. James Winberry of Hamilton Air Force Base of Carol Rawski and Marily Cooper of the Ice Follies. The headdress and the skater's costumes are examples of the $250,000 spent each year to completely restyle —costumes and property—the Ice Follies each year. The HAFB Officers' Wives Club is being spotlighted at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Aug. 4, as one in a series of Fashion Focus luncheons. Also elegant country fall fashions from a Marin County shop will be modeled by Officers' Wives.

UP, UP, IN a jump goes Joni Taylor, 21, from Ardmore, Pa., for Mrs. Richard Tompkins. Mrs. Tompkins is one of eight Hamilton Officers' Wives who will model on Tuesday. The Ice Follies costumes designed by Renee of Hollywood will be shown by eight members of the cast. The luncheon will get underway at 12:30 o'clock with the fashion show at 1 p.m. (U.S. Air Force photos)

Machine-Made Glass Revives Old Patterns

Time was when handcut crystal was cut by hand, but in this new age of automation even machine-cut classware can look hand-cut. One of the oldest arts in the world, glass blowing has been with us since about 20 B.C., and hasn't changed much, right down to the hollow iron tube used for blowing by the Phoenicians.

But more glass is to be machine-blown, now that the machine invented by Michael Owens, an Irish immigrant, has been updated. In 50 years it has gone through a number of refinements until newer grinding techniques and more recent changes in glass formula have given a hand-made look to glass.

Bridge Series Will Begin On Aug. 28

Mrs. Josephine Hovis, former all-western women's pairs champion will teach a series of bridge lessons starting Aug. 28 and continuing every Friday until Nov. 13. The lessons will be from 1 to 3 p.m. and are for beginning, intermediate and advanced players.

Mrs. Hovis teaches at Barton Stonestown Bridge Salon and at the San Francisco Yacht Club. A small fee will be charged members with a slightly higher one to non-members.

Currently playing bridge at the Center on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month from 7:30 to 11 p.m. is a group hostessed by Dr. Albertine Nash. These sessions are free to members with non-members paying a small fee. Anyone is welcome.

Party Welcomes New Resident To Lyford Cove

A cheery fire in the new fireplace and cocktails served to new and old neighbors recently served to welcome Mrs. F. J. Bertrand to the new home she has built in Tiburon's Lyford Cove area.

Mrs. Bertrand, who with her four children Tina, Tom, John and Richard, has been living on Old Landing Road has recently completed the house which is next door to her mother, Mrs. Jonas Von Rosen. Arrangements for the housewarming party were made by Mrs. Robert Bastian and Mrs. James Reynolds with whom Mrs. Bertrand has been associated in the Belvedere Nursery School. Mrs. Van Rosen arranged for the food.

Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Schubart, Jr., George Goddard, Luther Conover, George McKegney, Warren Finke, Fred Hawes, Ed Ryall, Gordon Pritchett, Bruce Keppel, Kirby Atterbury, James Knox, William H. von Lackum Jr., Phil Reedstrom, Davis Teather, Ed Nelson, Berger Stockfleth, Frank Kelly, Mrs. Eleanor Pritchett.

From San Rafael came the Thomas Langdons, Merrill DeWitts and Harry Lowes and from Sausalito the Adolf Kiefers and John Brebners. Mrs. James Crowe, a former teacher in the nursery school who is visiting her mother in Mill Valley also attended.

First Aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Checked your medicine chest lately? If you're missing any of six basic items, you're not adequately prepared to treat the 14 minor injuries statistics show are most prevalent in the average home.

Color Styling Is Essential In Bathroom

Absolutely the most forgotten room in the house when it comes to achieving a semblance of color styling is the bathroom.

Scour the tub, mop the floor, change the towels—this too often has been the only attention most of us give to it.

There is, however, one simple way to maintain attractiveness in the bath, as well as neatness. That is to see that the facial tissues, paper towels, and other paper products blend with, or contrast decoratively, with your conventional towels.

This is no problem today, fortunately, thanks to the attractive color selections which have been introduced in today's paper accessories. For example, bathroom tissues are now obtainable in the most popular pastel tones such as pink, yellow, and aqua, along with white, as are Kleenex tissues. It's an easy matter to select your toilet and facial tissues to blend with the other bathroom accessories.

New Residents Are Honored At Coffee Party

New residents of Little Reed Heights were greeted at a coffee party recently co-hosted by Mesdames Dick De Berry and H. F. Green at the latter's home. Among the honored guests was Mrs. Reuel Whigam who, with her husband, has recently built a new home on Virginia drive. The Whigams previously lived in San Rafael. He is office manager for Tamalpais Motors.

Also honored was Mrs. Bruce Manheim, wife of Dr. Manheim, pediatric surgeon. The Manheims, who have recently moved from Scarsdale, N.Y., have built on Stewart drive. They have three children and are active members of the Belvedere Tennis Club.

Other honoree was Mrs. Carlisle Bennett. Mr. Bennett is choir director at the new Golden Gate Baptist Seminary on Strawberry Point. The couple recently purchased the Virginia drive home of the David Warnows. The Warnows are currently traveling and plan to settle in Southern California.

Fried Apple Slices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fried apple slices is an old-fashioned dish, but it's just as tasty as it ever was. Cut unpared, cored apples into thick slices. Saute slowly in melted butter until tender.

When almost tender, sprinkle with brown sugar for a caramelized effect. Try it with bacon or sausage for Sunday morning breakfast.

Sculptured Spiral Line Runs To Tunics And Wasp Waists

By NADINE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—A sculptured spiral line running heavily to tunics and wasp waists was the curtain raiser at the house of Gres for the annual showings of French fall and winter fashions.

Skirts were at the top of the calf. Colors initiated the sculptor's materials, from wood browns and grays to bronze green.

Reversible coats were of heavy rustic tweed or mohair. Day dresses were almost waspwaisted and with cinched belts two to four inches wide.

Gres' forte has always been drapery, and she uses it this time to wrap the figure in sculptured folds.

Leather and wool are used together to make suit jackets and blouses. Jackets hit midhip and are usually tightly belted. They are sometimes lined with shaggy mohair and teamed with heavy mohair blouses.

Coats are barrels — the designer calls them magnet shaped—with big pilgrim collars. Belted tunic coats leave just about two inches of contrasting dress showing at the hem. Cuff and necklines are lined with dress material.

Classic jersey dresses have soft gathers on the skirts and gathered-in sleeves, and the audience still likes them.

Lots of coats have three fourths bat-wing sleeves to give them cape-like lines they are worn over skirt and blouse or dress to match their lining. Some have scarf-tied collars.

For after dark, necklines are called "handle or arrow" shaped and, as the designer says, "do not fear any boldness."

Thoughtful

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wise brides and bridegrooms, according to hotel executive, Robert Howard, won't: Hold a reception between the hours of 4 and 7 because the dress problem is too complicated; serve hors d'oeuvres that are messy on the fingers; or permit the cocktail hour to run longer than an hour.

Conceal It

Marin Girl To Spend Six Months In Italy

Six months of living with an Italian family and studying at an Italian school lie ahead for 16-year-old Kay Goff of Terra Linda, who will sail Aug. 26 from Montreal, Canada.

Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Goff, will go to Italy under the exchange student program of the American Field Service.

She will live with the Pietro Slanzi family in the north Italian town of Reggio-Emilia. The family includes two girls, aged 17 and 19, and two boys, 15 and 18. Their father is manager of an industrial plant.

Kay will attend the Liceo Sientifico, a coeducational school of 300 students that specializes in science and mathematics. Her studies will include Italian, English, Latin, chemistry, history, physics, mathematics and geography.

The school, to which girls usually wear a black uniform, does not offer extracurricular activities.

When Kay returns she will finish her senior year at San Rafael High School, where she is active in the school orchestra, California Scholarship Federation and Ra Ravas girls' service club. She also belongs to a YWCA group and the Marin County Youth Orchestra.

Her father is assistant superintendent of the Dixie School District.

Another San Rafael High School student, Jill Sigler, is spending the summer with a Turkish family in Istanbul under another American Field Service exchange program.

Dominican College Library Final Plans Are Drawn

Preliminary plans for a new college library at Dominican College have been approved and final plans are expected to be completed in about a month, a college spokesman said today.

The plans, being drawn up by Tiburon architect Henry Schubart Jr., call for the construction of a new building to be ready shortly after Jan. 1, 1960.

At the same time the college announced the present library in Guzman Hall will be converted into a lecture hall and language laboratories, although the room interiors will not be changed.

Plans to convert a school building into a residence for the sisters have not been completed.

At Centennial Fete

Three members of Equitable Life Assurance Society's San Rafael office have been attending the company's centennial celebration in New York City this week, announced J. Edmund Williams, district manager. The three are Buel M. Snyder of Marinwood, Allan B. Murray of Kentfield and Norman A. Orford of Fairfax.

Teachers Prove Apt Pupils In Business

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty-eight high school teachers working at beginners' jobs in stores, banks and businesses have brought some surprises to San Francisco Bay Area businessmen.

The 18 men and 10 women business teachers were from northern California high schools. They were hired at standard pay in downtown jobs as part of a six-week summer course in work experience education at San Francisco State College.

The college reports the employers were doubtful about the plan at first but now heartily approve.

"Excellent," "completely productive," "a great success," "no waste of either time or money" were some of the comments.

"The idea makes sense," said one banker. "It's a fine way to get needed closer relations between business and education."

Some said the teachers were apt learners, asked no favors and did what came to hand.

Others said the academic recruits had valuable general knowledge and skills, which made them especially good vacation help. They wanted the widest range of work possible and could be rotated flexibly among departments.

They listened attentively when employers outlined the kinds of jobs open to beginners, opportunities for later advancement and preparation they wished high schools could provide.

"It's hard for a business man to go around to schools trying to explain just what he needs in the way of graduates," said S. E. Hansen, employment supervisor of Crocker-Anglo Bank

"This plan was our chance to do a little teaching to the teachers."

Many of the teachers were asked to stay on for the rest of the vacation period. Some are doing this. A few reported to permanent jobs offered them.

It was strenuous for the teachers. In order to earn six college credits — and cash — they worked a full 40-hour week, went to college for two and one-half hours two evenings a week and wrote a weekly paper about adapting their experience to later teaching.

"I'm worn out," sighed Richard McCool, 44, of Merced. "But I wouldn't have missed it for anything. After 11 years of steady teaching it has been wonderful to come back and see all these new processes in action."

McCool worked at First Western Bank.

Experts Disagree On How Often Oil In Car Should Be Changed

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP)—You can get a lot of expert advice on how often to change the oil in your car.

In fact, the more experts you talk to, the more advice you'll get. And it probably will add up to this: Within reason, use your own judgment.

There is the school that says flatly the oil in the engine of an automobile should be changed every 1,000 miles. The owner's handbook for most 1959 model Chrysler Corp. cars says every 5,000 miles, or three months under normal conditions.

Most service stations stick with the 1,000-mile recommendation unless they sell one of the brands of oil that specifically claims 2,000 miles.

The argument is almost as old as the auto industry. One reason the disagreement is heard more frequently now is that the car-makers gradually are lengthening their recommended period between changes. This has hurt the sale of motor oil.

The trade paper Automotive News, in a full-scale survey of the situation, found that service departments of new car dealers usually urged an oil change every 2,000 or 2,500 miles despite factory recommendations.

The oil you use rarely wears out regardless of the mileage. But this isn't true of the things put in it—the additives—to reduce wear and acidity, prevent corrosion, oxidation or sludge.

Almost every motor oil on the market has from four to eight of these additives and they break down with use.

The way a car is used has much to do with how long the oil lasts. Cold weather, dusty roads, start and stop driving all shorten the life of the oil, because it is under these conditions that the oil becomes contaminated with water, dirt and various oxides that harm an engine.

Both the auto industry and the oil industry are tending to accept the use of time, rather than miles, in suggesting oil changes.

The American Petroleum Institute wants to make it 30 days in winter, 60 days in summer but in no case more than 2,000 miles. Auto manufacturers still favor longer periods.

Although Honduras ranks fourteenth in size among the 20 Latin American nations, its area of 43,277 square miles is greater than that of the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Denmark combined.

Your Boy Should Have Check-Up Before He Starts Football Play

Does your boy play football? The season starts in a few weeks. Here are three important questions. Can you answer them?

Does your son have any physical defects? Can his body stand the beating it'll get? Football is a very strenuous sport. Boys who have physical defects should not take part. I suggest you have your family physician give your boy a careful going over. Don't rely on the team doctor. He may examine your son very carefully or he may not. The team doctors mean well, but often they're badly rushed. Don't let your boy play unless your doctor okays it.

Will your son be protected from injury? The football accident rate is too high. Between 15 and 30 players will be killed next fall. Thousands will suffer broken bones, wrenched joints, bruised kidneys. Every player at your school should have a complete set of safety equipment. The equipment should be in good repair. Even the scrubs should be given proper football gear. Every boy should be required to wear his equipment in every scrimmage, and during every minute of play. Helmets are especially important. Head and neck injuries cause most of the football deaths. The coach should make the boys work out rigorously. They need to be in tiptop condition. Talk with your coach about these things—or with your principal. Let them know you're interested in your son's welfare.

Does your school have football player insurance? Many schools do. Many don't. If your boy should be sent to the hospital, would the insurance pay the bill? Or would have to? Hospitals are awfully expensive. You could find yourself bankrupt.

READERS FORUM

(Q) "Can parents buy their own insurance for their sons who are active in high school sports?"

N. D. B.

(A) I'm told there are companies which write such policies. Ask your insurance agent about it. If he doesn't know, check with your high school principal.

HOW YOU WILL BOARD NEW JETLINERS

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Solons Eye TV Quizzes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to do some quizzing of its own to see if television quiz programs have been rigged.

Both House and Senate investigators say they're curious about findings of a recent New York grand jury investigation into whether contestants on some of the shows were coached in advance.

The grand jury findings have not been made public.

Japan Plans Satellite

The Japanese Astronautic Development Committee said the satellite launching will be part of a five-year program including firing of rockets for studies of typhoons, space health and space communications.

Mountaineers Lost

KARACHI (AP)—Five members of a British mountaineering team are feared swept away by a blizzard in the Karakoram ranges of the Himalayas. The British team, set out to climb 25,540-foot Batura Mustagh Peak.

Raft In Trouble

PARIS (AP)—Two adventurers aboard the raft Cantuta II were reported adrift today in Polynesian waters—minus two companions who got stranded when they went ashore for water supplies. A French naval ship and a schooner were reported searching Polynesian waters for the craft that set out from Peru three months ago for Tahiti.

Matador Gored

MADRID (AP)—Matador Luis Miguel Dominguin, gored in the Valencia Arena yesterday, is reported out of danger. His dctor said the gash is more painful than dangerous.

News Umpire Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) has called for appointment of a "referee or umpire" to whom persons in the news could complain about what they consider unjust treatment in newspapers.

Davis made the proposal during a House debate yesterday in which several congressmen criticized the press for not reporting on their speeches. They claimed correspondents were deliberately ignoring the floor remarks of House members opposed to free trade policies.

Employment Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department has removed 14 more major industrial centers from its list of areas with unemployment of 6 per cent or more.

Employment gains were reported last night in nearly all of 149 key centers surveyed by the department. Continued improvement in the job picture was forecast by businessmen.

Levit Leaves Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Finance Director Bert W. Levit, a key figure in the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, bowed out today after citing the need for single management of the state colleges and the University of California.

Levit will turn over the highest-paid appointive state post tomorrow to outgoing Employment Director John E. Carr and will return, without vacation, to his San Francisco law practice.

Levit said that a problem "of overwhelming significance is the need to end competion between the university and the colleges.

Brucellosis Rule

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Department of Agriculture has adopted a regulation requiring all dairy cows and heifers over four months of age that are imported to California to be vaccinated for brucellosis.

The rule will not go into effect until Jan. 2, 1961, in order to give out-of-state breeders time to build up a supply of calfhood vaccinated cows.

From Church To 'Cycle

Storm Flays Mojave

LANCASTER, (AP)—A wind, rain and thunder storm struck the Mojave Desert last night with such fierceness that it toppled 51 telephone poles in a row. Lightning which accompanied the storm touched off four brush fires.

Hallowed Parking Site

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Parking Authority has seized about one-third of Boston Common by eminent domain and will break ground Aug. 15 for a 2,000-car garage. The move changed title to the history-hallowed ground for the first time since December 1634, when it was purchased by the town fathers for 30 pounds.

A Rockefeller To Wed?

OSLO (UPI)—An Oslo newspaper said today that a Norwegian girl has been asked to be a witness at the wedding of Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he met while she was a maid in the Rockefeller home.

But there still has been no confirmation of reports that the 23-year-old son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Anne-Marie Rasmussen are planning to be married.

Probe Into Viet Nam Aid Program Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he may propose an on-the-spot inquiry to get all the facts in a controversy over the foreign aid program in Viet Nam.

Mansfield is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which recalled American aid officials for further questioning today about administration of the program.

He asked officials to return with a full answer to charges of irregularities in the award of a steel contract in that Southeast Asian republic.

The charges were made by Scripps-Howard writer Albert M. Colegrove, whose series of articles written from Saigon touched off the hearings.

Mansfield said he may suggest to the full Foreign Relations Committee that it send an investigator of its own to Saigon, or ask its foreign policy group to contract for a special nongovernmental study.

Colegrove told the committee yesterday that Frank Gonder, an American business man representing Bethlehem Steel, claimed he lost out in the bidding for a steel bridge contract with Viet Nam although his bid per ton was below that of the winner. The award went to the Eurasia Corp., a firm with Belgian supply sources, Colegrove said.

"Gonder is prepared to testify under oath that a confidential informant told him two weeks before the sealed bids were opened who would get the contract," Colegrove testified.

Live Turtles For Tots At New Station

Upton took over management of the station this week from Carlo Drago. Small live turtles will be given away to children of customers during tomorrow's celebration.

The station's rustic design so pleased the Corte Madera Planning Commission that it sent a letter of commendation to the Shell Oil Co.

Upton, who will operate the station as Del's Shell Service, said it will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 7 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday.

A veteran of four years in the Air Force, Upton was assistant manager of his father's garage in the Midwest before coming to California. More recently, he was a student at San Francisco State College and City College of San Francisco. He is married and has a 10-month-old son.

Lagunitas School Board Schedules Budget Hearing

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District will hold a public hearing on the district's $147,865 budget for 1959-60 at 8 p.m. Thursday at Lagunitas School.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye explained that a $19,850 item labeled "transfers" is composed of $500 spent for children in the district who attend special county schools such as Marindale School for deaf and orthopedically handicapped children and $19,350 which the school district received as payment for a seven-acre property in Woodacre. The $19,350 will be reserved for expansion of Lagunitas School, the superintendent said.

Part of the district's 1959-60 spending program will be financed by a general fund tax rate of $2 per $100 assessed valuation. Override taxes cannot be calculated until it is known what the district's total assessed valuation is, Frye said.

All In Readiness For Belvedere's Big Beer Bust

All is in readiness for Belvedere's traditional annual beer bust this evening at the firehouse under sponsorship of the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Assn., according to Stanley V. Dick, association president.

The event will get under way at 8 p.m., Dick said. It will also provide an opportunity to inspect the city's fire fighting equipment.

Host will be Chief Lawrence T. (Bunk) Mersereau, who pointed out that the group will observe the traditional "bring your own mug" procedure.

SCHOOL WAS NEVER SO DISTRACTING

A story is interesting, but 6-year-old Merrily Milmoe has discovered something even more fascinating, a deer to feed at Junior Museum of Marin in San Rafael. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Milmoe, still holds the attention of the other youngsters. From the left, they are Sandra Egger, Timmy Messinger, Debbie and Betty Leininger, Marsanne Milmoe and Cynthia Egger. (Independent-Journal photo)

Schools Slate Budget Hearings Next Week

Governing officials of school districts throughout Marin County next week will hold public hearings prior to the adoption of final 1959-60 budgets. The hearings are required by state law.

In all, 23 district budgets will be considered out of a total of 29 districts. Six one-teacher districts are not required to hold public hearings.

MONDAY

Kentfield, 7:45 p.m., Kent School, $578,118; Larkspur, 7:30 p.m., Larkspur-Corte Madera School, $661,237 Mill Valley, 8 p.m., 26 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, $1,159,995; San Jose, 8 p.m., Lynwood School, $764,397; Sausalito, 8 p.m., district office, $599,140; Tamalpais Union High School, 8 p.m., district office, Larkspur, $3,350,690, West Marin Union, 8 p.m., West Marin School, $97,485.

TUESDAY

Bolinas, 8 p.m., Bolinas School, $39,274; Fairfax, 7:45 p.m., Manor School, $357,416; Novato Unified, 8 p.m., 1015 Seventh street, Novato, $1,578,406; Reed Union, 8 p.m., Reed district office, $548,762; San Rafael Elementary ($1,745,900), and San Rafael High School ($1,570,625), 7:30 p.m., administrative offices; Stinson Beach, 7:30 p.m., schoolhouse, $24,550.

WEDNESDAY

Dixie, 8 p.m., district office, $39,274; Ross, 8 p.m., school, $225,437; San Anselmo, 8 p.m., Isabel Cook School, $789,721; San Quentin, 8 p.m., school, $20,533; Tomales Joint Union High, 8 p.m., school, $151,771; Tomales Union, 8 p.m., Union Elementary School, $35,267.

THURSDAY

Lagunitas, 8 p.m., Lagunitas District School, $147,865; Marin Junior College, 8 p.m., College of Marin, $1,171,829; Nicasio, 8 p.m., school, $19,484.

Budgets of school districts not holding hearings are: Lincoln, $9,200; Burdell, $11,475; Pt. Reyes, $11,922, and Union Joint, $9985.

All budgets are being checked by the county superintendent of schools office and will be returned to district governing boards for public hearings.

Then the budgets must be turned over to the county board of supervisors on or prior to Aug. 15, so the county can set the tax rates.

2 Sex Deviates Given Probation

Maurice Lucien Gaillard, 34, of Fairfax, and Don Edward Penfold, 31, San Francisco salesman, drew five years probation yesterday for sex perversion in San Rafael last March.

They were arrested in a restroom of a San Rafael hotel March 28.

Retired Civil Workers Picnic

A picnic at Samuel Taylor State Park will be held by Marin Chapter 400 of the National Assn. of Retired Civil Employees at 11 a.m. Aug. 12.

Mrs. Peter Bettega of San Anselmo is in charge of refreshments, and A. L. Upham of Fairfax is arranging transportation.

Many Events Set For Fete In Mill Valley

A downtown art exhibit and an auction sale of paintings, plus an assortment of other attractions, are planned for the annual Mill Valley Art Festival to be held Sept. 25-27.

Randall W. Greig, general chairman, said the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce again will sponsor the show, in cooperation with Mill Valley businessmen.

Included in the program are the downtown art exhibit and art auction; entertainment on all three days including folk dancing; puppet shows; free movies; children's games and contests; a parade to open the festival; downtown decorations; a queen contest; booths in the Lytton Square area, and a street dance.

Greig said committee members plan to go before the city council at its meeting next Wednesday for approval of the plans.

Deadline Aug. 21 For Vote Sign-Up

Residents of the San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts who are not registered have until Aug. 21 to register if they want to vote Oct. 20 when both school districts are asking for a tax rate boost to $2 per $100 assessed valuation.

San Anselmo School District currently has a tax rate limit of $1.45. Fairfax's school tax rate is $1.25.
